Crock County, Supt. Fred Peterson, of Klamath County, and myself were designated as such committee. We met the delegation in Portland on the evening of the 4th inst. It is very probable that the bill will be modified to conform with the recommendation of the superintendents. The county unit plan of administration was discussed at length. The superintendents are not united upon this measure, and it is likely that it will be made optional if it becomes a law. All the superintendents except two were present.
I visited at Hillsboro a short time. While there, I had the pleasure of attending the meeting of the city council when the change of administration was made. A former Morrow County teacher, Mr. Harry Bagley, stepped down from the mayor's chair which he has occupied for four years past. Just before he declared the meeting of the old council at an end, one of the councilmen made a speech commending the work done by the retiring mayor and concluded by presenting Mr. Bagley with a fine loving cup, a present from the members of the council. It was a splendid compliment to the mayor. Mr. Bagley is an attorney, but he is interested in schools.
I also attended the Oregon Irrigation Congress at Portland. Any one who heard Hon. Duncan Marshall, of Alberta, Canada, will agree that it would have been a fine thing if every superintendent and teacher in the state could have heard his address.
LEXINGTON.
Dr. C. C. Chick, of Ione, made a professional call in Lexington Saturday.
A. A. Finley of Sand Hollow was a Lexington visitor Wednesday and Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burchell returned home from Portland Thursday evening.
Mrs. Anna McMillan has been on the sick list during the past week, but at the present time is improving.
Nels Macnussen spent a day in Lexington visiting his old time friends David Porter and Dan Summers.
Miss May Severance, one of the high school teachers went to Heppner Friday evening, returning Saturday morning.
Mont Bundy was trading in town last Saturday. He reports that crops are not growing very fast in his vicinity, South Springs, on account of cold weather.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Standish, of Brownsville, Ore., came to Lexington Friday evening. Mrs. Standish is a sister of W. E. and Ralph Leach. They left Monday for Pendleton.
H. McAllister, manager of the T. S. Townsend Cream shipping station at this place is taking a lay-off for a few days, and is visiting in Portland. His brother, Ray, is in charge during his absence.
D. J. Russell was out to Sand Hollow looking after the Tom Scott ranch, which he recently purchased. He returned to his home in Los Angeles, Cal., on Saturday morning.
Mrs. E. A. Beymer, who has been the owner of the Lexington hotel, informs the public that she has sold her property to Jas. Carty. The consideration was $1700. Mrs. Beymer has run this hotel for a number of years.
Evangelist Kellems has been holding the most successful revival meetings that have taken place here for years. Several people have united with the church. James McCallum, a singer of note assisted in the meeting with his singing.
Another land deal took place last week when Gene Gentry bought what is known as the Fuller place, which joins the town on the north. This is a good farm consisting of 620 acres and at the present time is being farmed by Frank Munkers, who resides on the place.
W. C. Gilbert, who has taken charge of the Andrews ranch arrived from Vancouver, Wash., with a car load of stock and furniture and other farm implements. He is having a new house and barn built. A force of carpenters have arrived to commence operations as soon as the lumber can be hauled.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By Supt. S. E. Notson.
On December 26, I left Heppner and the next morning arrived in Eugene in time for the opening session of the Western Division of the State Teachers' Association. The association was in session three days. A most excellent program had been arranged, and it was well carried out. The principal speakers from abroad were Pres. E. B. Bryan, Colgate University, New York, and Prof. C. E. Rugh, of the University of California.

Both these men proved to be able lecturers. As one teacher put it, "It is worth the trip to hear either of these men give one talk." On the sectional programs were some of the ablest school men of the State. The general discussions were entered into more generally than usual. The attendance was large. The faculty of the State University and the Commercial Club of Eugene saw to it that everyone was properly taken care of and made to feel at home.

After the adjournment of the association, I went to Salem to attend the County Superintendents' Convention and to assist in the work of the State Board of Examiners. The sessions of the convention were full of interest. Many questions pertaining to the educational work of the State were discussed. Several of the proposed measures for amendment of the school laws were fully discussed. The one which received the greatest attention is the proposition to reverse the method of distribution of the school fund. The superintendents did not quite agree with the provisions of the bill outlined by the Multnomah delegation. The Multnomah delegation were communicated with, and the superintendents were invited to send a committee to confer with them. Supt. J. E. Myers, of Crook County, Supt. Fred Peterson, of Klamath County, and myself were designated as such committee. We met the delegation in Portland on the evening of the 4th inst. It is very probable that the bill will be modified to conform with the recommendation of the superintendents. The county unit plan of administration was discussed at length. The superintendents are not united upon this measure, and it is likely that it will be made optional if it becomes a law. All the superintendents except two were present.
