

$1200 WORTH OF FOOD-STUFFS LEAVES MORROW COUNTY FOR BELGIANS

Local People Donate More Than Car Load of Flour And Other Staples to War Stricken Nation—Aid Will Continue Indefinitely.

Food-stuffs amounting in value to about $1200 have been received by the local committee of the Belgian Relief Fund. Flour is the main staple which is being sent in to Portland for shipment to Belgium. The campaign for the starving Belgians has only begun and this is well, as it is estimated that it will require even greater efforts on the part of this country. England has recently placed in Portland $500,000 to be spent for food for the Belgians. This was done in order that England's rapidly growing army will not suffer for want of food.

Members of the committee from the Heppner Commercial Club have been doing a good work and should receive the highest praise. Sam Hughes is chairman and he has been assisted by Frank Gilliam, Chas. Thomson, M. D. Clark and A. M. Phelps. The following donations are reported by the committee this week:

Blind Man Seeks Degree at State U.
University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 11.—Thomas D. Cutsforth, of Riddle, Or., is blind, and for ten years has been totally so, but he is a student at the University of Oregon, nevertheless. "Blind boys and girls have to compete with people who see, so why not educate them along with people who see," he says.

Cutsforth is 21 years old, and is a freshman. His right eye was blinded by a table fork when he was nine years old, and the left eye gradually went blind through sympathetic inflammation. He was put into the school for blind at Salem and there learned the Braille system for blind and did school work as far as the equivalent of one year in high school.

Then he entered Riddle high school and in his senior year was president of his class and president of the student body. He did three years of high school work at Riddle in two years.

"The blind boy listens more attentively than his normal brother and all he needs is a little guiding to get him in and out of the school room," says this handicapped student, whose great hope is ultimately to see blind and normal pupils educated side by side in public and high schools.

PORTLAND NEWS LETTER

Portland, Ore., Jan. 12. (Special)—A conference of far-reaching importance to the Livestock industry of the Pacific Northwest was held at the Portland Union Stockyards a few days ago. As a result of this conference, arrangements have been made whereby it will be possible to send out 1,000 or more brood sows to the boys and girls of Oregon, these animals being treated for, and guaranteed against cholera. The sows are not to be given away, but are to be sold at prices ranging from $18 to $25 each, and in payment the Stockyards people will accept a note running from 8 to 19 months at 6 per cent interest, the note to be indorsed by the father or guardian of the boy or girl and approved by the county school superintendent.

The family of infant porkers will appear in four or five weeks after shipment of the sow, and the boy or girl will have plenty of time before their note matures to bring the pigs to a marketable age and dispose of them to the best advantage, paying off the note with the proceeds of the sale. In the work done by the hog clubs of the Northwest last year, an eleven year old girl at Washougal, Wash, made a clear profit of $79 on one brood sow. In this instance two litters, 24 pigs in all, were produced. Local educators have expressed the opinion that this is the most important step ever taken in this line of work, and, as far as known, the first movement of the kind ever started in the United States.

According to plans and estimates just completed by the Federal authorities, the proposed development in the Upper Deschutes basin will involve an expenditure of approximately $11,582,000, involving an irrigable area of more than 200,000 acres. If the work is finally carried out as now planned, all the surplus water of the Deschutes River above Bend will be used for irrigation.

Potato growers of Oregon are asking that a strict quarantine be established against all potatoes shipped from California owing to the danger of the tuber moth gaining a foothold in this state. So far as known, Oregon potatoes are now entirely free from this pest and the state board of horticulture has been asked to take such action as will insure future safety.

Prineville is making great preparations for the entertainment of the Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association which will hold a convention there, beginning February 9. It is expected that not less than 400 delegates from all parts of the Northwest will be present.

The Southern Pacific has announced the rates which will apply to tourist travel between Portland and San Francisco during the period of the great exposition, tickets to be on sale daily between February 15 and November 30. On 90-day limit tickets the rate will be $35; on 30-day tickets, $30; on special occasions, such as important conventions, etc., a round trip rate will be made of $26.75 with a 15-day limit and stop-over privilege on return trip. To the exhibition at San Diego, the road will make a round-trip rate of $52.25 with a limit of 40 days and stop-over privileges both ways.

Venezuelans Pay High Price for Oregon Apples and Salmon.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 11.—A can of good salmon retails in Caracas at 45 cents, and fresh Oregon apples bring 10 to 15 cents each, and any reduction in the cost of these staples to the consumer would immensely increase the consumption, says a letter from the United States minister in Venezuela. The letter has just been received by H. B. Miller, director of the University of Oregon school of commerce, which is conducting a worldwide survey for markets to which Oregon products may be sent.

"Lumber, print paper, flour, biscuit, lard, and smoked meats, from the Pacific coast are likely to find a good market here," continues the letter. "Preserves, canned fruits, vinegar and pickles, dried prunes, condensed milk, butter, cheese, tallow and hops, could also be marketed here to an advantage. Prunes are imported here now in glass jars or screw top tins, and butter in one, two and five pound tins."

Venezuelan merchants, this letter adds, are eager to get direct Pacific Coast connection for trade in coffee and cocoa. Director Miller hopes to see a lively business in canned fruits worked up with several South American countries.

G. W. Rutter and J. H. Campbell, of Lexington were attending to business matters in Heppner last Saturday. Mr. Campbell has recently disposed of his property, known as the Ham Burchell ranch. It is considered one of the best farms in the county. Chas. Way of Newberg, is the purchaser and he has already taken possession.

Andy Rood, J. L. Harry Duncan, J. L. Wilkins and W. A. Richardson, local Elks, attended the dedication services of the new Elk's building in The Dalles last Saturday. This is one of the most elaborate lodge buildings in the state and is a credit to the live wire lodge in The Dalles. Frank Turner has just completed a new barn on his ranch northeast of Heppner. The barn has a capacity of 15 tons of hay and will house 16 head of stock.
