John Glasscock has arrived from Portland for the shearing season and his crew will commence work on the sheep of Jack Hynd at Cecil. He will have charge of the Independent Shearing plant, which he has run for several seasons past.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Matlock, of Hinton creek were Saturday visitors in Heppner. They report that the cloud burst of the evening before struck their place, but outside of washing some gravel into the roads, no particular damage was done.

John Blake, L. P. Davidson and Willard Blake, good roads enthusiasts of Ione, were in attendance at the good roads banquet in this city Friday. Willard Blake is supervisor in the Ione district and he states that much good work has been done in that vicinity, but lately the operations have been suspended on account of shortage of funds.

H. V. Gates, president of Heppner Light & Water Co., came up from Portland on Thursday last and is looking after business interests here. Mr. Gates is greatly interested in development of the timber and coal industry of the willow creek basin and is arranging to get the fuel of that section into Heppner. It looks very much now as though his plans would mature and that the shipping of fuel from 200 to 600 miles by rail into this town was to come to an end.

L. E. Holt, former Morrow county resident, and extensive land owner here, is in the city looking after his interests here. He now resides at Newburg and has been teaching the manual training department in one of the Portland schools the past winter. Mr. Holt has entirely recovered his health since leaving Morrow county, which fact we are indeed glad to note.

Young Cloud Burst Washes Away A Buggy Shed on M. Kenny Farm.

A young cloud burst swept over the eastern section of the county last Friday evening and the creeks in this locality were running over their banks for a few hours. The heavy part of the storm hit on the divide between Hinton and Little Butter creeks, and on the ranch of Mike Kenny the water was high enough to wash a buggy shed some distance down the canyon. Hugh Curriu reports that on his ranch the water got up around the sheep corrals, but no damage resulted. It was also reported that Walter Kileup had lost a number of sheep from the excessive downpour at his place, but it has later developed that this was a mistake as the water did him no damage at all. As is usual with such abundant precipitation, the roads in many places were filled to some extent by the washing in of rock and gravel.

Mrs. Harlan Entertains.

Mrs. L. K. Harlan entertained a number of the young people at her home in this city last Friday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Katherine Clarke, of Condon. The entire party attended the theater earlier in the evening and later at the Harlan home piano music and singing was indulged in, and a delightful lunch was served by the hostess. Mr. Ogden gave several violin selections that were much appreciated. Those present were the Misses Grace VanVactor, Leta Humphreys, Marie Hager, Sybil Hager, Lulu Campbell, Lela Campbell, Josephine Richardson, Virginia Crawford, Gladys Ham and Katherine Clarke, of Condon, Messrs. Loy Turner, Ray Rogers, Robert Young, Henry Cohn, Berl Gurdane, E. G. Harlan, W. R. Fletcher, A. E. Fisher and C. F. Ogden, of Portland, Marshall Phelps, Herbert Clarke, of Condon and Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Harlan.

Adkins-Jones.

A quiet wedding took place in this city on Monday evening when Cleve Adkins and Viva Jones were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city. Rev. T. S. Handsaker, pastor of the First Christian church performed the ceremony. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones, who are living on Eight Mile at this time. The groom is the second son of Mrs. Mattie W. Adkins of this city. Both have lived in Morrow county for a long number of years, all their lives in fact, as they are native born young folks of this section, and the Gazette-Times joins with their best of friends in wishing the newly weds a long and happy married life.

Christian Church Notes.

The Sunday School contest closed last Sunday with a victory for the Blues, who led by 240 points. The Sunday School has challenged the Christian Sunday School of Pendleton for a contest to begin next Sunday. Word has just come to hand that Pendleton has accepted. Next Sunday morning the pastor's theme will be "The Journey to Emmaus." In the evening the combined choirs of the town will render a cantata entitled "Resurrection Light."

High Water Kills Fish.

The high water of Friday evening killed several of the smaller trout in Willow creek. Most of those floundering on the bank and later dying, as the water receded, were from an inch to an inch and a half in length and of the Rainbow variety. Apparently the larger fish were not injured, and fishing will be as good as ever when the creek again clears up.

Warehouse Company Elects.

The stockholders of the Jordan Warehouse & Storage Co. met at Eight Mile on Tuesday and elected their board of directors. On Wednesday the board of directors met in Heppner and elected officers from their number as follows: D. S. Barlow, president; Theodore Anderson, vice-president; O. M. Whittington, secretary; R. E. Allstott, treasurer; O. B. Barlow, director and business manager.

Injured in Runaway.

Wyatt McCraw received severe injuries this week, when he jumped out of a hack during a runaway. Mr. McCraw has been working for J. J. Adkins on Rhea creek, and was driving one of the ranch teams at the time of the accident. When the team was running away, Mr. McCraw jumped from the hack and received a sprained ankle. He is under the doctor's care at this time, and is able to walk about only by the aid of crutches.

Horace Bennett Dies.

Mrs. Jeff Neal, of this city, received the sad news on Wednesday morning of the death of her brother, Horace Bennett at Dorena, Oregon. Mr. Bennett had been sick for a long time, and his death was not unexpected. Mrs. Neal having just returned from there a short time ago. Mrs. R. A. Thompson, of this city was a cousin of the deceased. Burial will probably be made at Cottage Grove. Mr. Bennett had a large number of friends in Heppner, where he made his home a few years ago.

Home Talent on the 23rd.

The fifth number of the Lyceum course is to be given by home talent. This entertainment is under the direction of Miss Marion Long, of the High School and will consist entirely of musical numbers. It is to be presented at the auditorium at the school building on Friday evening, April 23rd. This paper will present the program in full in next issue.
