LEXINGTON MECHANICS MAKE WAY FOR INCREASED BUSINESS

Owing to increased business in the lines of plumbing and auto repairing, Beach & Allyn, of Lexington, have disposed of their blacksmith supplies and material to Otto Robinson.

In speaking of the change, Mr. Beach said, "We expect to remodel our former shop and make it an up-to-date plumbing and machine shop, in which we will be able to handle our work to a much better advantage."

Streets Are Being Oiled.

Heppner streets are undergoing their annual oiling this week and the dust will be absent one during the summer months. The streets were sprinkled thoroughly with water before the oil was applied, it being the opinion of those having the work in charge that this is the best method.

THE BITTER ROAD.

Agitation for a good road between Heppner and Ritter started as far back as twenty-five years ago and from the Heppner Gazette of April 23, 1890, we take the following item:

"Money has been raised in Heppner to send Capt. Wm. Warren over to assist the Grant county voters in locating a route from Ritter to the county line of Morrow and Grant, to intersect a road from Heppner over the most feasible route. The Grant county court has ordered a survey of their part of the road and if our county court will do as well, we will in the near future have a good road from Heppner to Ritter. It is to the interests of both sections to have a short cut across the mountains. Every live citizen will lend aid to the project."

TO THWART STOCK THIEVES.

The Times-Herald, of Burns, Harney County, says there is prospect that the Cattle and Horse-Raisers' Association of Oregon will hold its annual meeting in that place June 14. The only thing in doubt is the co-operation, or more properly, the promise of attendance upon the meetings, of the cattle and horse owners of Harney county.

This association is one that has a work before it which local organizations of the same kind cannot hope to accomplish. As a preventive against loss of stock from range or farm the local associations can comb only the neighborhood, whereas the statewide association is able to employ men to watch the stockyards at market points and thus thwart the thieves.

It is good business sense for the stockgrowers and stockfeeders of interior Oregon to make such overtures to the Cattle and Horse-Raisers' Association as to secure the meeting there in June. All the association asks is that responsive and friendly spirit of co-operation be manifested by a promise to get a good attendance of stockmen out to the meetings. It ought to be an easy matter.—Oregonian.

ADVERTISER'S PROFIT BIG.

Merchant Starts With $1436; in 12 Years Sells for $35,000.

Eugene, Or., April 29.—Twelve years ago George Stanley invested $1436 in a small store on Willamette street. He became one of the heaviest newspaper advertisers in Eugene. Today he sold this store for $35,000. The new purchasers are J. H. Baker of Spokane, and P. P. Morrow of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. These men will take possession at the end of 30 days, and will be known as the Baker-Morrow Company, dealers in general merchandise.

"We were looking for a location," they said today, "and we sized up all the towns in Western Oregon and Washington. The liveliest town we found was Eugene."—Oregonian.

An Attraction.

There is nothing that so quickly arouses the interest of a member of the Knights of Pythias order as the story of Damon and Pythias. It is a story that never grows old by repetition, though more than two thousand years old. With this in mind the local lodge of the order is considering the exhibition in the near future of moving pictures of Damon and Pythias. The films of this play, of which there are six reels, have recently been produced at an approximate cost of $200,000. The production has been endorsed by the supreme lodge.

We have a fine new Bungalow, a good barn and two lots in Lents, Oregon, valued at $6000 to trade for Morrow county land. If interested come and see us. This property is not over-priced. SMEAD & CRAWFORD.

PORTLAND NEWS LETTER

Portland, April 27.—Governor Withycombe has advised that the entire state devote the period of May 4 to 11, inclusive, to the cleaning and painting up of unsightly back yards and buildings. Mayor Albee has designated the same dates for the same work in Portland, and to insure that the work is done, and well done, the Portland Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee from among its most energetic members to organize the different sections of the city into effective units and exercise a general supervision over the work.

It is almost certain that the present year will see a greater movement of tourists and visitors to Portland, and to all the other sections of Oregon, than during any year since the Lewis and Clark Fair, and a concerted and persistent campaign should be carried on to make city and state cleaner and more attractive than any other section of the Northwest. California and Washington have been wielding paintbrush and rake for a long time, and it only remains for Oregon to get into line and make it three of a kind.

The plan inaugurated about three months ago by the Union Stockyards whereby the school children of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, by signing a 10-months note at 6 per cent, could receive high-grade sows already bred and treated for cholera, has met with such unexpected success that it has been necessary to call a conference of the raisers of stock of that class to devise means for filling all the applications for stock. It is believed this campaign will be nationwide in its effects on the industry.

A movement has been started for the completion of the works of the Portland Cement Company at Oswego, which has been at a standstill for nearly three years. The buildings are ready for the machinery and the materials are at hand from which to make a high grade of cement. It is stated that recent sales of stock have been made amounting to over $300,000 and that the company has $50,000 on deposit. If the plant is put into operation it will be the only cement mill between Bellingham, Washington, and points in California.

On July 5, Portland will entertain a distinguished party of business men and financiers from China who will visit this section on a general business survey of the Northwest. Oregon's Oriental trade in grain, lumber and manufactured products has been increasing in importance for several years, largely as the result of a visit of prominent business men to China, and the visit here in July will be in the nature of a return call.

On June 2, 3 and 4 a great live-stock show will be held at Union at which not only the Grand Ronde Valley will be represented, but all other parts of the state. Profiting by experience gained during the past six years, the management is confident that the 1915 show will be by far the best ever held in that part of Oregon.

The International Dry Farming Congress will hold its annual meeting in Denver from September 27 to October 9. The program will be of unusual importance and interest and farmers in the semi-arid sections of Oregon should make a special effort to be present.

The Supreme Court at Salem has knocked out the freak law of 1913, placing all commission merchants under supervision of the railroad commission.

Olaf Bergstrom, Eight Mile farmer, was in town Wednesday, taking out a load of flour.

A. M. Phelps, merchant, went to Portland Wednesday to attend the State Sunday School Convention as a delegate from the Federated Church. He will return home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Frank Elliott was brought in from her Butter creek home last Sunday by Dr. McMurdo, and taken to the Heppner Sanitorium for medical treatment. She was accompanied by Mr. Elliott.

Erik Bergstrom, the Gooseberry farmer, was in our city Thursday last on business intent. He is rejoicing over the fact that the postoffice has again been established at Gooseberry, thereby making it much more convenient for the people of that section to get their mail.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the People of Heppner and Vicinity: Owing to the fact that the report is being generally circulated that I am contemplating leaving Heppner, I desire to inform the public that I am here to stay.

I have leased the shop connected with the Heppner Garage which is one of the best equipped automobile repair and machine shops in Eastern Oregon.

I have had years of experience as an expert automobile mechanic, guarantee all work turned out and personally inspect every car before permitting it to leave the shop, and make my charge as reasonable as possible, consistent with expert, reliable work, and assure you that I shall continue to do so.

Assuring you of my appreciation of your liberal patronage, I remain, Respectfully yours, JACOB KING.
