NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Public notice is hereby given as required by law that sealed bids will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners until 10:30 A. M. Saturday, August 21, 1915, at which time said bids will be opened covering the construction of a change in County Road No. 319 South from Parkers Mill, Oregon.

The map, plans, estimates and specifications for the construction of said road are on file in the office of the County Clerk of Morrow County, Oregon, at Heppner, Oregon, and a complete copy will be furnished prospective bidders for the sum of $10.00.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Bids must be sealed and marked "Proposal for the construction of change in Road No. 319."

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by a certified check made payable to the County Treasurer of Morrow County, Oregon, for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid based upon the approximate estimate. The checks of the lowest acceptable bidder and also of the next lowest bidder will be held until the contract is signed, which checks shall be forfeited to the County in case the award is made to them and they shall fail, neglect or refuse for a period of five days, after the award is made, to enter into a contract and file a bond as prescribed by law, and to the satisfaction of the County Court.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners of Morrow County, Oregon, entered July 31, 1915.

Attest: J. A. WATERS, Clerk.

SOME OF THE BEST FROM "JUDGE"

Father Gapsed.

Supper was in progress, and the father was telling about a row which took place in front of his store that morning:

"The first thing I saw was one man deal the other a sounding blow, and then a crowd gathered. The man who was struck ran and grabbed a large shovel he had been using on the street and rushed back, his eyes blazing fiercely. I thought he'd surely knock the other man's brains out, and I stepped right in between them."

The young son of the family had become so hugely interested that he had stopped eating his pudding. So proud was he of his father's valor, his eyes fairly shone, and he cried, "He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he, father?"

Father looked at him long and earnestly, but the lad's countenance was frank and open.

Father gapsed slightly and resumed his supper. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Hurt His Feelings.

Lytway, the butcher had been very busy for a few moments with a well-known dictionary. Suddenly he closed it with a snap and glowered at his wife in the cash desk.

"That Mrs. Smarte is getting too clever," he growled.

"What's the matter?" asked the good lady, surprised at this criticism of a good customer.

"When she came in just now, she told me I ought to rename my scales the Ambuscade brand."

"Well, why?"

"I've just looked up the word," went on the infuriated man, "and the dictionary says that ambuscade means 'to lie in wait.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Light-Fingered.

At a dinner given by the prime minister of a little kingdom in Ruritania, a diplomat complained to his host that the minister of justice, who had been sitting on his left, had stolen his watch.

"Ah, he shouldn't have done that!" said the prime minister in tones of annoyance. "I will get it back for you."

Sure enough, toward the end of the evening, the watch was returned to its owner.

"And what did he say?" asked the diplomat.

"Sh-h!" cautioned the host, glancing anxiously about him. "He doesn't know that I have got it back." — Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

His Opinion.

"What," demanded the ancient maiden, who was in deadly earnest, but painfully uncomely, "would you think of a pert young stenographer who makes a practice of coming to the office with her blond hair coiffured in the latest mode and her face besmeared with powder and rouge, with a waist of almost transparent material, and her skirt so short that it exposes her silk clad ankles to a shocking extent?"

"Well," with suspicious calmness replied J. Fuller Gloom, "I should say that she would be worth watching."

He Let It Go.

Fault-finder (in front of dairy restaurant)—I notice the word dairy on your new sign is spelled d-i-a-r-y.

Proprietor—I know it is. I was going to have it changed, but the painter convinced me his way of spelling the word was more suggestive.

Fault-finder—More suggestive? Proprietor—Yes; he said it conveyed the idea of putting things down.
