On Saturday of last week the Coos Bay band, of forty pieces, was entertained by the Portland Commercial Club. During their stay they entertained Portland at a public concert, thus bringing Coos Bay prominently to the front and offering some of the finest music heard in the city for many months.

STATE INDUSTRIAL NEWS

What Buildings and Industries are Doing to Make a Greater Pay-roll for Oregon.

Prineville needs more modern houses.

Gresham will soon have a new cannery.

Pilot Rock has great need of more dwellings.

A new Catholic church is being built at Adams.

Albany is calling for bids for a new $50,000 high school.

The Heppner Milling Co. distributes $10,000 annually in wages.

The new Pendleton hotel costing $130,000 has been opened to the public.

Work on the Sutherlin, Coos Bay & Eastern Railroad is being pushed rapidly.

The Sutherlin Railroad has been granted a franchise on Sutherlin streets.

McCully & Rumble of Joseph have just completed a concrete office building.

Joe Knowles got what he went after—publicity, the greatest Oregon product.

Portland will soon erect another 24 classroom school at a cost of $160,000.

The Willamette Pacific expects to have rails to Tidewater before the rainy season sets in.

The Marion county court house is to have a new heating plant installed by T. M. Barr of Salem.

Quarterly payments of taxes is a popular movement that would relieve industries in a practical way.

European War has demoralized the fruit industry and freak labor laws are crippling the canneries at home.

The Lebanon Lumber Co. will begin soon to ship logs to their mill at that town and the mill will be run to capacity.

Proposed plans for the improvements of the old St. Johns road out of Portland calls for the expenditure of $175,000.

Cyanide jumping from 19 to 75 cents a pound on account of the war is hampering the mining industry in Baker county.

During the harvest season to save crops farmers must work 12 to 14 hours. What will an 8-hour law do to the farming industry?

The Standard Oil Co. is preparing to erect tanks at Lebanon making this point the distributing center for that part of the country.

Portland Catholics are planning a home for Archbishop Christie and other buildings for 1915, total improvements to cost $250,000.

Wm. Kyle & Sons Co. salmon cannery at Florence has started operation and will distribute $20,000 to the workers during the season.

The enactment of nearly thirty new laws on the ballot this year would be an industry at the expense of all the industries, says the Oregon Manufacturer.

The La Grande $60,000 Elks lodge will be erected by the Palmer-Elisen Co. of Portland. It will have Otis elevators and finished in Seattle terra cotta.

The new Portland post office will have two floors devoted to mail work and seven floors of offices for the army of federal officials and commissioners at Portland.

Pacific Coast Manufacturer: Government ownership of public utilities should not be used to break down investments of capital in public utilities if Oregon is to prosper.

The state railroad commission has protested against a three per cent tax on freight shipments as a means of raising governmental revenue to offset the effects of the European war.

Bids being received for the reconstruction of the headworks at the intake on the East Fork of Hood River and construction of Main canal for an approximate distance of six miles.

Portland bankers recently returned from the banking conference at Washington, D. C. state eastern factories are running night and day to fill orders brought about by the European war.

The $75,000 rock crushing of the Cascade Construction Co. at Marion has begun operation with a payroll of 100 men at $6000 per month. It is expected to distribute 600,000 yards of crushed rock on the S. P. Co. tracks in Oregon.

The Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Co. will immediately proceed to enlarge its Hillsboro plant to meet the demands of the constantly increasing food offerings of milk. The new building will be of concrete 140 x 140 and when completed will give the local plant a capacity of 200,000 pounds a day.

During the past two weeks the Portland office of the Oregon State Immigration Commission has had a half-dozen men in the field listing farm lands for the benefit of prospective settlers, securing accurate legal descriptions, noting the physical character of the land and making a note of the price at which owners are willing to sell. These listings demonstrate that there is available at the present time plenty of good, productive farm land at reasonable prices in nearly all sections of the state.

GEORGE L. CLEAVER FOR CONGRESS THIS DIST.

Campaign of Dry Congressional Candidate Growing Strong.

La Grande Observer.

Indications from all over the district are exceedingly favorable toward the election of Geo. L. Cleaver to Congress. George Huntington Currey, Secretary of the Non-partisan Dry campaign to elect "Cleaver for Congress" says that under present conditions Cleaver would carry a majority of the counties and would win by a safe margin.

Geo. L. Cleaver is the "Dry Candidate" for representative in Congress from the Second District of Oregon. He has been a resident of Eastern Oregon for ten years and now has extensive banking and farming interests in Union county.

Mr. Cleaver is a Trustee of Willamette University, is himself a college man and has ever taken a prominent part in church and state affairs. He is progressive in his ideas, public spirited, versed in the needs of constructive legislation and favors all movements for the moral and material advancement of the people.

Mr. Cleaver in his platform favors state and national prohibition, national woman's suffrage, improved labor conditions, direct power of people in government, greater federal assistance for river and harbor development in Oregon, expansion of rural credits, conservation aiming at legitimate development, direct non-national initiative, referendum and initiative and election of the president, recall, a non-partisan tariff board, loyalty to our public school system, international peace through arbitration, Oregon getting its share of the National Irrigation and Reclamation Fund, and efficiency and economy in governmental administration and legislation.

Mr. Cleaver believes in his platform as outlined. If elected he will devote his entire ability to secure such legislation. Unquestionably he is the best qualified candidate to represent the Second District in Congress.

HOW YOU MAY AVOID THAT FALL COLD

A Cold is Not a Trivial Disorder; Also it May be Easily Avoided.

By Dr. R. R. Daniels.

The fall is a favorite time for colds, largely because at this time we both increase our food, especially our heavy foods, out of proportion to what can be readily used up in the body, and we close up our houses and by robbing the body of fresh air we decrease our power to burn up the heavy foods. The unused food in the body and the lessened activity of the body tissues, lower the body's disease-resisting power and a cold is the common result.

A cold is not as trivial a matter as most people suppose; not only is it a warning that the body's disease-resisting power is low, but many serious diseases follow in the wake of an ordinary cold. A cold is a disorder to be avoided; incidentally colds can be prevented. The first essential in avoiding colds is not to overeat, and to keep the digestion in good condition by eating only easily digested foods, avoiding fried foods and pastries. Chronic gas in the bowels, a coated tongue and a bad taste in the mouth all indicate that food is failing to be digested, is fermenting and decomposing and poisoning the body. Such a disturbance in the body frequently gets the system ripe for a cold.

The next essential in avoiding colds is plenty of fresh air. Colds are prevalent only during the time of the year when we are "hooused up." Ventilate your house or office by opening wide the windows for a few minutes several times daily. Get plenty of fresh air at night. Outdoor sleeping is almost a certain preventative for colds.

The worst colds of the season are often contracted just as the change is made from light to heavy underwear. It is a mistake to wrap the body in heavy, woolen underwear, to overheat the skin and render it sensitive to weather changes. Our winter underwear should be cotton and of fairly light weight. The skin should be kept active by a daily sponge bath or a thorough rubbing with a dry towel. Such care of the skin will keep it active. An active skin adjusts the body to various weather changes, and along with fresh air and proper food conditions will positively prevent colds.

The Bend Commercial Club has taken up with Senator Lane the matter of expending $450,000 on the Deschutes Reclamation Project. The Club asserts that the amount allotted to the Deschutes Valley by Secretary Lane, of the Department of the Interior, will be lost to Oregon unless it is definitely assigned to some project before January 1.
