

WEEK'S NEWS.

Local and Personal Happenings.

Frank Habelt of Cecil was in the city last Saturday evening.

D. A. Porter and John Helms were Heppner visitors from Lexington on Saturday.

G. A. Bleakman, merchant of Hardman, was doing business in Heppner on Tuesday.

Waldo Vincent and wife of Butter creek were week-end visitors in Heppner.

Joseph Eskelsen and wife of Lexington spent Saturday in this city.

J. C. Owen and wife were down from their home at Hardman on Friday.

Charlie Ayers has completely recovered from his recent operation of appendicitis.

Matt T. Hughes and wife were over from Lone Rock a few days this week.

W. P. Dutton of Portland is in the city looking after business interests.

D. E. Gilman spent several days in Grant county last week transacting business.

Celsus Keithly is having a garage constructed on his property in West Heppner. Frank Parker is doing the work.

Thomas Marlatt, who recently suffered a stroke of apoplexy, is slowly recovering at his home east of town. He is still confined to his bed.

Ben Patterson this week sold his Cadillac to C. A. Minor. Mr. Patterson will journey to Portland soon to receive a new 1914 model car of the same make.

Ione will have an up-to-date garage. The building is now in course of construction, and when finished will be used by John Bryson. The material for construction is of wood.

Glenn Jones arrived home from Corvallis last Saturday evening. He has been taking a post graduate course at the Oregon Agricultural College for the past seven months.

The interior of the store of Sam Hughes is this week being treated to new paint and paper at the hands of O. E. Nordstrom, which adds much to its attractiveness.

C. R. and E. A. Pointer, Lexington farmers, were visitors in Heppner Tuesday, depositing a part of their wealth with Morrow county's tax collector at the courthouse.

Rev. W. T. Goulder and Sam Hughes returned from Walla Walla on Monday. Mr. Hughes reports that section looking mighty fine and with crop prospects that were never equalled.

The Morrises, who gave their show and dance at the Club building last Saturday evening, departed on Tuesday for outside points. Their entertainment was well patronized and a large crowd attended the dance.

W. R. Skey of Portland, special representative of the O. W. R. & N., made Heppner an official visit last Friday and attended the commercial club meeting the same evening. Mr. Skey is connected with the traffic department.

Jake Wattenburger moved his shearing plant the latter part of last week from Stanfield to Cunha's place near here and started in on his sheep. After this bunch is finished they are expected to move out about 14 miles from town. With these machines it is stated that some of the men shear about 200 in one day.—Echo News.

W. C. Lacey has been up from Portland for the past ten days looking after his interests here. Mr. Lacey was a pioneer farmer of Morrow county, and he still owns the big farm on Black Horse, where there is the best prospect for a bumper crop he has ever seen in this country. This is true of all that splendid section of country from all reports we get.

Emerson Keithley was in from Eight Mile on Monday, returning home on Tuesday. He led home with him that Missouri "canary bird" that has been located at the Billy McRoberts livery barn for the past couple of months, and is now entitled to a vote of thanks from all Heppner people residing in that vicinity. The "mule" has an excellent voice but the tune does not remind one of "Home, Sweet Home."

Tom Morgan received the news the first of the week of the affliction of his brother, Seth Morgan, who suffered a stroke of paralysis while on a visit to the home of his daughter in Portland on the 17th inst. Mr. Morgan, whose home is in The Dalles, is 68 years of age and has not been in good health for a number of years. He is very bad off at present and his brother here fears he may have a very serious time in getting over this attack.

W. G. Scott was a visitor in Heppner on Monday from Lexington. He has entirely recovered from his recent hospital experience and is enjoying the best of health again. This is good news to his many friends in Morrow county. His operation was a painful and tedious one of skin grafting and kept him confined to the hospital for a number of weeks.

Wm. Kummerland was in town on Saturday. He has been badly under the weather for some months past, but is now improving quite rapidly. Mr. Kummerland has lived in Morrow county for the past thirty years, and he says that during that time he has never seen such a splendid winter as the one just had, with such fine prospects for crops.

Elwyn P. Greene, at one time pastor of the M. E. church of this city, but later engaged in the newspaper business, died at Greenbush, Mich., recently. Mr. Greene was the founder of papers at Kennewick, and Pasco, Wash., but of late years has been in the publishing business in the state of Michigan.

Heppner merchants are shipping out eggs at a lively rate at the present time. Hundreds of dozen are going to the Portland commission houses each week, for the Morrow county hen is a busy bird and on duty every day, giving substantial evidence of her worth as a revenue producer.

J. D. Bauman and son, farmers, residing on the Borg place west of Heppner, were in town Saturday taking out farm machinery. Their crops are coming along fine and promise a big yield.

Mayor Smead and A. L. Sparling spent a couple of days the latter part of the week in the south end of the county in the interests of the creamery proposition. They met with good success and found the people heartily in sympathy with the move.

New paint on the tower and roof of the courthouse greatly adds to the appearance of that handsome structure, besides being a needed improvement.

Dillard French of Butter creek was a Tuesday visitor in our city.

IRRIGON.

The motor truck of Warren's music house was down last Tuesday with a piano. The instrument was sold to the McCoy's.

Mrs. Joyce Hayes has arrived in town and is now living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Roader.

It is the intention of the citizens around town to donate a day's free labor toward the improvement of the roads in the immediate vicinity of Irrigon. Evidently this will be a good thing, as it will save not only power but our horses also.

W. G. Corey has gone to Coyote with his team to do some grading there for the O. W. R. & N.

An extension of the railroad siding is now being built at this place and four men are at work moving the section houses back to make room for it. If things keep on going we will soon have a new depot, and patient little Irrigon will be pitted no longer. Good things are coming our way in a hurry.

The Hepper-Irrigon road work has quit now for a while until our supervisor can hear what progress the road grader, which has just started out from Heppner is making. The work will then continue and soon the road will be alive with busy vehicles of all kinds on all kinds of business going both ways.

Mack Graybeal went to Umatilla on horseback Tuesday morning.

A marshmallow toast furnished amusement for the young people of the town last Sunday night. In spite of the wind the fire burned nicely, and marshmallows toasted themselves immensely.

George Sushauer, who has been visiting his uncle here, left Tuesday for his home in the valley.

Mrs. Lester and son leave Sunday night for Kellogg. However there is a warm welcome awaiting them when they return a year hence.

LEXINGTON ITEMS.

Herbert Copeland, the eye specialist, was a Lexington caller on Thursday.

S. E. Notson visited the public school on Thursday. Mr. Notson also made arrangements with Mr. Mead to have his ranch plowed.

There were only six youngsters that composed the chivari which remembered Harry Munkers and his bride on Wednesday night. Mr. Munkers and Miss Way were married on Tuesday at Heppner. Both are young residents of Lexington and very popular. The heartiest congratulations are extended to them by their many friends.

Mrs. Way, mother of Mrs. Harry Munkers, is away at Newberg, Ore., taking care of her mother, who is quite ill. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Breshears spent a very enjoyable Sunday out to Hynd brothers' ranch at Sand Hollow.

Wheat and other grains all look very good, but it is getting dry and rains will soon be needed badly.

The people of Lexington and vicinity will be glad to learn that they can get Sunday mail at Lexington. The mail is put off on Sunday night and distributed that night at Lexington.

A little excitement in the way of a fight on Sunday in the barber shop between two of our city people caused a trial to be held on Monday in our local law and order house.

Gene Gentry, who has been the local barber for several years, sold his barber shop to J. B. Coxen. Here's luck to the new barber.

The Ladies Home Mission will meet next Thursday at the home of their president, Mrs. Moore.

Karl Beach has the lumber hauled for his new residence. Mr. Beach intends to have a modern new home erected.

Prof. and Mrs. Doak spent the week-end holidays at Stanfield, visiting Mr. Doak's brother. Mr. and Mrs. Doak went via Neely White's auto.

A large crowd attended the dance at Al Zink's on Sunday night. A dance was also held that night at the hall. A good time was enjoyed by all.

BLACK BUTTE.

Nice spring weather and the grass is growing fine.

Matt Hughes and George Moore moved their families back to their ranches one day last week. They have been in Heppner all winter taking advantage of the splendid school facilities offered there.

Newton and Walter Matteson have traded for a Hamiltonian stallion.

Lafe Penland went to Portland a few days ago to receive treatment at the hands of a specialist. Lafe has been sick for some time. We hope that he will soon return fully restored to health.

Will Penland came up from Portland recently. He has been in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co.

Clarence and Len Reid are farming. Everybody is busy tilling the soil.

Albert Crowdsen and Kenneth McFerrin went over to the John Day river last Wednesday.

Gene Matteson has been hauling his crop of potatoes to town.

John Hiatt went to town Monday after a load of seed grain.

William Rhodes went in after a load of hog wire one day last week. Billy has gone into the hog business extensively of late and will use the wire in enlarging his pasture.

The party that left a bundle of clothes hanging on the door knob of John Hiatt's place some time between 1 o'clock p. m. Sunday night and 9 o'clock a. m. Monday, can have the same by calling at the house.

A small fall of snow on Sunday night reminds us that there was a sharp change in weather conditions. It did not last long.

We understand the government is going to erect a lookout station on the top of Black Butte. In fact all arrangements have been completed and the telephone line is already built. This is certainly an ideal place, as it commands a broad view of the surrounding country, being the highest peak in these parts. From this lofty station a fire can readily be detected and extinguished before it has time to get under headway. A member of the forest service will be kept there continuously during the summer season.

L. P. Davidson of Ione was a Heppner business visitor Tuesday.

Anson Wright, one of the large sheepmen of this section, spent Tuesday in this city.

Parties from California have been in town the past few days with a view of contracting for sheep. They want about 10,000 head.

STOCK RANCH.

1500 ACRES—100 acres under ditch; 60 acres now set to alfalfa and other 40 can be put in at any time. 250 acres arum land. Plenty of water for all purposes. 700 acres R. R. land leased that will go with the place. $20,000 buys this; one-half cash; balance to suit.

800 ACRES—Grain and Stock ranch. 300 acres in cultivation, 100 acres more suitable for cultivation. $20 per acre. 150 acres in fall wheat goes with place at this price. 3 1/2 miles from Heppner. ### CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Last Sunday was a great day at the Christian church. About 215 members of our Sunday-school lined up in front of the building for a picture, which is to be published in one of our national papers. At the morning service three men and two women took their stand with the church here, one of the men being baptized at the evening service. Next Sunday after our Sunday-school session the pastor will discuss the following subject: "The Shadow of a Cross." In the evening the theme will be: "Love's Triumph." Special music by a mixed quartette at this latter service.

Percy Jarmon, of Butter creek, who has been suffering much of late with severe stomach trouble, thought to be a cancer of the stomach, will leave for Rochester, Minn., the first of the month, where he will undergo an operation. During his absence Whit Maulden will look after the work on the ranch, and he went down there this week for that purpose.
