In Grammar.

"Now, Jimmie," said the Teacher, "let us take the verb to be. What is the past of is?"

"Was," said Jimmie.

"Very good," said the Teacher.

"And what is the past of be?"

"BUZZ!" roared Jimmie.

Unkind.

you have tried all of those.

The Wrong Man.

A lawyer, who had to attend court in Chicago next day, before retiring for the night asked the telephone operator to call him at four o'clock that he might catch the 4:20 a. m. train on the Illinois Central for Springfield. Accordingly four o'clock came, and the operator remembered the call, but was so drowsy as to err in the number, and instead of the lawyer rang the Rev. Mr. Jones. After she had strained the batteries several times, the minister rolled out of bed and somnambulated to the telephone and said:

"Hello! What do you want?"

"It is four now," the operator po-litenly replied."A funeral?" questioned the minister."You misunderstand me," answered the central."Miss Stanley," the reverend gentlemen repeated."No, that isn't what I said," exclaimed the girl becoming frustrated."Not quite dead?" echoed the minister in excited tones."You are quite a dunce," returned the operator fiercely."Me, come at once?" queried the sommambulist.At this the temper of the operator escaped all bounds, and she shouted,"You old fool, wake up; or else go to bed and hold your tongue.""Well, well!" exclaimed the minister awaking, "what can this all mean?" and he hung up the receiver."Yes," snapped the girl to herself, "That's just like a lawyer!"

There Was a Doubt.

Here is a little story that was told by Congressman William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, in gently throwing the harpoon into a lawyer friend:One afternoon a stranger debarked from a train at a bustling town in the west and headed up the street. Finally he met a party that looked like a native."Pardon me," said the stranger, halting the likely looking party. "Are you a resident of this town?""Yes, sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "Been here something like 50 years. What can I do for you?""I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?""Well," reflectively answered the native, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."—Philadelphia Telegram.

A Total Absterainer.

"Isn't your wife, sir, a little addicted to loquacity?""Of course not, doctor! My wife never touches a drop of anything strong."—Baltimore American.

Grateful Papa.

Miss Curley kept a private school, and one morning was interviewing a new pupil."What does your father do to earn his living?" the teacher asked."Please, ma'am," was the prompt reply, "he doesn't live with us. My mamma supports me.""Well, then," asked the teacher, "how does your mother earn her living?""Why," replied the little girl, in an artless manner, "she gets paid for staying away from father."—Argo-

CURE SUCCESSFULPhiladelphia, Sept. 25.—Physicians who have spent years in the study of tuberculosis declared today at the closing session of the seventh annual meeting of the American Association of Clinical Research, at the Hahnemann medical college, that the cure evolved by Dr. Jefferson D. Gibson of Denver, Col., retiring president of the association, is one that in 10 years ought to place tuberculosis among the relatively nonfatal diseases.Dr. Gibson mentioned the cure in his address opening the meeting on Thursday and described it in detail in a paper at today's session. It provides a cure by adding X-rays, ozone and static electricity to the climatic and dietetic treatment now common in tuberculosis hospitals.By this method, he claims, the presence of the disease can be detected in healthy, robust persons even before the well known symptoms begin to form and cures can be effected in advanced cases in remarkably short time.In his paper today Dr. Gibson said:
"It might seem that I have allowed my enthusiasm to run away with me in studying this cure, but I think a feeling of gratification at least, is justified when I say that out of 757 cases thus treated there have been only 61 deaths.""I wish to state now with emphasis that the X-ray will finally bring about the emancipation of the human race from this dreadful scourge. In a few years when the method is better developed it will be a disgrace for a physician to allow a case of tuberculosis of any kind to progress to an advanced stage, because the X-rays even now find the incipient tendencies, even before the symptoms begin to form."The following officers were elected: President, Dr. Coleman, New York, first vice president, Dr. William Snow New York; second vice president, Dr.
Leon T. Ashcraft, Philadelphia.Dr. Krauss of Boston is the secretary.First Picture Experience in "Commuters""I have just finished my initial experience as a motion picture actress," confesses pretty Irene Fenwick who plays "Hetty" in George Kleine's film version of the famous James Forbes' comedy, "The Commuters." "And the experience was certainly unique.
Acting for moving pictures should be incorporated into every course of training for actors. In no other way can you see your own mannerisms, your own characteristics, so well. You can see when you are exaggerating and when a bit of work is underdone without taking anyone's opinion for it but your own. Self-criticism is always the most stringent.""I think success in picture work depends more upon personality, on appealing mannerisms and true acting ability than on anything else; and while real success requires a direct and forceful telling of the story, there is, after all, far more subtlety and delicate delineation in good work than most observers fancy.""And it is hard work," continued Miss Fenwick who is appearing daily in "The Song of Songs" at the Eltinge Theatre. "Particularly hard on me, with rehearsals every day besides my regular performances. My only leisure is an hour or two after the theatre and Sundays. Thank Heaven for Sunday. That's a day of real rest for me and you can spell real anyway you like.""The Commuters" will be on the screen at the Home theater Friday and Saturday nights of this week.
