WOMANS' ADVISORY COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Portland, Or., Sept. —Chairman: Moore, of the Republican State Central Committee, yesterday announced the personnel of the Woman's Advisory Committee of the State Central Committee.

The members are: Mrs. L. B. Bartlett, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. A. E. Borthwick, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Lulu G. Crandall, of The Dalles, Oregon; Mrs. W. R. Ellis, Portland, Oregon, (formerly of Pendleton, Oregon); Mrs. Ella G. Metzger, of Dallas, Oregon and Mrs. Emma E. Morgan of Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway has been appointed an honorary member of the Committee.

The Woman's Advisory Committee was created at the last meeting of the Republican State Central Committee when a resolution, creating a Committee of seven Republican women to co-operate with the State Central Committee, was introduced by Secretary Baldwin and unanimously agreed to by the Committee. So far as is known, Oregon is the only state where the State Committee has asked the women voters to co-operate in a campaign as an integral part of the State party organization.

The Advisory Committee will hold its first meeting next Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the offices of the State Woman's Republican Club, 350 1/2 Morrison Street, which have been tendered to the Committee for this initial meeting.

While no definite plans have yet been formed by the new Committee, it has been informally suggested that they will plan to organize Committees of women in every County in the State to co-operate both with the local County Central Committee and with the State Advisory Committee.

BUSINESS FINE IN DRY TOWNS

Arrests Fewer. Bank Deposits Greater

SALOONS ARE OCCUPIED

MERCHANTS ALL ENTHUSIASTIC
—BUILDING PERMITS FAR GREATER—STORY OF DRY TOWNS TOLD.

BY ORTON E. GOODWIN,
Publicity Department, Committee of One Hundred.

There is only one fair way to find out what Oregon dry will do for Oregon. That is by investigating what Oregon dry has done for those parts of Oregon now dry.

So far as can be learned in Salem, Oregon City, Roseburg, Albany, Eugene and other Oregon dry towns, business has been better in all lines, save that of the saloon, in every dry town.

Why, even in Pendleton, which voted wet after being dry, but which will probably vote dry, many merchants are now in favor of a dry town and declare collections were better, business better and bad debts fewer when the town was dry.

Building Now Better.

In Salem, building has been greater since the town went dry. There are but few vacant houses, and those vacant are described as "shacks." Practically every saloon has been re-tenanted by other lines of business, and one of the principal saloon sites has been replaced by a fine new building block.

Since Salem went dry a $20,000 brick building has been erected and a $40,000 business block is going up. Doesn't look as if dry Salem hurt that town, does it?

Better Building Results.

Salem went dry January 1, 1914. The building permits for the first eight months of 1913, when the town was wet, total $388,925. For the first eight months of 1914 they were $422,385, an increase of $33,460.

Another instance of a dry town helping business! Absence of the saloon always means better business, for the money that once went to the saloon goes into trade. Checks cashed once in saloons are cashed in stores—and part of them are spent there, in place of in the saloons.

There were 254 arrests for the first seven months of 1913 in Salem for drunkenness; in 1914 the arrests totaled only 47 for the same cause.

Stores Enlarge Premises.

The three largest stores have had to remodel their premises because of increased business, when other towns—wet at that—have been complaining.

In Oregon City arrests have decreased 60 per cent.

Violations of the state liquor laws (bootlegging and so forth), are now less than one-half.

You see the saloon men never used to obey the law—in a dry town they have to obey it.

Bank Deposits Increase.

Deposits in the banks have increased. There is more building. Bad debts are being cleared up. Collections are easier. Not one mill check has been cashed in a saloon. All business men say trade is better.

Which answers the question as to why the cry has come from all over Oregon for a dry town.

L. Adams, one of the leading Oregon City merchants, said:

"Since Oregon City went dry, business has much improved. Collections are easier. I have fewer bad bills on my books than I had a year ago. People now have a tendency to buy their goods at home. I used to cash 15 checks on mill pay nights. Now I cash 50. The abolition of the saloon has turned a vast sum of money daily into the channels of trade in Oregon City."

All of which answers the question of whether a town is better wet or dry.
