EVERY day situations come up in which you need an International Harvester oil tractor—Mogul or Titan. An International tractor on your farm will pull your field machines, haul your products and supplies, furnish the power for thresher, husker and shredder, feed grinder, or serve you in other duties.

Simple mechanism, protection of parts, ease and convenience of operation, economy of fuel, complete equipment—make International tractors last and satisfy you longest. Study their records, ask their owners about them, and write us for catalogues. IHC tractor sizes range from 6-12 to 30-60 H. P. operating on kerosene and gasoline.

A line from you will bring you catalogues, facts and figures, and we will also tell you where the tractors may be seen. Address the

INDUSTRIAL REVIEW OF STATE.

Progress of Industries and Manufacturing That Provide Oregon People With Payrolls.

Salem, April 27.—Labor Commissioner Hoff has renewed his fight to force all public institutions upon an eight hour day and the State Board of Control refuses to comply, saying the legislature did not intend to put the state employees under the eight-hour public works law.

Bandon churches are building a revival tabernacle.

An $8000 meat packing plant is being erected at Burns.

The Springfield cement factory is working a larger force.

A new Christian church has been dedicated at North Bend.

Astoria continues its campaign for the use of wood block paving.

Washington population 1,250,000, Oregon 700,000. What's matter.

Building docks and a seawall will enable Astoria to fill many streets.

The Smith-Powers logging road is to be completed south to Myrtle Point.

Flavel will celebrate driving the first piling in the great Hill dock system.

The California-Oregon Power Co. is seeking franchises in Douglas County.

The J. K. Armsby Co. has up the proposition of building a cannery at Roseburg.

The Eugene streetcar system is to be equipped with $40,000 pay-as-you-enter cars.

E. D. Phillipi is shipping 200 calves to Silverton to help out the dairy industry.

A large ice manufacturing plant has been completed and is ready for business at Bend.

The Nyssa cheese factory on the Snake river in March made 12,233 pounds of cheese.

The Farmers' Union of Coos county has decided to build a co-operative store at Marshfield.

During the first two weeks of April, Coos Bay shipments of lumber to San Francisco aggregated 6,000,000.

The Golden Star and other mines in the Bohemia group are putting in machinery and doing development work.

Andy Matson, a Portland longshoreman is contesting the labor vote with O. P. Hoff for Factory Inspector.

D. L. Harden of Eugene has invented a drinking fountain for homes, and schools that will be manufactured there.

Home industry won out at Eugene by an order of the city giving all orders for sewer pipe to the Eugene Concrete works.

Portland merchants are asking modification of the minimum wage and eight hour law to give more girls a chance to work.

Elmer Dover of the Oregon Power Co. says with cheap power the 3 Pacific Coast states will have seven million population by 1929.

The Vancouver bridge across the Columbia is to be on the draw or bascule plan to let the largest sailing vessels through, and is to be built of Oregon fabricated steel.

Merchants and farmers plead the right of their sons to learn trades from which they are shut out by the apprentice ruling of the minimum wage commission.

Portland auditorium plans have been rejected by the commissioners and local architects have been employed and a building all made in Oregon may be the result.

Labor union and closed shop policies on the Portland waterfront are driving shipping more and more to Puget Sound on account of the high cost of loading and unloading vessels.

May 15, Marion and Clackamas counties vote on good roads bond issues that will cause about a million and a half to be expended for labor on permanent highways if the elections carry.

The grange in many parts of the state is refusing to support the eight hour laws and other propositions emanating from Labor unions. For the past ten years the two bodies have worked together.

Labor Commissioner Hoff declares that under the decision of the Supreme Court certain laborers at state institutions must come under the eight hour law, if the state has to borrow money to pay them.

Fewer game laws, fewer boards and commissions, and less interference with the industries, and more capital invested in manufacturing enterprises, is the line of development now advocated by the people of Oregon.

KINEMADVENTURE.

Dean Collins

"Come, sit by my side, and listen well."

Said the old, old man to the little lad;

"There's many a tale that I can tell Of thrilling adventures that I have had."

I mind how I paddled many a mile

While the tide of the mighty Congo flows—

"I know," said the lad, with a beaming smile,

"I've seen that stream at the movie shows"

"I paddled long and I paddled far,

And far tramped I o'er the jungle sod,

Where wildest spots of Africa, are

And white man's foot has but seldom trod.

I saw the buffalo plunge and snort

In the miry fords of the upper Nile—

"Yes," cried the boy, "I know that sport;

It's been in the movies quite a while."

"And once, where the big Zambesi roars,

As all of its water, downward hurled,

Into a mighty chasm pours,

A fall so vast that it shakes the world,

I stood amazed as I watched the sight;

No greater moment I hope to know—

"Yes," said the boy, "'Twas just last night

I saw those falls at the movie show."

"Ahem!" said the old, old man. "No doubt

It would seem impressive to you to learn

That I have followed the North Star out

To lands where the red auroras burn;

Where the world stands wan in the icy air

I have stricken the kingly white bear low—

"Yes," said the lad, "its great up there;

I've seen such hunts at the picture show."

"Now woe is me!" said the gaffer old

"The world of adventure, with all its scenes,

To-day on a reel of film is rolled

And flashed to life on the movie screens,

My day is past, and it seems no place

Save heaven remains, where they do not go—

"I saw," cried the lad, with shining face,

"A heaven film at the movie show"

STEAM-DRIED HAY.

Each year finds the farmer more of a mechanic, as machine after machine appears to take the place of manual labor. The up-to-date farm now has its machine shop and farmer machinist. The farmer complains that for five years past he has been obliged constantly to purchase new labor-saving machinery. On the other hand, had it not been for these new inventions, many would have

DON'T RAISE WEEDS!

USE A JONES WEEDER

Built in Morrow County

(Patented Dec. 16, 1913)

There has been a great need for a machine to cultivate summer-fallow that would do it thoroughly with the least possible loss of moisture and "do it quick."

We claim the Jones Weeder will do all of this and more. It can be used in as many sections as wanted, like a harrow. Four sections cut 18 feet 8 inches and pull no heavier than four sections of steel harrow.

The blades having a slope of 60° it will not choke under normal conditions.

I am now putting up 100 sections. Parties wanting this machine should send in their orders at once.

JOHNS

REPUBLICAN
Governor

Give this Job to a man who will reduce Taxes and cut down expenses

If you had an interest in a private business you would want it conducted on business principles. You have an interest in the affairs of this State. The State of Oregon is a business institution run for the benefit of the people in it who, in a certain sense, are stockholders in its business interests.

TAXES MUST BE REDUCED!

In the coming primary election, Charles A. Johns, of Portland, will ask the vote of every person who believes the State of Oregon needs to have taxes reduced and expenses cut down. The only way to reduce taxes and cut down expenses is to apply the same principles in running the State that you would apply in running your own business.

How many institutions would run along with an increase of operating expenses from year to year? Not many. Well, let's reduce our taxes and cut down our expenses. Charles A. Johns, of Portland, is running on that platform and stands on his platform. Get him on the job! Start thinking about this today!

Will you elect a man who will cut down expenses and reduce taxes, or a politician, as our next Governor? The issue is clear. One will cut down taxes—the other will give jobs to his political friends. Which do you want?

The latest thing is steam-cured hay, which makes the farmer independent of cloudy or rainy weather in haying time. The green grass is hauled to the hay factory unloaded at one end of the plant and, 30 minutes later, emerges at the other end perfectly cured, ready for the barn or bale press. In case of rain, a canvas cover insures arrival at the barn without wetting. The farmer has about given up his time-honored trip to the "grist mill," and here comes the hay mill. Frequent showers make good grass, but much of this is ruined in the process of sun-drying. The steam drier is independent of weather, and moreover turns out a better product, and can work nights. Maud Muller might get a job checking the loads, but there isn't very much romance about watching the steam gauge and a lot of conveyor belts.—H. H. Windsor, in the May Popular Mechanics Magazine.
