TIME TO CUT HAY TO SECURE RIGHT QUALITY.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 24.—"Cut hay in the morning after the dew is off and rake into windrows as soon as the leaves are thoroughly wilted. Legumes (clover, alfalfa, etc.) especially lose their leaves readily and should be cured in windrow and cocks and not in swath. Two or three days in cocks should cure clover hay enough for the mow. Be sure all outside moisture (rain and dew) are off and little danger will be experienced in mow burning, providing the crop was cut at the proper stage. You can't afford to lose the leaves by swath curing. They represent a large per cent of the nutritive value of the hay."

These are the views of J. E. Larson field crop extension specialist of the Oregon Agricultural College, on the best time to cut hay. Mr. Larson continues as follows:

"If grains are cut for hay, cut in late milk or early dough stage. Allow to wilt and cure some in windrow, then put into cocks of good size, well built and solid. The same method will apply to grasses except that they are often put in the hay mow from the windrow. Hay cut at the proper stage, and cured and stored without burning out will take the place of some of the grain feed. Quality is important in hay making."

OREGON HENS LEAD IN SIXTH MONTH OF CONTEST.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 24.—The sixth report of the world egg-laying contest at the Panama-Pacific Exposition shows that the O. A. C. Leghorns led with 208 eggs and the crosses were second with 188. The barred rock dropped back one place in the race.

For the term record at this, the middle point of the race, the Canada pen of Adams' White Wyandottes is still in the lead with 773 eggs, while the O. A. C. Leghorns are in second place and have all but overhauled their splendid competitors. Last month the Leghorns were 47 eggs behind their rivals, this month they are but five behind. The O. A. C. crosses are third with 712 eggs, having advanced from fifth place last month. The O. A. C. Barred Rock are now fifth in the term records with 694.

There are sixty pens in the contest. The lowest record is 127 eggs for the six months, made by a San Francisco flock. The O. A. C. Leghorns and crosses are now ahead of any other pens from the United States or England.

The encouraging thing about the O. A. C. flock is that the three pens stand close together right near the top. They were bred by the same selective method and results show beyond question that the breeding has been good.

The highest individual record is that of the New York Leghorn with 111 eggs for the six months. Two O. A. C. crosses are tied for second with 107 eggs each. The third highest is an O. A. C. Leghorn with 105 eggs, and another Oregon Leghorn is sixth with 95 eggs.
