EVERY day situations come up in which you need an International Harvester oil tractor—Mogul or Titan. An International tractor on your farm will pull your field machines, haul your products and supplies, furnish the power for thrasher, husker and shredder, feed grinder, or serve in other duties.

Simple mechanism, protection of parts, ease and convenience of operation, economy of fuel, complete equipment—make International tractors last and satisfy you longest. Study their records, ask their owners about them, and write us for catalogues. IHC tractor sizes range from 6-12 to 30-60 H. P. operating on kerosene and gasoline.

A line from you will bring you catalogues, facts and figures, and we will also tell you where the tractors may be seen. Address this

INDUSTRIAL REVIEW OF STATE.

Progress of Industries and Manufacturing That Provide Oregon People With Payrolls.

In the primary election just held every candidate for Governor who advocated laws interfering with industries and imposing new burdens on manufacturing was defeated.

The Coos Bay port commission has closed a contract to complete the 300 foot channel into that harbor.

The first of the Astoria-San Francisco line of Hill steamers will be launched July 1st at the Cramp shipyard in Philadelphia.

The Eugene cannery is running on strawberries and gooseberries.

The Willamette Pacific bridge between Lakeside and Winchester is being thrown up by a sixty ton shoveler.

M. E. Miller, one of the candidates for Labor Commissioner, made his campaign with pictures of factory buildings in full operation.

The Washington minimum wage and eight hour law for women does not apply to the fruit industry as it does in Oregon.

A cannery and evaporator are to be erected at Alvdore.

The H. M. Byllesby Co. will take up community advertising of the Pacific Coast in connection with each of their 34 plants.

North Bend is going after a municipal water supply.

Salem has raised funds for the annual Cherry Fair to be held about the end of June.

Reports made at the meeting of the State grange showed that in many parts of the state young women were thrown out of employment by the operation of the minimum wage and eight hour law.

The Greenhorn claims in the Sutherland district of Grant county are making a good showing as producers.

A movement has been started in Lincoln county to establish a minimum wage of $60 per month for teachers.

President Sproule of the S. P. Co. said there must be a change in public sentiment before railroad construction will begin, and the factories and mills can operate and employ labor.

The Pacific Northwest sent out $3,069,635 fruit shipments in 1913.

The Catholic cathedral to be erected in east Portland will cost building and grounds, $1,000,000. The Knights of Columbus will erect a club building to cost $100,000.

M. D. Hammell of Albany is planning a 100 room hotel for Bandon.

A $52,000 armory is being planned for Eugene.

Nineteen counties in Oregon will lose $460,398 taxes this year by suits attacking the O. & C. land grant. Litigation has already cost the state nearly as much and the lands are withdrawn from settlement.

Coquille river coal mines are making large shipments to San Francisco.

Springfield is to have fountains on the principal streets.

Wood block pavements made from sawmill butts is a new industry proposed in Lane county.

Construction of the long trestles on the line between Siuslaw and Marshfield has begun.

Work begins in June on the new Sutherland, Coos Bay and Eastern railroad.

Tom Richardson, the Portland Commercial club booster, estimates Oregon has lost 20,000 people on account of women not making it pleasant for newcomers.

E. M. Andrews and associates will expend $100,000 boring test wells for oil in the Coos Bay coal fields.

The Forestry department will construct a bridge across the Breitenbush between Detroit and Niagara.

All programs of radical legislation seem to be off in Oregon, and the recent primaries served a warning to politicians to let industries and business alone in the future.

J. A. McEachren & Co., Seattle, have the contract for constructing the first unit of the Astoria public docks, to cost $137,715.

The Portland port commission has ordered a new tug and decreed that all dredging shall be thirty feet deep in front of private docks.

The new Meier & Frank building at Portland is to cost $1,250,000. The steel superstructure is to be fabricated at Portland.

The new high school building at McMinnville will cost $30,000.

The order of St. Francis will erect a $40,000 hospital at Klamath Falls. That city also gets a municipal building to cost $40,000.

Hillsboro will erect at once a Carnegie library building.

The defeat of all candidates with fads and fancies in the recent primaries indicates that Oregon is coming to a more sane condition.

REFORM THE REFORMERS.

By H. H. Windsor, in the June Number of Popular Mechanics Magazine.

With the public mind so engrossed by the Mexican matter, we may get a brief respite from the deluge of reforms which, like the avalanche, seems to gather volume in its descent. That there are evils and injustices galore is not to be denied; but we really are not half as bad at heart, or even in performance, as we have allowed ourselves to be painted to our own eyes. We have had our shortcomings dinned in our ears so long and constantly that we have come to think of ourselves as much worse than we really are. The reform era found its opportunity when muck raking no longer offered either fame or money to frenzied writers. Persons who lacked the ordinary abilities to command public attention in any other way found their opportunity, and often a job, in so-called reform movements, and were able to gratify personal vanity by getting their names in newspaper headlines. With no broad knowledge of the subject, and without a careful study of the problem which serves them, they pose as experts. Far be it from this magazine to belittle the honest reform of any genuine evil; but while apparently nothing is good enough for the reformers, is it not wisdom to give equal prominence to our good men and good accomplishments?

Is it not a fact that never in the history of the United States were there so many honest men, honest businessmen, and honestly made products as today? Was there ever, in any land, since the dry land appeared out of the wilderness of waters, as many or as large benefactions of every kind for suffering humanity as today? Yet how few columns are devoted to the constructive story of the good things being done, and how many pages of destructive articles!

The Mexican trouble will not be without its compensation if it only affords some relief from the obsession of reforms, and even in a measure reforms the reformer.

Primaries Favorable to Industries And Business.

A review of the state primary election from an industrial and business standpoint shows that a great step in advance has been taken toward sane policies favorable to development.

Conservative candidates have been nominated by the Republicans, Democrats, and Progressives, although the latter party has become almost a negligible quantity in Oregon politics.

Every candidate who stood for a radical or freak policy in the race for governor has been snowed under and one of the nominees has come out for a program of industrial up-building.

Those advocating the $1500 tax exemption and the taxation of estates to support the unemployed on good wages were badly left.

Many of the candidates for governor initiated as part of their campaign, bills containing radical propositions and some of these will have to go on the ballot in November.

Some candidates won places on the party tickets because they were in office and had the advantage of running against a divided field and are minority nominees.

At the November election there will be further scrutiny of the various party candidates and a further weeding out from the standpoint of a return to good business conditions.

The result of the primary is to show that the people of Oregon are tired of crucifying industries and enterprises of the bid of political adventurers.

A state with raw materials and undeveloped wealth and with abundance of efficient laboring men and women only needs fair laws to invite capital and attain the highest prosperity.

Unjust taxation laws and policies of too much interfering with employment of labor and capital have done much to create apathy and bad business conditions in this state.

The tide has turned and Oregon again invites investments upon fair and equal terms, under which labor will be well employed and all kinds of business will revive.

DON'T RAISE WEEDS!

USE A JONES WEEDER

Built in Morrow County

(Patented Dec. 16, 1913)

There has been a great need for a machine to cultivate summer fallow and do it quickly.

We claim the Jones Weeder will do all of this and more. It can be used in as many sections as wanted, like a harrow. Four sections cut 18 feet 8 inches and pull no heavier than four sections of steel harrow.

The blades having a slope of 60° it will not choke under normal conditions.

I am now putting up 100 sections. Parties wanting this machine should send in their orders at once.

J. A. Waters of Ione, republican candidate for county clerk, was in Heppner over Monday night. Like many others from his locality, he is rejoicing over the abundant rains that have visited his section of the county during the week and added greatly to the insurance of an abundant crop yield.

A half dozen of the shearing crew who have been at work at the Boyer shearing plant on Hinton creek, left for outside points on Saturday. This plant will finish up its work this week after making a run of 52,000 head and closing a very successful season.
