MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

THURSDAY, April, 30, - - 1914.

The creamery at Heppner will be a GO.

Register today. Tomorrow will be too late.

Would you be a booster for Morrow county? Then prepare to get out on the roads on Monday.

That creamery meeting on Saturday afternoon was an inspiration. Better things are in store for Heppner and Morrow county.

Registration books close today. Primaries May 15. The time is fast approaching when we shall all have to line up for our favorite candidate.

Charles A. Johns, of Portland, is receiving strong endorsement in his race for nomination for governor on the republican ticket. He is asking the vote of every person who believes the State of Oregon needs to have taxes reduced and expenses cut down. Mr. Johns is an attorney of large experience; he is also a business man, and he would carry these qualifications into the governor's office, and apply his knowledge and experience in getting the results that the people most desire at this time. Mr. Johns, while now a resident of Portland, can well be considered as an Eastern Oregon man, as his residence was in Baker for twenty years or more previous to going to the metropolis two years ago, and his understanding of the needs and conditions of this part of the state would make him a good man from our point of view. However, he is broad-minded and capable and would be Oregon's governor, and we believe such a one as the people have been looking for these many years past.

Hon. Henry J. Bean, of Umatilla county, present member of the Supreme Court of Oregon, is a candidate for re-nomination on the Republican ticket. Being practically a home man and having served a term as Circuit Judge of Morrow and Umatilla counties before his election to the highest court of the state, Judge Bean is well known here and he should receive strong support from our people in his efforts to be re-elected. He has made good and is now at his post of duty too busy to even take much hand in the promotion of his campaign, and is trusting to his friends over the state to see that he gets the required support to nominate him. Judge Bean promises equal justice to poor and rich and this is the sum total of his platform. His record on the supreme bench is one that he has a right to be proud of, and his nomination on May 15th by the Republicans of Oregon will mean that he will serve the people of the state for another four years in his present capacity. And there is no good reason why he should not succeed himself.

At different points in the county on Saturday last, the people turned out to do road work. The day was not generally observed, however, and this was especially so at Heppner, as other meetings came in to prevent action on that date. The following Monday was declared a holiday by the mayor of Heppner, but it was not observed on account of inclement weather. Next Monday has been declared and set apart as the day, and all of the business houses of Heppner are requested to close, and the people of our city earnestly requested to don their working clothes and get on to the highways. If this is done the result will be that a great improvement shall take place in our roads. Our civic pride should prompt us to do this, and it will be done. Heppner always comes to the front and she will this time. Let us do something worth while crowding about. Clean out the rocks, fill up the chucks, level off some of the high places, and smooth out the ruts. It will be a genuine religious act.

THOMSON BROS.

WITH HIS SWAGGER

In loud, angry tone, a fat man gruffly ordered a waitress to take away a dish with which he had been served.

She was a frail timid girl. Probably there was a mother and brothers and sisters at home whom she was helping to support.

Of course, he was coarse and gross. There were lines of self-indulgence in his bulging face. The arrogant hauteur of his manner was token of the disdain he held for all plain people.

Rich raiment and swollen bank accounts do not save this person from a charge of being a cad. In his harshness of tone and arrogance of manner, he was cheaply vulgar. A real gentleman is a gentleman whether addressing a waitress or a magnate, a laborer or a millionaire.

It is all a mistake to hold that the girl who serves at the dining table, or the girl who sits at the telephone switchboard, or the lad who wields the lever on a streetcar, or the man who swings the sledge in a blacksmith shop is an inferior being. It isn't the job, or the salary, or the income, or the bank account, but the heart and mind and purpose that makes the man or woman.

Your coarse person in the tea room, whether man or woman, who shouts at the service and browbeats the server is a bully, whose influence in life tends to dehumanize and brutalize others of the race.

An unflinching test of true manhood and womanhood is the personal attitude toward those of lower vocation and minor position in life.

The bully of whom these things are written, is but one. There are multitudes of them, male and female.—Journal.

FOREST NOTES.

Nearly 4,000 acres were reforested in Montana and northern Idaho during 1913, at an average cost of $7.50 an acre.

The best forested area of China is in Manchuria. The principal tree varieties are pine, cedar, larch, fir, yew, oak, ash, elm, walnut and birch.

Two forest officers in Washington and Oregon are writing popular descriptions of the trees on the Crater and Mt. Rainier national parks, for the use of visitors to the parks.

Gannett Peak, Wyoming, nearly 14,000 feet in elevation, and the highest mountain in the state, is on the divide between the Bonneville and Bridger national forests.

In northern Arizona, Utah, Nevada, southern Idaho and western Wyoming, the fires on national forests set by campers have decreased in four years from nearly a third to approximately one-fifth. Lightning fires have increased from less than one-fourth to nearly one-half. The relatively larger proportion from lightning, however, is due partly to decrease in other causes.
