COLLEGE BOOKLET IS ARTISTIC ADVERTISING

June Bulletin of Oregon Agricultural College is Work of Art Say Critics.

Evening Telegram.

It simply delights the eye. That is the verdict which any person of taste and discrimination will render after he has glanced through the last Oregon Agricultural College Bulletin. It is a work of art. You are impressed with that fact as your eye falls on the front cover, and the impression stays with you until the last leaf is turned.

There are ninety-six pages in this June Bulletin and every page illustrated with the finest sort of photography. It is a comprehensive and most attractive pictorial presentation of all the college activities. The accompanying text is hardly needed to arouse enthusiasm concerning the quality of work done at the Oregon Agricultural College.

The excellence of workmanship in this little book is in itself the best sort of assurance, if such assurance were needed, of the high character of achievement at this agricultural school. The tone of it is that of mechanical and artistic thoroughness. The person who examines it is conscious of having in hand a production created in an atmosphere of unusual intellectual vigor. High purpose is manifest on its every page, and there goes along with it the consciousness that that purpose is being attained.

If any citizen of Oregon shall glance over this book and not be proud of the institution that printed it, we can only say there is something wrong about that man or woman. We are not inclined to believe there is any such. We are proud of the Oregon Agricultural College, as a matter of course, irrespective of this particular publication or any others it has put out, but we have in these the means of letting other people know why we are proud. This Bulletin is a piece of very high-class advertising for the state. It is more than the usual presentation of matter concerned with the fertility of our soil, the potential wealth of our resources and the assured magnificence of our commercial and industrial future. It is an undeniable testimonial of the splendid things we are doing for the development of all that makes Oregon a more desirable place in which to live.

CLOUDING THE ISSUE.

The Oregonian.

The tactics of the campaign of Mr. Chamberlain and against Mr. Booth are being slowly revealed. They will be to shake the ghost of Cannonism Forakerism and Penroseism before the voter, with the expectation that he will be frightened away from support of the Republican candidate. The empty dinner pail is to be ignored; the widespread industrial stagnation is to be termed a psychological creation of a hectic imagination; the inveterate incompetence of the Democratic party for public administration is to be discreetly passed over. We are to hear about the wicked Cannon, back in Illinois, the corrupt Penrose, far off in Pennsylvania, and the unscrupulous Foraker, 3000 miles away in Ohio.

But the Oregon campaign for Senator does not hinge on Cannon, a castoff relic of the old regime, or on Foraker, repudiated by his party at home and discredited by the people everywhere, or on Penrose, fighting desperately for his political life against the pure Pinchot and an almost unknown Democrat. If the people of Pennsylvania, in their sovereign capacity as rulers of their own state, should want Penrose for Senator, Penrose is the man they want.

If Mr. Booth is to be loaded down with Cannon, Foraker and Penrose, how will Mr. Chamberlain avoid responsibility for the odious Boss Murphy, or Boss Taggart, or Boss Guffey, or Boss Sullivan, all of whom are much alive and in full control of the Democratic party in their respective states? How indeed?

But of course neither Cannon, nor Foraker, nor Penrose, nor Taft, nor LaFollette, nor Roosevelt on the one hand, nor Murphy, nor Taggart, nor Sullivan, nor Guffey on the other, are real issues in Oregon. It is utterly futile to drag in such bogaboos. The electorate knows better.

The issue between Mr. Booth and Mr. Chamberlain is not personal. It is wholly political. It will be determined on the merits of the respective principles for which the two men stand. The people of Oregon in November will be called upon to answer the following questions:

Shall we support the Republican party and what it stands for through the election of Mr. Booth? Or shall we support the Democratic party and what it stands for through the election of Mr. Chamberlain?

If the people of Oregon are satisfied with the policies of the present Democratic National Administration and their effects, they will re-elect Mr. Chamberlain. If they are not, they will elect Mr. Booth.

Hood River Votes In Favor of $75,000 Road Bonds For Columbia Highway.

Portland, July 21, 1914. (Special)—By a vote of 1652 to 428 the people of Hood River county last week authorized a bond issue of $75,000 for the completion of the Columbia River Highway through their section of the state. Every precinct in the county, except one, gave a big majority for the bonds.

In addition to this section of Hood River, Columbia county has issued bonds to the extent of $360,000 for good roads, 260,000 of which will be applied to the Columbia Highway. Clatsop county will spend $315,000 on her section of the same road; Multnomah county is spending $400,000 in cutting the road from Portland to the eastern line of the county, and it will spend about $200,000 more before the work is finished; Wasco county has but two miles of the highway and is working on that little link now. The highway to the east of Portland will unite the Columbia River district with Central Oregon, while on the west, it will be a beautiful road down the Columbia about as far down the coast as the Tillamook county line.

Within the past few days work has been started on the building for the new fish cannery and cold storage plant to be located at Bay City. The building will be 64 x 98 feet and among other up-to-date facilities will include an ice-making plant with a capacity of ten tons per day. The building will be used for handling Tillamook Bay salmon, both fresh and canned, and its estimated cost will be between $25,000 and $30,000. In addition to the main building, the company will erect a dock 32 x 80 feet for the accommodation of the fishermen, and will also build drying racks for nets.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court confirming the validity of the $1,250,000 of bonds issued by Multnomah county, clears the way for the disposal of the bonds and the commencement of actual construction of the great Interstate Bridge across the Columbia. The bonds will be advertised for sale at once and no difficulty in finding a market for them is anticipated.

It is announced by Manager O. M. Plummer, of the Northwest International Livestock Exposition that Montana is preparing to send a team of agricultural college students to the show, to be held in Portland December 7-12, to take part in the stock judging contest, and it is also expected that state will send a number of carloads of fancy livestock to the show.

It is proposed by the Salem Commercial Club that the commercial bodies of the state charter a steamer next Summer to transport the various booster organizations to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the vessel to be used as a hotel, or club room, during the stay in San Francisco, and to be so decorated with banners and electric signs as to be a floating advertisement of Oregon.

The newspaper is the representative of the home community abroad. Its pages reveal the whole life of the community. The advertisements tell of its commercial prosperity and the news service reveals the doings of the people. Since the pages reflect the entire community life, it is proper that the people should assist the publisher in making the home paper newsworthy and a financial success. The printing of a newspaper is an expensive proposition, a fact which many men have learned to their own sorrow. Hence it behooves every citizen to have pride in the home paper by subscribing for it, by reading it, and by contributing a news item occasionally. — McMinnville News-Reporter.
