HEPPNER REPRESENTED AT CHICAGO SHOW

Maurice E. Smead Takes Oregon Exhibit to East- ern Land Show.

Maurice E. Smead left Portland last Saturday night for Chicago with a baggage car loaded with Oregon exhibits, according to the Portland Journal. Maurice is manager of exhibits of the Portland Commercial Club as well as secretary to C. C. Chapman, the secretary of the Club.

The exhibits will be placed in the Chicago Coliseum for display in the United States land show November 20 to December 8. Oregon's representative has secured the privilege of using the lecture hall twice a day during the show.

Morrow county will make a good showing along with the other Oregon counties. The best of the exhibits that were on display at the recent county fair in Heppner have been sent east. This county will have a comprehensive display of grasses, grains, fruits and vegetables at the eastern show and the officers in charge say it is the best ever.

LOCAL FOOT BALLISTS DEFEAT LEXINGTON

Using rough tactics in the opening of the first quarter, but later playing clean football, the much flouted champions from Lexington went down to a 6 to 0 defeat before the fierce onslaughts of the dashing Heppner backfield on the depot grounds last Sunday. The game was played in the old style, mass plays and straight line bucks, with no successful forward passing with its open playing.

The game was Heppner's from the first kick-off, for at no time during the game was the local's goal in any serious danger of being crossed by their opponents. The home team consisted of an all-star line-up, but the individual shinning lights were Walter Yeager, Hiatt, Maddock, Swagart and Ayers. Hiatt's plunging was the feature of the game.

Lexington cannot boast of any individual stars, but Dinges Rudd and Pointer stood out head and shoulders above their team mates. Since Lexington defeated Ione, Heppner is now entitled to the football championship of Morrow county.

O.A.C. CADET BAND WILL VISIT HEPPNER

Mr. Harry S. Walters, Drum Major and manager of the Oregon Agricultural College Cadet Band, visited Heppner Monday evening and made arrangements for the appearance of his band here on the evening of December 30.

It is with much pleasure that we announce the appearance of this band in Heppner, for when it is understood by our people that this is one of the finest amateur organizations in the West, carrying a complement of thirty-five pieces, the fact that they are willing to cover additional mileage to make Heppner a visit will be readily appreciated.

There is another side to the story, however, and it is only fair to the people of Heppner to compliment them at this time. In making their first annual tour in 1912, the O. A. C. Glee club visited Heppner. This was their last engagement on the road. Here they were accorded the heartiest welcome and the greatest success financially on the entire trip. The same may be said of the University club on some of its visits.

This fact has taken a firm hold on the college people and they never plan an Eastern Oregon tour without giving Heppner due consideration. And they can well afford to for this is the biggest show going town in Oregon for its size.

In the case of the band, several of Captain Beard's former "stars" were Heppner boys, and to that extent he feels a personal interest in paying the town a visit, but the stronger and really potent factor is the appreciative attitude of the people.

IRRIGON ITEMS.

Evangeline E. Doble.

Ed. Walker was down for a short visit last week.

Dr. Glazier of Salem was here this week inspecting stock.

The suffragettes were out at the Irrigon election in full force.

Ed Baucaum has returned from Riparia, where he had taken his team.

Wm. Castle was in town a few days ago. He is now employed in Portland.

L. A. Doble is baling hay again for shipment. This will make several carloads this season that he has shipped.

Fall butchering is on in full blast now. Mr. Susbauer, Mr. Kicker, and Mr. Rand are leading, each having killed several hogs calves—or will in the near future.

Everyone is rejoicing now in the fact that the Umatilla project is "a sure go." We have nursed false hopes so long that it is a great relief to know that all will be well in the future.

The first goose killed this season was brought down last Sunday by Emmet McCoy. All his fellow hunters are nearly as proud of it as he is, not including that little pang of something which might be defined as "I wish I could have got that goose."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Lester Susbauer has returned to school after an absence caused by sickness.

Miss Hill left Frank Doble in charge of her pupils Friday afternoon while she took a business trip to Pendleton.

The Irrigon Young People's Literary Society held a very successful meeting last Friday. We need more visitors; come out and see how well the members of this society can do. You are always welcome.

The school has another new typewriter now. The pupils are learning the art very fast. The Irrigon high school is rapidly becoming a practical and up-to-date institution. Only a little more co-operation and we will be alright.

Some of Irrigon's most enterprising horse racers went up to Hermiston Saturday to the stock show there. Warren Corey came out third in the pony race; if there had been fewer mud puddles in his direct line of running he would in all probability have won the race. Harry Lester came out third also in the large pony race.

$100 Reward.

I will pay $100 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties stealing my cattle. My cattle are branded M C on right side, and have right ear split. James Carty.

Christian Church.

Our Sunday School is growing every week. Come next Sunday. Song and communion service at 11. There will be no preaching service at this hour on account of the absence of the pastor, but there will be young people's meeting in the evening and preaching by Rev. N. O. Williams.

Are Thankful.

The Ladies Aid of the Federated church wish to extend their thanks to the musicians who so kindly furnished the music, to the auto owners for their valuable services, and all others who helped to make the trip around the world a success.

R. W. Schulties is the new barber at the Patterson & Elder shop. He expects his wife by the end of the week.

A. L. Schafer and wife of Portland are in the city. Mr. Schafer is connected with the American Adjusting Co., and will be here several days looking after the interests of his company.

MORROW COUNTY COURT MET LAST WEEK

Partial List of Claims That Were Paid at Regular Meeting.

The county court of Morrow county met three days of last week. Commissioners Young and Kilkenny and Judge Patterson were in attendance.

The court made a quit claim deed to Lot 6, Block 1, and all of Block 3, Fuller addition to the city of Lexington, to clear title. W. J. Blake's bond for road supervisor was read and approved.

W. J. Culick's resignation as road supervisor district No. 2 was accepted.

The German-American bank's claim for rebate in taxes was continued to December term.

The court appropriated $100 to the poultry association.

The court instructed the treasurer to set aside $4000 for road fund.

Swen Troedson's petition to vacate road was continued on account of no bond or affidavit of posting.

John W. Hiatt's petition for gateway was read and the court ordered the gateway established.

SENIOR-JUNIOR GIRLS DEFEAT SOPHS-FRESIES

Displaying a great lack of team work, but otherwise holding their opponents down to a close score, the sophomore-freshmen girls went down to defeat before the larger and more experienced junior-senior girls of the Heppner high school, in basket ball at the rink last Saturday night. The score was 9 to 6 for the upper class girls.

Each girl starred individually for her team, but Hazel Rankin was the accurate basket tosser for the winners, while Margaret Crawford made most of the points for the losers. The centers, Van Vactor and Bergstrom were there on the jump.

George Case umpired; Helen Ames, refereed; Lucile Culbertson, official timekeeper, and Lillah Clark, official scorekeeper.

The game was played strictly under girls' rules and the two teams lined up as follows:

SENIORS-JUNIORS

SOPHOMORE-FRESHMEN

Thorley and Crawford, forwards; Perry and Groshens, guards; Goulder, side center; Bergstrom center.

Ione Vs. Cardinals.

The basketball season will open in Heppner tomorrow night at the Rink when Ione and the Cardinal Club of this city will meet in their first struggle. The game will be preceded with a curtain-raiser by the girls' teams of the High school. The girls played a good game last Saturday and this next one should be even better.

The boys from below have played several games already this season and thereby have a decided advantage over the local five, since the Cardinals have not really had a good practice game yet, and have not been able to perfect their team work. However, they should be able to hold down the Ioneites to a fairly close score. The Cardinals will be represented by Hale and Crawford, forwards; Elder, Hallock, Mahoney and Young, guards; Rogers center.

The management expects a large crowd, for many tickets have already been sold.

Mrs. Jack Devore is seriously ill at her home in Heppner.

The first Sunday in December is the time of the Elks' Memorial service. Hon. John B. Coffey of Portland will deliver the address.

Mrs. Lillian Conser, formerly of Heppner, but now of Portland, is chairman of the committee on arrangements at the annual banquet of the Monday Musical Club of that city. Her picture appeared in the music section of last Sunday's Oregonian.

A party consisting of Chas. Vaughn, Gene Noble, Lou Ziegler, Will Hughes and Chas. Cox, made an auto trip down to the Jim Carty ranch in the Sand Hollow country last Sunday. They spent the day hunting rabbits. According to reports they brought back with them, there was not much hunting to it. The rabbits were so plentiful that the boys didn't have to get out of the machine to shoot them.

MANY HEPPNER PEOPLE MAKE ROUND TRIP

Ladies Aid of the Federa- ted Church Conduct the Tour.

Heppner was crowded with tourists last Friday evening. Many globe trotters were making a trip around the world by automobile. The special points of interest visited were Georgia, Boston, Alaska, Germany, New York City and Heppner.

Cars began leaving the Heppner station, which was the Case furniture store, at 5:30 in the evening. They left at regular intervals from that time on until 8 o'clock. It took only three minutes for the trip from Heppner to Georgia. At this particular station things greatly resembled the sunny South. With the exception of the American travelers, no white people were in sight. Many negro servants were in evidence and they served watermelon to the visitors. The trip to Georgia was featured by the songs of the picaninies.

The journey from the P. N. Christensen residence to Boston was uneventful. After a fifteen minute bean eat at Boston, we left the Elmer Slocum residence for far-away Alaska. Upon our arrival in Alaska we were very hungry and the natives gave us some kind of a salad to eat which was made of the native Alaska salmon. It was good and we ate heartily of it. We spent some time here admiring the beautiful country with George Case as a guide. We found much of interest in the trinkets which the natives made. Basket weaving, little wooden canoes, blankets and furs. Our happy visit in this country was broken into by the arrival of the boat which was to carry us to Germany. As we left the Case residence, we entered an automobile which was to make the first trip of its kind—across the water to Germany.

The water was fine. Arriving in the "fatherland" we were met by enthusiastic "deutechers" and treated to a lunch of cider, "hot dog," and sauerkraut. We remained in the old country longer than we had first intended, and when we did get ready to leave the Patterson residence the boat was late and consequently our arrival in good old New York was delayed to a great extent.

We had much trouble in satisfying the customs officials and health officers at Ellis Island, but we were finally allowed to land. After three quarters of an hour spent here, we left the Phelps home for Heppner, fully satisfied that the fifty cents we had invested in a round trip ticket had been well spent. Thanks to the Ladies' Aid of the Federated church for affording us the opportunity of seeing foreign lands without going outside of our own city.

O. P. HENDRICSON CALLED BY DEATH

Prominent Resident and Former Assessor.

After an illness of many months, a constant sufferer from chronic Brights Disease, Omar P. Hendricson was called to his long rest at his home in Heppner on Tuesday forenoon. For many weeks Mr. Hendricson had been hovering between life and death, his case having long ago been given up as hopeless and his demise was not unexpected.

Mr. Hendricson had been in business in Heppner until a short time ago, when, owing to his physical condition he was compelled to retire and sold out to his partner, D. C. Gurdane, and son. He also served as assessor of Morrow county by appointment, which place he held for about two years in a very creditable manner. He was also a prominent member of the Odd Fellows.

A short funeral service was held at the residence early Wednesday morning and the remains taken to the depot for shipment to Albany where interment will be made in the family lot.

Omar P. Hendricson was a native of Oregon, born in Linn county, Aug. 14, 1854, and was, therefore, at the time of his death 59 years, 2 months and 27 days old. A wife, two sons, and a daughter are left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father.

Dorle Lodge No. 20, Knights of Pythias, is up and doing this Fall. The old members are getting enthusiastic over the work and the younger brothers are taking hold with interest. New members are being added to the ranks and the prospect at present looks favorable for a good season's work. For next Tuesday night there will be work in the third rank.
