Mr. Beck has started Sabbath school at the church every seventh day at 2 p. m. Everybody is invited.

L. B. Kicker moved to the ranch June 1st. This was a move in the right direction as he is a very successful farmer.

L. M. Davis drove to Umatilla a few days ago with cherries that proved to be the first to be placed on the market. They sold at 12 1/2 cents per pound.

Miss Frances Walpole has begun with a class of 6 pupils on the piano and we predict a very successful career for her in her chosen profession. She is one of Irrigator's most talented young ladies.

Mr. Fred Sharred spend a few days visiting at the home of L. M. Davis and family. This was his first visit to Irrigator and he was well pleased with the prospects of the future of this county.

J. A. Gibbons of Castle Rock was circulating around here the past week with a book under one arm and asking the people of this part of Morrow county what they owned in the way of lands, stock, machinery, household goods and musical instruments. Let the good work go on for this is the way we get money to run the county and state.

LEXINGTON ITEMS

Case Fuqua and Jim Carty made a business trip to Heppner Monday.

Lawrence Heaney was a Lexington visitor last Monday.

W. G. Scott made a business trip to The Dalles Monday.

Sheriff Evans was in town Monday interviewing old friends. With him was Alex Cornett, a resident of Heppner.

Several new headers imported by Leach Bros. are going out to take care of the wheat crop, which promises too be better than last year.

Samuel Devine, who has driven the school wagon in District No. 23 for the past year, has gone to Portland to spend his vacation.

J. M. White and family went to Waltsburg, Wash., Monday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ione Gilbrath. Nell White went as far as Stanfield.

The Methodist church building is receiving a new coat of paint, which will improve its appearance very much.

Decoration day was observed in Lexington by decorating the graves with flowers; plenty of roses being in bloom for the purpose.

Several citizens went to Heppner Saturday to witness the Heppner vs. Echo ball game, and from all accounts it was very interesting.

Married, at the residence of Geo. R. White 4 miles north of Lexington, William Hughes and Miss Naomi Love, both of Heppner. Rev. Taber officiated.

The roads north of Lexington, leading toward town, are receiving a good coating of straw. This is acknowledged to be the best time of the year for strawing roads.

Sunday was rather a warm day, being 98 degrees in the shade. In the evening heavy clouds from the west came up with a light shower which cooled the air and made the night pleasant.

The wind storm Monday evening accompanied by thunder and lightning, was a failure because there was no rain with it. Yet it was the means of cooling the air and keeping away the hot weather for a few days.

Haying on the hill lands is in progress now. Rye, barley and wheat hay are receiving attention and from the inquiry for lands, it appears that help is scarce just at the present time.

Reports from various sections of the county state that the wheat was damaged by warm weather, causing the head of the grain to turn partly white. It is hoped that every place is not affected by this "white cap."

Joe Marshall and O. S. Hoodson were transacting business in town Tuesday. They report the warm weather of the last few days rather hard on the grain, especially at this stage when the grain should be fully developed.

The first crop of alfalfa is being cut and put up all along Willow creek valley. If this crop is put up without any rain falling on it, it will be the first time in many seasons that such a thing has happened. The season is much earlier this year.
