Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Ely, residents of Morgan, were made happy by the arrival of their first-born, a son, on July 13th.

Miss Virginia Crawford returned home on Monday from a visit of two months with friends in Portland and at Tillamook.

Our electrical supplies are on display in the Scribner building. Call and inspect them. Heppner Light & Water Co.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Irwin rejoice over the advent into their family of a daughter born to them at Portland on Thursday, July 16.

J. L. Simpson and wife and their son and family returned on Friday from a visit of a week with relatives and friends at Milton.

Mr. McGraw, father of our city marshal, has been somewhat indisposed during the week, suffering a severe attack of stomach trouble.

If you want anything special in the meat line—crown roast lamb, mutton, English or French chops—you can get them at the City Meat Market.

Drs. Lowe & Turner, eye specialists of Portland will be in Heppner again at Palace hotel parlors Saturday and Sunday, July 25th and 26th. Consult them.

J. H. Kinsman departed on Sunday for points in Idaho where he goes to look up a real estate deal. He expects to be absent ten days or two weeks.

Mrs. Carrie Vaughn departed for Centralia, Wash., on Friday to be at the bedside of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Vaughn, who is very ill at her home in that city.

Peter Brenner is now in the midst of his harvest of 300 acres of grain on his lower Eight Mile place. Harvest is general in his locality and good yields are promised.

E. E. Miller, of Ione, came up to Heppner on Friday evening and on Saturday took back the Currin traction engine which will be used in the harvest fields about that place.

Glasses fitted by Drs. Lowe & Turner do not need the guarantee that goes with them. "There's a reason." They will be in Heppner every three months. Satisfaction guaranteed. Consult them.

C. W. Lee, of Portland, spent the past week in Heppner. Mr. Lee is a printer and newspaper man and was looking over a proposition in this line that he had at Heppner. He returned home on Tuesday.

Mrs. M. D. Clark and two daughters, Misses Mary and Marjorie, were passengers for Portland on Friday, beginning their summer vacation which will be extended by a stay at the Tillamook coast during August.

Charley Reed was the first farmer of the Ione section to get to town with a load of the new crop of wheat. The combine is at work on his place north of Ione and he is getting a yield of 20 bushels to the acre of good, plump wheat.

When you have used one of those electric irons you will never again be without one. There are many other conveniences also that the day current makes possible for you, and that will lighten your burdens. See Heppner Light & Water Co.

The Congregational church building at Condon was totally destroyed by fire one day last week. The fire was supposed to have originated from the burning of dry grass about the building by the fire department of Condon, sparks getting into the building unnoticed by them. The loss is partially covered by $800 of insurance.

Frank Rasmus made final proof on his homestead before Judge Patterson on Saturday. He has a good piece of land lying on the divide between Willow and Hinton creeks about six miles east of Heppner. This season he put in about 50 acres of grain, part of which he has cut for hay, and the balance, about 50 acres, will be threshed. From the sample exhibited to us, this grain will yield heavy. Besides raising some grain, Frank does diversified farming and expects to purchase a number of good cows and go into dairying along with raising chickens and hogs. He has the right idea and should be able in this way to make his 160 acres pay him well.

E. E. Rugg returned on Friday from a business trip to Portland. While on the way home he made a stop-over at Hood River and visited our mutual friend, J. R. Nunamaker, who is fast becoming one of the leading fruit barons of that section. Mr. Rugg states that the Nunamaker crop of cherries which were marketed this season amounted to 40 tons. Jim has also invented an apple grader that he is now having manufactured that works like a charm and is destined to make him much return in filthy lucre when it is generally adopted by the apple growers of the Pacific Northwest.

O. E. Freytag, of Oregon City, who will have charge of the arranging of exhibits for the coming Morrow county fair, departed for his home on Saturday after spending a number of days in this city in helping the Fair Board with the preliminaries of the fair. Mr. Freytag is secretary of the Oregon City Commercial Club and is also connected with the management of the Oregon State Fair, and is a very busy man but one that is thoroughly well equipped for the positions which he occupies.

Milt Maxwell, of Parkers Mill, returned from a visit of a week in Portland on Saturday. He was below to consult a physician and undergo an x-ray examination. After seeing the doctor it was decided that the x-ray was not necessary and Mr. Maxwell is taking treatment that promises to relieve him of his affliction. While below he made a visit to Roseburg where he has a small fruit farm, and found that section of the state pretty dull and business very quiet.

S. H. Holgate, from Siskiyou county, Calif., has accepted a position with Kinsman & Hall in the City Meat Market. Mr. Holgate was formerly a resident of Heppner, and worked for Mr. Kinsman, leaving here early in 1903. He has been engaged in the butchering and cold storage business, and also following other lines of trade since leaving Heppner. He expects to locate here permanently and will be joined by his family.

T. H. Williams, of Eight Mile, was in town on Monday and Tuesday getting extras and completing arrangements for the starting of the Nelson, Stanton & Williams combine which will begin work right away. This machine will have 800 acres of fine grain to harvest on the farms of the owners and Mr. Williams states that the most of it is now ready to cut.

Frank Stoops, a young son of A. F. Stoops who is running a well drill on the place of Ed Buschke on Rhea creek, got his hand in the friction clutch of the drill on Thursday last with the result that he is minus two fingers of the left hand. Dr. Chick dressed the young man's wounds and he is doing well now.

The early reports of the losses to the farmers of Sherman county by the hail storm of last week, were greatly exaggerated and according to the Grass Valley Journal will not greatly exceed $50,000. That paper reports it the greatest loss ever suffered by those people since Sherman county has been raising grain.

Remember that Drs. Lowe & Turner, eye specialists of Portland will be at Palace Hotel parlors Saturday and Sunday July 25th and 26th. They devote their entire time, effort and energy to the eye exclusively and you may consult them with confidence. They will be here every three months.

Prof. Frank Rigler, who gave the city of Portland its present system of schools, died at his home in that city on last Saturday afternoon after a prolonged illness. He was superintendent of the Portland schools for seventeen years and placed the public school system of that city on a very high plane of efficiency.

W. G. Scott, who was up from Lexington on Saturday states that the wheat in his section is turning out much better than was anticipated at the beginning of harvest and it is found that the crops are not shortened by hot weather nearly as much as it appeared at first.

Wiley Wattenburger came over from Pendleton on Tuesday. He will spend several days here looking after his property which he is having fixed up. Men are busy re-papering the residence and other improvements are being made.

Attorney C. E. Woodson has established a camp for his family in the mountains at Parkers Mill where they will spend the heated term.

Grover Swaggart, who is running a combined harvester in the Lexington country this season, has just finished threshing the wheat crop on the Andrew Reaney place. This turned out well and is all No. 1 wheat according to Mr. Swaggart.

W. B. Potter and C. F. Waters came over from Spray on Monday and spent a day or two in Heppner looking after business matters. They have up their first crop of alfalfa which was abundant, and other crops of their section give promise of large yields.

John Piper was in town Tuesday. He is busy with the heading of his big field of grain and expects to be threshing within the next week. The wind of Monday caused him to have a lay-off, but a few days more and the grain will all be in the stack. There are predictions that Mr. Piper's wheat will go 35 bushels to the acre.

W. H. Miller was down from Hardman yesterday. In his section the cutting of fall grain is now beginning and harvest will be general before many days. Mr. Miller fears the hot weather has shortened the crops about him quite materially, the spring grain especially, being hit pretty hard.

John Shaw brought in a carload of fat steers on Monday and they were shipped from the Heppner yards to Portland Tuesday morning. Mr. Shaw states that they have been enjoying some exceedingly warm weather out his way and the cool days of the first of the week are much appreciated.

John Brosnan of Lena is now the proud owner of a Case "25" which he purchased the past week from Vaughn & Sons. The car was brought up from The Dalles on Saturday by Charley Vaughn, and John is now handling it and cleaning out the rocks on the road adjacent to his place on Butter creek that the "sailing" may be a little smoother.

G. M. Rice and Nesmith Ankeny, of Pendleton, motored into Heppner yesterday evening and remained over night. Mr. Rice is cashier of the First National Bank of Pendleton and Mr. Nesmith is a bookkeeper in the same institution. They went on to the interior this morning expecting to visit several towns in Grant county before their return to Pendleton.

C. E. Jones drove in from Eight Mile on Tuesday. He states that his section is just now being invaded by an army of grasshoppers that blew in on them a few days ago. They came too late to do any damage to the grain crops but are working havoc on corn fields and gardens. They must have migrated from the Butter creek country as many of the pests have left that section.

Constable F. E. Druhot, of Portland, arrived in Heppner on last evening to get C. D. Ritter wanted in Multnomah county on a charge of larceny by embezzlement. Mr. Ritter is a young man with a wife and baby and has been working in this vicinity for some time, being thought well of by all who have made his acquaintance. He was working for Jess Hall at the time of his arrest by Sheriff Evans. He fully expects to clear himself of the charge against him when he reaches Portland.

LOST AUTO TIRE.
Lost on the night of July 8, in the vicinity of Lexington, one 34 x 4 United States Dunlop auto tire complete on steel detachable rim and in black rubber cover. I will pay $10 for the return of this tire to me at Lexington. ANDREW REANEY.

Gets Fine of $10 And Costs.
In justice court before Justice Cornett yesterday, E. T. Johnson was fined $10 and costs for assault and battery upon Wm. Salzwedel, a farmer of Clark's Canyon. Young Johnson paid the costs and is serving five days in jail to eliminate the fine. The trouble arose over the discharge of Johnson by Mr. Salzwedel and the latter suffered a badly disfigured countenance as a result. Salzwedel claims that Johnson struck him in the face with a rock, but this is denied, and Johnson was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery.
