IONE GETS REVENGE IN ELECTION DAY GAME

Egg-City Leads Score a Safety and Win From Heppner 2 to 0.

Two to nothing with the larger digits in favor of Ione was the result of the Election Day football game played on the Depot Grounds last Tuesday. The visitors scored the winning points in the first quarter when Hayes, the Heppner quarter back was downed behind his own goal line after receiving a long punt.

It was a game of see-saw from the first kick-off, with Ione on the aggressive throughout the major portion. Many forward passes were attempted by both teams but only a few were successful. In this department Ione excelled. Heppner resorted to, and made more yardage by line plunging with Adkins, Cox and Wright carrying the ball. The locals showed poor form in executing their end runs the interference not being as perfect as it might be. On the other hand, Ione made a dismal failure in attempted line rushes, and at times did not make yardage, but time and again the shifty Ione back field formed excellent interference and skirted the ends for big gains.

There were few offences on either side, and the entire game was free from the customary rag chewing and beefing. Heppner fans showed some disfavor when their team was penalized 15 yards after Hayes had tackled an Ione man who had signaled for a fair catch. Most of the penalties for off-side were paid by Ione.

Heppner's defeat might be attributed to over-confidence, but Coshow had strengthened his line-up since the first battle with such men as Bob Sperry and Ray Blake, and these huskies had to be reckoned with in the struggle of Tuesday. Blake's punting was of a superior quality, gaining more yardage than did Adkins by the same method. Sperry, however, did not do the spectacular, as it was at first feared he might do. He was slow on the aggressive, but proved a stumbling block in the way of the Heppner advance.

Heppner used the same line-up that entered the initial play at Ione, all of them being high school students. Ione, however, did not follow traditions long established, and in the last game entered men who have been out of school for several years. The glory of victory for Ione will be diminished with the thought that it was not alone through the efforts of Ione high school playing and spirit that won the game, but rather a borrowed aid. They should hold steadfast to agreement with their neighboring school in the future.

Officials for the game were Arthur Crawford, referee; Walter Cochran, umpire; Fayne Coshow, head linesman; Glenn Y. Wells and Rufus Cochran, time keepers.

Lexington Boys in Trouble.

Six young boys of Lexington were brought to Heppner Monday by Sheriff Evans and arraigned before Justice Cornett on a charge of demolishing a milk wagon belonging to Wightman Bros. The boys plead guilty and a fine of fifty dollars a piece was suspended for thirty days on the condition that the boys pay the amount of damages done to the demolished wagon. A seventh member of the hallow'een party, which made the jaunt up Willow creek from Lexington, made a hasty departure for other points and has not yet been apprehended. The boys smashed the wagon by running it down a hill over a high bluff. It can never be restored to its former usefulness as a milk wagon, according to the statement made by the owners before the Justice court.

John Volle, the oldest member of the Lexington hallow'een party, who made his get away after Saturday night's crusade, was captured by the deputy sheriff of Gilliam county at Arlington yesterday. He will be returned here to stand trial.

Governor.

City Aids Library.
At a meeting of the city council last Monday evening, an appropriation of $100 was made to the library association, for the year 1914. The city fathers also showed their appreciation of the library by deciding to levy a tax for library purposes in the year 1915.

DR. JAMES WITHYCOMBE IS NEW GOVERNOR OF OREGON

CHAMBERLAIN HAS SUBSTANTIAL LEAD OVER R. A. BOOTH AND SINNOTT IS RE-ELECTED IN SECOND DISTRICT—OREGON VOTES FOR DRY AMENDMENT.

Dr. James Withycombe of Corvallis was elected governor of the state of Oregon last Tuesday by a large majority over his nearest opponent, Dr. C. J. Smith, of Portland. Indications from over the state are that the largest vote in its history was polled, due to the suffrage recently extended to the women. Dr. Withycombe has been connected with the Oregon Agricultural College for many years and while there, made many friends all over the state. That these friends stood by him on election day is evident from the large vote he received.

N. J. Sinnott, representative from the second Oregon district, received the sanction of his constituents to return to Washington and Morrow county gave him a substantial vote. George L. Cleaver was his nearest opponent, running as an independent on the prohibition platform. Sam Evans, democrat of Klamath Falls did not run as well in Morrow county and did not receive the full democratic vote.

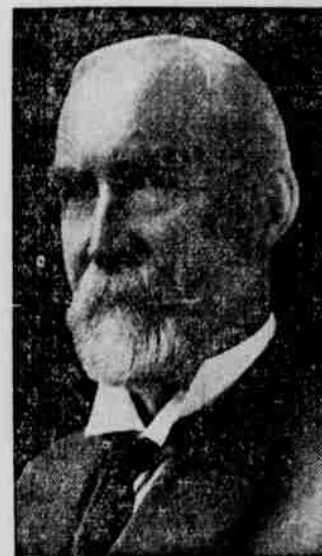

Early returns from the state indicated that Chamberlain had a lead over Booth for United States Senator by 10,000, due largely to the big vote given Chamberlain in Multnomah county. Later reports say that Booth by his substantial gains in up-state counties, had reduced this lead to 1500. It is predicted that Chamberlain will finally lead by a safe majority.

All other state republican candidates have apparently made a clean sweep. Thomas B. Kay was re-elected treasurer by a big majority, as was Frank J. Miller for railroad commissioner and J. A. Churchill for Superintendent of Schools. John H. Lewis was re-elected state engineer, and the measure which would make that office appointive has apparently been defeated.

In the first Oregon district, Willis C. Hawley, republican has been re-elected, and in Multnomah county, which comprises the third district, C. N. McArthur, republican, has won out over A. F. Fiegall, democrat, and A. Walter Laferty, independent.

The prohibition amendment carried every county in the state with the exception of Multnomah, and there the result was close. The wets figured they would have to win that county by 15,000 to overcome the dry gains in the outlying counties. In Morrow county the dries have won. Mt. Vernon precinct, the largest in the county, gave the dries a majority of 101. All other precincts in Heppner went dry with the exception of Gentry, which gave the wets 11 votes the best of it.

DR. JAMES WITHYCOMBE.
Successful Candidate For Governor.

A. L. Hudson, the Hardman merchant brought in the Hardman vote of Dairy precinct today. Dairy was the only tardy precinct.

Marsh White of Lexington, is assisting Clerk Hill in the official count of election returns. Alex Cornett is another member of the board.

T. E. Sheridan, of Lena, was a visitor in Heppner to-day. He recently returned from the mountains where he had charge of a band of woolies during the summer months and brought them home in excellent condition. He will spend a few days of vacation in town.

CONTEST FOR COUNTY POSITIONS CLOSE

McDuffee, Gilliam, Waters, Wells,
Turner, Chick and Currin Are Successful Candidates.

In the contest for county offices, the race between Frank Gilliam and Hanson Hughes for treasurer was the closest, and finally resulted in Gilliam's election. Hughes ran well in Heppner and had a lead of 91 votes in this city. Gilliam, however, carried the majority of the out side precincts sufficiently to overcome his opponent's lead and piled up 166 votes to the good.

George McDuffee, republican nominee for sheriff carried every precinct in the county with the exception of Lena, which gave Hayes 25 and McDuffee 25.

The contest between Ed. Huston and J. A. Waters for the clerkship was close and exciting until North and South Ione were heard from and from that time on everything was Waters. Up to this time Dairy precinct is the only vote that is not in, but it will probably not change the general result very materially. The total of votes, without Dairy, which has a vote of about 200, gives Waters 936 and Huston 553.

Loy Turner received an overwhelming vote for surveyor. He had both the republican and democratic endorsement. He received a majority of 250 votes in Mt. Vernon precinct alone. His total, without Dairy is 1265 as to 252 for John Ritchie, his socialist opponent. Mr. Ritchie received a very flattering vote in his home precinct, South Ione.

Dr. C. C. Chick, of Ione, republican candidate for coroner, was elected over his opponent, Dr. A. D. McMurdo, of Heppner.

In the race for county commissioner, Geo. J. Currin, republican, defeated Jeff Jones, democrat.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By Supt. S. E. Notsen.

Miss Zena Houser teaches the school in District No. 14. The enrollment is eleven. The building has been remodeled so as to admit the light from the left and rear. An excellent stable has been built for the horses of those who ride to school. A new water tank has been purchased, and the pupils have individual cups. There is a good flag, and it is properly displayed. The teacher and pupils are determined to make the school a standard school if possible, and the people of the district are co-operating.

In District No. 59, Miss Florence Pifer is the teacher. The enrollment is 15. The building has been newly painted. A patent heating and ventilating plant has been purchased and will be installed soon. A vessel of water is kept on the stove to furnish moisture for the atmosphere of the room. A spring near the school has been walled up, and the water is piped to the school grounds. There is a good case for the library books.

Mrs. Louise Ritchie teaches the school in District No. 50. The enrollment is 13. The windows are provided with adjustable canvas shades. The stove is surrounded by a jacket. An excellent framed picture of Washington has been placed on the walls recently. The library books are kept in a good case. The school is well equipped with maps and charts. The flag pole will soon be put in condition so the flag can be displayed.

Eleven pupils in District No. 27 are enrolled at present, but several more will soon enter school. Mr. D. C. Conner is the teacher. The out-buildings are good and are kept in good condition. Last year considerable apparatus was ordered but the greater part of it was not delivered. There is a new historical chart and a globe provided. A new dictionary was ordered but has not yet been received.

The Ione school, under the direction of Prof. L. A. Doak and his enthusiastic assistants, is entering upon what promises to be a very successful year. A new laboratory has just been installed, and the high school pupils are delighted with it. I noted that each room has a number of excellent framed pictures on the walls. Each room is trying to become a standard school.

In District No. 51, Mrs. Harriet Stephens is the teacher. The enrollment is 24. The interior of the building has been painted recently, and an excellent fence has been built around the grounds. The boys put up a new flag pole recently, and the flag was displayed. A vessel of water is kept on the stove. The boys constructed a sand-table, but no sand being available, the table was filled with saw-dust, which makes an excellent substitute. This school will soon close for the winter. More than forty visitors have been noted on the roll since the middle of June. This is the banner record for the county.
