COMMUNICATION.
To the Editor:

Along with others similarly situated with land possessions in the arid district north of Ione, Morrow county, bordering on or located within the survey of the government reserve for irrigation I wish to protest against the unjust rating of this land; now largely abandoned on account of failure to make cultivation pay any profit or even expenses of farming it.

This land for several years has been rated above the offered selling price by the holders, against their protest. Much of this land has fallen into hands who are non-residents through mortgage foreclosures and over-induced speculation; together with many homesteaders who have struggled with their residence settlement and obtained title thereto. Personally and under protest I have paid on a rate of taxation far above the selling price on this land. I have not been able to rent it or even give the use of the land to some one to till it. Surely Morrow county tax appraising board should consider and more fairly compare with other land values, appraise this land for taxation.

Now I am not a kicker on taxes. I always vote for school and other public need assessments. I only ask along with others that discrimination cease and a fair valuation of land values take its place. If the owners and residents on land in that section make a common protest, a readjustment will take place. Voice your sentiments and get results.

Yours for fair play,
C. W. BARZEE.

MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

THURSDAY, April 23, - - 1914.

HELPING THE NEWSPAPERS

One of the most difficult tasks in a newspaper office is getting the facts relative to births, deaths and marriages in the community. Many people take it for granted that when a person dies, the editor is familiar with every detail of the life of the deceased and his activities, when, in fact, he knows absolutely nothing about him and he has to get his information from other sources, the same as other persons would have to do. It is the same with regard to marriages or other more or less important happenings in a community. In almost every case the editor has to dig up the particulars or satisfy himself and the readers of his paper with a meager and inaccurate account. The average editor of a country paper has something like a million and a half of things to do and to think about in a week and the patrons can hardly overestimate how much he appreciates any efforts they may make in furnishing him the facts for news items.

Judge Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene, candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon before the coming primaries, is a native of Oregon and a graduate of the University of Oregon and the law department of the University of Michigan. He has served as judge of the second judicial district of the state since 1905, and he has the unanimous endorsement of the attorneys of the Lane county bar, 64 in number, for the important office he seeks. Judge Harris stands high in the legal profession in this state and is a man that every republican can conscientiously support. Four Justices of the Supreme Court are to be chosen, and Judge Harris promises if nominated and elected, that he will, during his term of office, to the best of his ability, continue to administer law as it is, without regard to wealth, poverty or creed of any litigant or attorney. The record Judge Harris has made during his term of office as presiding judge of the second judicial district is proof that he will faithfully carry out any pledge made to the people of the State.

There is no provision in the law for the swearing in of voters at the primary election, and if you are not registered by April 30, you will fall of the privilege of voting for your choice of candidates on the republican or democratic tickets. Only a few more days left before the books close and you will have to hurry.

The ballot at the general election in November will likely have the appearance of an Indian blanket, both with regard to size and variegated appearance. The socialists have started a movement to repeal the Initiative and referendum; the Grange will try to abolish the state senate; U'Ren's latest scheme is to elect the governor by the people and give him power to appoint all other officers. Besides these, political fads and fancies by the score are being hatched to confuse and lead the people into a one man government. Oregon is passing through a political revolution. When will it end, and where is it leading us?—Brownsville Times.

Another Heppner boy shied his hat into the political ring last week and announced that he would seek the democratic nomination for the office of County Treasurer. Hanson Hughes has been a resident of Morrow county for the past twenty eight years, his parents having located here when he was but two years old. Mr. Hughes is a graduate of Heppner High school, being a member of the class of '98. For the past several years he has been engaged in the store business in Heppner with his father.

THOMSON BROS.

Charles L. McNary, dean of the Willamette law school and the youngest man on the Supreme Court bench at the present time is seeking re-nomination for that office on the republican ticket. In announcing his candidacy for Justice of the Supreme Court, he says: "During the time I have been a member of the Court I have labored hard to interpret the law as a living, progressive science, rather than as a rule to old to be corrected if found inapplicable to present conditions." Of the four candidates to be chosen at the primary election, it is our opinion, from Mr. McNary's past record, that he should be one of them.

acres of such land being held for speculative purposes in this county that should be placed under proper cultivation, and if these parties desire to let the lands stand idle and befall their neighbors with weeds, let them pay sufficient tax to help the other fellow in his struggle against them. The county is not to blame, as we view it, for men are beginning to make good all over the north end of the county. It lays with the owners themselves.

MR. FRASER ON GOOD ROADS.

Gooseberry, Or., April 18, 1914.
Editor Gazette-Times,
Heppner, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

What is a Progressive Roads Administration? Morrow county has long suffered from roads. The law requires that 50 per cent of the Road Tax shall be expended in the district from whence collected. Heretofore the Commissioners have sent out "Road Grader Crews" under enormous expense, the moving and going over and over the same roads has caused a general dissatisfaction. It would be better to place the Districts in divisions, placing one Road Grader in each division to be used in turn.

Let the Supervisors supervise the roads, let them use the graders with other tools and make every district a district of competition with the other, then the roads would benefit all.

tools scattered throughout the district is waste, and I would advise getting a machine drill to save labor. The balance of the 50 per cent would build bridges, take care of water-spouts and begin construction of crushed rock roads, where the traffic is heavy. We should place a contract for two miles of crushed rock road to find the cost, after that the way would be easier to follow. All roads must conform to a certain grade. Don't follow section lines but road grades. The roads of the future must be made to stay where built.

Yours for efficient road service,
R. F. FRASER.
