SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR MORROW COUNTY.

Oregon-Dakota Land Co., A Corporation, Plaintiff, vs.

Jesse P. Flaughter and Eva J. Flaughter; also all persons or parties unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in or to the real estate described in the Complaint herein. Defendants.

To Jesse P. Flaughter and Eva J. Flaughter, defendants.

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON, you are hereby notified and required to appear and answer the complaint of plaintiff, filed against you in the above entitled court and cause, within six weeks from the date of first publication of this summons, and if you fail to so appear or answer, for want thereof, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in its complaint, which is as follows:

That you and each of you may be required to set forth any claim you may have in or to S 1/2 of NW 1/4 and NW 1/4 of NW 1/4 of Section 12 and NE 1/4 of NE 1/4 of Section 11 in Tp. 1 S., R. 23, E. W. M. That such claim be decreed null and void and that you have no right, title, interest or estate in, upon or to said premises, or my part thereof. That plaintiff is the owner in fee simple of said premises and that you be barred, restrained and enjoined from claiming any right, title or interest thereto and that plaintiff have such further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof once a week for six weeks in the Gazette-Times by order of Hon. G. W. Phelps, Circuit Judge, made April 27, 1915, and the date of first publication thereof is the 6th day of May, 1915.

COLE & COLE, m6-j17 Attorneys for Plaintiff.

A TIGHTWAD IN TROUBLE.

We once knew a man who was too stingy to take the newspaper in his home town and always went over to borrow his neighbor's paper. One evening he sent his son over to borrow the paper and while the son was gone he ran into a large stand of bees and in a few minutes his face looked like a summer squash. Hearing the agonized cries of the son, the father ran to his assistance and, in doing so, ran into a barbed wire fence, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of pants.

The cow took advantage of the hole in the fence, got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the stingy man's wife ran out of the house, upsetting a four gallon churn full of cream into a basket of kittens drowning the whole flock. She slipped on the cream and fell down stairs, breaking her leg and a $10 set of false teeth. The baby left alone, crawled through the spilled cream into the parlor and ruined a $40 carpet. During the excitement the daughter eloped with the hired man, taking the family savings bank with them.

The moral is that every man should be a subscriber of his home newspaper.—EX.

The little town of Lewis, Kansas, whose population is about 700, has found an effective method of dealing with the cigarette habit without having recourse to passing laws. The young women of the town simply banded themselves together and refused to accept the company of any young man who was known to be a user of cigarettes. If press reports may be relied on, cigarette smoking declined amazingly as soon as the young men realized that the girls meant what they said.

This incident, of course, inevitably suggests the "lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine" movement of several years ago that was such a mine of rich material to every paragrapher and humorist and cartoonist. This movement was the butt of every joke that clever minds could devise, because it seemed to contain enormous latent possibilities for humorous exploitation. Nevertheless, it made itself felt, and the recent reverses that have been suffered by the Demon Rum may be traced directly to adverse public sentiment against the drinker—and particularly the adverse public sentiment of pretty girls.

It is to be suspected sometimes that young women do not realize the great power they hold in their hands—although it is probably nearer the truth to say that there are certain ways in which they are slow to wield their power. If every young man knew that drinking and cigarette smoking and other evil habits made him loathsome in the eyes of all pretty girls of his town he would probably show much greater fondness for the straight and narrow path than at present.—Eugene Register.

Le Roy Jones and family returned to Heppner on Saturday from Eugene where they have been living for the past ten months. They will take up their residence here again.

Gene Penland left last week for McMinnville where he will engage in business with John Kinsman. He made the trip overland to The Dalles, taking with him one of Mr. Kinsman's horses. Mrs. Kinsman has also joined her husband in the Willamette Valley city.
