John Connell, well known sheepman, has returned from Hillgard, Ore., where he spent the past year and is now located at Castle Rock.

Charles B. Ewing came up from his home near Cecil last Friday to attend to some land matters before Judge Patterson. He returned home Saturday morning.

Scott brothers, who until recently were farming the Kincaid ranch on Black Horse, have rented the Spencer Akers place. Mr. Akers will live in town this winter.

Dan Hanshaw and wife, of Black Horse were Heppner visitors Saturday. They recently made some extensive improvements to their home, by remodeling the house.

Eddie Reilman, well known farmer in the Ione section, attended to some matters of business in Heppner last Thursday. He paid this office a pleasant call while in the city.

J. H. Padberg and wife were in the city last Friday from their home west of Heppner attending to matters of business. Mr. Padberg says that he has most of his crop in, although it is pretty dry for seeding.

County Assessor J. J. Wells returned the last of the week from Salem, where he went on business connected with his office and to meet with the State Tax Commission which was in session there.

A. L. Sparling, well known in this city, has received a commission from the English government to buy cavalry horses, and is at the present time in Umatilla county looking for horses suitable to this purpose.

Dan Barlow was in town from his Rhea creek farm Tuesday. Mr. Barlow informs us that he has rented his Eight Mile farm and is devoting most of his time to his creek ranch. Seeding is now in progress. Mr. Barlow is another one of our farmers who is looking upon the future with an optimistic eye.

Frank Evans, prosperous wheat grower of Lexington, transacted business in Heppner last Saturday. Mr. Evans, who is associated with his brother Jeff, in farming north of Lexington, had four thousand sacks of bluestem wheat to sell this year. Their crop averaged in the neighborhood of 25 bushels per acre.

G. W. Huck was brought in from Parkers Mill this week with a broken leg. He was taken to the Heppner Sanatorium where he is receiving the attention of doctor and nurse. Mr. Huck, who lives at Monument, was driving cattle near Parkers Mill, when the horse which he was riding slipped and fell on his leg. Two bones in the left leg were broken.

A. W. Johnson, who owns the Hughes place above town, has been engaged this week constructing the chimneys for the new forges in Henry Ashbaugh's blacksmith shop. Mr. Johnson is an expert in this line, having learned the trade when he was a boy, and he never forgot it. In later years he dropped his chosen trade to take up the farming profession at which he is demonstrating the same marked ability.
