All's mud round this neck o' timber.
 C. P. Ewing was up from Cecil Sunday.
 J. R. Olden of Rhea creek spent Tuesday in Heppner.
 Go to the Bakery for your bread. 25 loaves for $1.00
 L. K. Harlan, the Tone pencil pusher was up from Ione Saturday.
 If you want to save money on your Fire insurance, see Smead. tf.
 A. L. Hudson a Hardman merchant was in Heppner the last of the week.
 Wanted—A woman to do general housework. Inquire at this office.
 The best Washing Machine costs no more at the Case Furniture Co.
 For Sale—A good wheat rack. Inquire of Wm. Hiatt, Heppner Ore. tf.
 Insure your auto. W. W. Smead can give you cheap rates in a good company.
 Claus Johnson, the Gooseberry farmer was a Heppner business visitor last Thursday.
 Special Sample Books of wall-paper and a large stock on hand at the Case Furniture Co.
 L. Swick, sheenman of the Hamilton section, was a visitor in Heppner the first of the week.
WANTED—By man and wife, work on a ranch. Write L. E. Taylor or E. F. Burchell, Lexington Ore.
 Banker J. T. Cronan and Citizen Willard Blake were up to Heppner Monday attending to business affairs.
 We do not need to debate the question of our Heaters, Ranges. A look will convince you. Case Furniture Co.
 Mrs. L. W. Hill of Hood River came up from the fruit city last Thursday to look after her interests here.
 George Noble is confined to his home by a return of his old sickness, and his condition is reported quite serious.
 License to wed was issued to Fred Kelly, farmer and Miss Jesse M. Maxwell, a school teacher of the Lena district, last week.
 Fred Lucas, Frank Gilliam and Jeff Jones are acting as jurors at the sitting of the U. S. Dist. Court at Pendleton this week.
 Anyone desiring to lease a good grain and stock farm for a period of three to five years to a good tenant, notify Smead & Crawford.
 E. E. Beaman this week disposed of his wood and coal business in Heppner to J. S. Baldwin who has taken full charge of the wood yard.
 Good Pasture—I have a lot of good pasture and straw stacks to go with it. Near town. Want stock to eat it. M. T. Hughes, Heppner.
 Attorney Sam E. VanVactor went out to Hardman Monday to attend to some legal matters. He was accompanied by Miss Josephine Cameron.
 Coos Bay is the coming seaport town of Oregon. It is a good place to make an investment right now. See Smead & Crawford for particulars.
 Dick Wells has purchased the interests of Ernest Clark in the Wells and Clark barber shop. Mr. Clark will go on his ranch two miles below town.
 Mrs. Phebe Wills Leazer, of Albany, has been in Heppner this week on a visit to relatives, and also to look after the disposition of her property here.
 Mrs. E. R. Huston of Eight Mile, was successfully operated on at Heppner Sanatorium Friday for the removal of gallstones. She is rapidly recovering at this writing.
 The city has a force of men and teams grading the north end of Court street, east of the Heppner Flouring Mills and the new school house. A much needed improvement.

 Rev. W. A. Orr presiding elder of the South Methodist church preached both morning and evening at the South church in this city last Sunday. Rev. Orr was formerly pastor of the church here.
 Last week Spencer Akers sold eleven of his young horses to Williams and Dooley for $1000. This was stock which Mr. Akers could well spare as he has several young horses coming on which he can put into the harness in the Spring and thereby have enough to harvest his crop with.
 Orest Minor, Wallace Smead, Loy Turner, Chas. Johnson and Neal Crawford in company with Willard Herren, went on a deer hunt last week. They returned home with two bucks. Mr. Minor got one and Mr. Smead the other. The five pointed buck which Mr. Smead killed, is said by those who saw it, to be one of the largest ever killed in this section. It took four men to put the animal on a horse to carry him into camp.

 Harry Cummings, a fruit inspector of Morrow county, is making Pendleton a visit today. He brought with him a sample of his "Cummines" Perfection" apple and it only needs a taste to convince anyone that the apple is well named. In flavor it surpasses all other varieties grown in this section of the country.—Pendleton E. O.
 If you want to save doctor bills, put fat on your ribs, muscles on your bones and gray matter in your head, use rye bread made from Heppner Milling Company's Rye Flour, which is made from the best of the Morrow County Rye. This is the sweetest and richest Rye Flour on the market. Try it and be convinced. tf.
 W. H. Dooley and Iver Williams of Seattle were buying horses here last week. They made up a carload and shipped them out on Sunday. The buyers left the same morning for Condon and Fossil where they will buy another carload. They expect to return to Heppner at a later date and continue their buying.
 Rev. T. A. Davis, Conference Evangelist of the M. E. Church, will deliver a lecture at the Federated church, Monday, November 10th, at 7:30 p. m. Subject "That Life that knows no defeat." Every body invited. No charge will be made but a collection will be taken to defray the expenses of the speaker.
 Smead & Crawford are handling the new town site of Coos Bay for Heppner and Morrow county. Now is a good time to make an investment in this coming seaport town of Oregon. You should get in on the ground floor. If interested, see plats and get terms from above representatives.
 R. F. Hynd was up from Portland this week arranging his business affairs here preparatory to leaving for a visit with his people in Scotland. He will leave Portland with his family next week and they expect to remain in the Old Country until next September.
 Mrs. Turner, head nurse at Heppner Sanatorium suffered a fractured shoulder recently, the result of being thrown from a horse she was riding. While the injury is quite severe Mrs. Turner still remains on duty at the hospital compelled to work with one hand only.
 The Sunday Oregonian for Nov. 2 contains a picture of the new Heppner High School and the 1914 graduating class together with a write-up. This new school building is proving a great advertisement for our city and is the best investment our citizens ever made.

"WELL, I have tried them all and must confess it was the most natural thing to settle upon these corsets, because I demanded SATISFACTION."

This is illustrative of the everyday comments we gather from patrons about the

If you knew as we know, the Style, the Quality, the Workmanship which are sewn in every seam, it would be unnecessary for us to even "hint" about the name "ROYAL WORCESTER."
For when buying it would be your foregone conclusion to say "ROYAL WORCESTER, please."

Minor & Co., Heppner

FROM CECIL.

M. V. Logan accompanied the ballet box to Heppner Wednesday.
 Bob Montague and family of Eight Mile spent Sunday with relatives here.
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nash of Ione spent a few days in Cecil the past week.

 Mr. Cronk, Mr. Bryson of Ione and two other gentlemen of whom we did not learn the names were Cecil visitors Tuesday evening.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Wilson of Rhea's siding were Cecil visitors Sunday, having spent the day with the latter's sister, Mrs. Jesse Doney.
 N. E. Lee and family left Tuesday morning for Echo where they will reside. They have been running the McBee place the past year having had it leased.
 Jess Doney and family left Wednesday for Lacroix, Washington, expecting to locate in that vicinity. Mr. J. W. Osborn having traded for their Cecil property.
 Joe Craig and wife left Wednesday for Rhea's Siding. Mr. Craig having been promoted to Section boss and will have charge of a repair crew which will rebuild the cattle guards on the branch line.
 James Montague and wife were over from Montague Monday. Jim says these rainy days are what the wheat needs, and the wheat is what the geese require. They are not as numerous as common here this fall.
 Mrs. Phebe Leazer of Albany spent Sunday with old time Cecil friends. Mrs. Leazer was formerly Miss Sperry, daughter of Elisha Sperry, one of Morrow county's well known pioneers and is also well known as Mrs. Robert Wills in this county.
 Election Day passed off quietly in Cecil. There being but 33 votes cast, three of whom were women voters. The Board comprised Alf. Troedson and Geo. Ely of Morgan and H. S. Ewing, M. V. Logan and Albert Nash who acted in his father's absence on account of sickness.
 Peter Bauernfiend returned last week from Ritter, where he says he spent three of the best months of his life. The past summer, at the famous McDuffy Hot Springs. Pete says there are but two places in the world for him and he spends all of his time at these two places. But we think there must be a woman over there, we are not going to tell about the one here or what we saw at church last Sunday.
