A sample of Soudan grass is at present on display at this office, with instructions that the same be turned over to Secretary Smead of the Fair Board to be placed among the grass exhibits he is getting ready for the coming fair. This grass was raised by George Vinson, of Butter creek and stands more than seven feet high. Mr. Vinson had to gather it a little too soon and it is not fully matured. The hoppers had begun eating on the foliage and would soon have placed it beyond a proper condition for exhibiting. This grass makes two crops a year and is highly recommended for feed, being particularly productive on dry lands. Mr. Vinson is just getting it started at his place and this sample is from his first crop.

We are pleased to note the rapid recovery of Archie Barnard from the injuries received recently in an auto accident. He is about the streets again and expects to be able to assume his duties as proprietor of Heppner Transfer Co. within a few days. His uncle, Mr. Anderson Barnard, is not doing so well, however. His injuries were about the head and his ultimate recovery will be slow, tho it is noted that he is making some improvement.

Miss Florence Pifer finished a successful term of school in the Matteson district on Friday and departed Sunday for her home at Hood River. She will teach the Parkdale school in the Hood River valley during the winter and hopes to return for a summer school in Morrow county next year. Miss Pifer has taught school in various districts in the county for a number of years past and given splendid satisfaction.

Claud Andrews, the genial conductor and superintendent of the branch line train service, has concluded his vacation of several weeks duration, and is again on duty. He reports a fine time rusticated at the coast and seems to have fully recovered his health. His family will return to Heppner in time for the opening of school.

W. A. Williams, special agent of the Continental Insurance Co., visitor Heppner Friday and inspected his agency here which is in charge of L. W. Briggs. Mr. Williams makes his home in Portland. He is an old-time boy friend of Supt. S. E. Notson and these two gentlemen enjoyed a very pleasant visit in talking over old times.

W. W. Smead, Prof. Hoffman, Oscar Borg and Loy Turner got away on their deer hunt early Saturday morning. They expect to put in about ten days hoofing is over the mountains, and no doubt they will return loaded with an abundance of venison and big stories to back up their adventures in the wilds.

J. B. Culek and W. D. Gordon were in town Monday from Butter creek in the interest of a new school district being formed in their locality. They expect to have everything ready for the opening of a term of school by the first of September. The new district has at least 12 children of school age.

Louie Campbell returned to Pendleton Sunday to take up his work as saddle maker for the Hamley Co. for whom he has worked for a number of years. Mrs. Campbell remained at Heppner to continue her visit with relatives and friends here.

New line from Bartlett's Clothier Co. of ladies ready-to-wear clothes, just in. This stock changes every ten days. The Victor Ladies Tailoring Co.'s new Fall and Winter style book is here. Come in and see it. MRS. L. G. HERREN.

We regret not being able to mention in last issue the arrival of a fine baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sperry, Jr., of this city. The boy was born on the 12th, and Grandpa George is not done celebrating yet.

W. R. Irwin returned from the coast Thursday. He spent about six weeks at Rockaway and enjoyed every minute of the time. His family will remain there until the opening of school at Heppner.

Professor W. C. Howard and family have returned from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Heppner. Mr. Howard reports the children to be in excellent health.—Stanfield Standard.

J. B. Sparks returned Saturday evening from Portland with a new Studebaker "Four" which he will proceed to dispose of to some local admirer of this class of automobile.

Judge C. C. Patterson got home Friday from a stay of a couple of weeks with his family at the coast. He was accompanied by his young son, Baird.

The family of O. G. Crawford departed for the mountains in the vicinity of Caldwell grade, Sunday, and will remain in camp for two or three weeks.

The families of M. L. Case and Martin Reid enjoyed the day in the mountains Sunday, going out in the big car with Jake King at the helm.

The Misses Lulu and Sybil Hager, accompanied by their aunt, Mrs. Luck, returned home Friday from a stay of a month at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Olden were trading in Heppner Saturday from their home on Lower Eight Mile.

Mrs. Frankie Luper departed for Portland Monday to be absent for a time making selection of her Fall millinery.

Newly threshed grain is rolling in to Heppner every day from the nearby farms, and threshing has not really begun yet.

Sherman Leffler, who has been working during the harvest season in this county, returned to his home at Bingen, Wash., Sunday.

The Misses Josephine Richardson and Lela Campbell returned from their vacation, spent at Portland and the coast, Thursday last. They were absent for a couple of weeks.

H. A. White, real estate man of Portland, is registered at the Palace Hotel. Mr. White reports slow movement of city properties, farm properties being the desirable investment for his clients.

There will be a meeting of the congregation of the Federated church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, at which time the board will recommend a man for the pastorate. Every member should be present.

Wes Brannon, of Eight Mile, was in Heppner Friday. He has finished cutting 200 acres of grain at his place and is now making ready for the threshing machine. He anticipates a fair yield of wheat.

I. C. Cox was a visitor in town Monday from Butter creek. Mr. Cox has disposed of his ranch interest out that way to R. F. Wilesworth and is now looking up another location, being desirous of getting a small stock ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Brians, of Gooseberry, spent Monday and Tuesday in Heppner visiting with friends. Mr. Brians has not threshed yet, but states that his crop returns will be pretty light. He is contemplating getting hold of a farm in the foot hills south of Heppner.

W. L. Houston, contractor and builder, was in Heppner over Monday night. He had been up to Lexington to present his bid on the new school building to be erected there, and also spent a few days visiting at the home of J. J. Adkins on Rhea creek. He returned to Portland Tuesday.

W. H. Herren and family left for the Willow creek mountains Tuesday to be absent on a short vacation. Willard is not able to resist the call of the wild, and took along his deer guns, expecting to bring down some big game before returning. Mrs. Herren and Dorothy went out with Mr. R. S. Bohn, of Hermiston, in his Overland. Mr. Bohn, with a number of other Hermiston people, is camped in the mountains near the Herren mill.
