

WEEK'S NEWS. THE BEST PROOF

Local And Personal Happenings of Heppner And Vicinity.

Mrs. Della Hake was in the city Tuesday.

J. W. Cradick, the Hale Ridge farmer, was in the city on business Monday.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ashbaugh has been very ill the past week.

Mike Doherty, well known local sheepman, has changed his postoffice address to Nye, Oregon.

Mrs. Fred Elder has been confined to her home the past week with a severe attack of la grippe.

Dance at the Fair pavilion Saturday evening. Music will be furnished by Redifer's Orchestra.

FOR SALE—A limited quantity of No. 128 hybrid seed wheat. See Phill Cohn before it is all gone.

R. D. Watkins returned last week from the Willamette Valley where he has been visiting for several days.

Harry Johns, popular young man of Ione, was up from the Egg City Monday visiting with friends in Heppner.

R. L. Graham, who has been farming in the Gooseberry section, asked to have his paper sent to him at Gwendolyn.

Attorney Joe Nys, who was confined to his home last week with la grippe, has sufficiently recovered to be again at his office.

LOST—One sorrel mare, branded J cross on left shoulder. Finder notify Robert Allstott, Eight Mile, Ore. and receive reward.

Harve Coxen was a visitor in Heppner the first of the week. Mr. Coxen is a brother of J. B. Coxen, the Lexington barber.

Frank Hall, of the City Meat Market went to Portland last Sunday and spent several days in the metropolis where he transacted business.

Dave Dunlap, of Wabburg, Wash., is visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Crawford. Mr. Dunlap is a brother of Mrs. Crawford.

Mrs. E. R. Merritt is listed among the large number of Heppner people who have been suffering from la grippe. Her condition is somewhat improved at this writing.

Alva Jones and Walter Yeager returned home Monday evening from Portland and Eugene. While in Eugene they witnessed the big football game between the University and the Oregon Aggies.

Miss Ida Mae Johnson, who has been teaching in the Hardman schools, was called to her home in the East this week by the serious illness of a relative. Geo. Bleakman took her to Arlington.

Rhea Luper and family have returned to their home in Salem after remaining in Eastern Oregon for several weeks while Mr. Luper, who is with the State Engineer's office, has been making water right adjudications.

I. C. Cox, who has been farming on Little Butter creek the past few years passed through Heppner last week on his way to Monument. He has taken up a homestead in Grant county and will make his home there in the future.

Mrs. Jesse Hale went to Portland Sunday where she will receive medical treatment from a specialist. Mrs. Hale is suffering from a growing affliction on the nose and it is hoped that a specialist may be able to effect a permanent cure.

N. A. Clark, of Newton, Illinois, is visiting at the home of O. M. Whittington south of Heppner. Mr. Clark will be remembered as one of Morrow county's very successful farmers a few years ago, having owned property in the Eight Mile section.

Norton Winnard and Lamont Slocum attended the Oregon State Conference for boys which was held at Salem last week. Norton spoke before one of the meetings. Young men from all over the state were in attendance at the conference.

Dan Engleman is of the opinion that he has made a pretty good record in the painting line the past fall and summer. Of the four new residences which have been built, Mr. Engleman informs us that he has painted everyone of them, and consequently has been a very busy man.

Joseph Herald: The editor and family enjoyed a monstrous Thanksgiving turkey, the gift of brother E. M. Shutt, of Ione, who owns the finest dairy farm in Morrow county. It is a sight worth coming miles to see the editor of this paper back off a few rods and turn a double back somersault on a nicely roasted turkey—of course lighting on it with the mouth open.

Heppner Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—They brought benefit.

The story was told to Heppner residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is from this locality.

The proof convincing.

L. Greenwald, prop. shoe repairing shop, 414 Lincoln St., Pendleton, Ore., says: "Backache and soreness across my kidneys troubled me day and night. The kidney secretions pained in passage and the flow was too frequent and scanty. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me." (Statement given May 17, 1910).

DOAN'S MADE A CURE.

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mr. Greenwald said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and the trouble has never come back."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Greenwald has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHO PAYS?

Second in a Series of Twelve Dramas of Undiluted Realism.

THE THEME—Being a story of a woman who ignored her birthright, the privilege of bearing children; of how she repented, and how it was too late. Ramified by contributory circumstances in the form of a clergyman of the hell-fire-and-brimstone variety, a disillusioned husband, and an age of civilization that isn't.

THE STORY—A young girl, bubbling over with the effervescence of youth, has her imagination dwarfed, and her impulses blighted by a clergyman father who believes that the business of mortals on earth is to repent. The fact that repentance must follow Sin, doesn't in the least affect the benign clarity of his vision. But the Life Force mocks him mummery, and by stealth his daughter marries a man of her choice, a husband rich and devoted. But now her early life of restriction has fostered into an insatiable desire for the sweets of life, and she dances with folly in a mad and ever madder swirl. Her husband wants children; it's the "little things" that count with him. He gets dinner parties—dances—MORE dances, and all the rest of the flitting phantom life of Society.

And then, through a curious circumstance, she becomes imbued with a desire for motherhood. But here the God of Compensation steps decisively between her and her obsession. A fall necessitating an operation leaves her incapable of becoming a mother, and her spirit is crushed with the realization.

In this series of photo plays with a purpose, the conventional, sugar-coated, "and-they-lived-happily-ever-after" endings are relegated to the fairy-tales from which they emerged. The thin veneer of civilization is washed away in the fountain of Truth. Humanity is stripped of its dotting delusions. Truth walks naked. Dare you gaze into the pool?

At the Star theater, Wednesday and Thursday, December 8 and 9.

The next regular literary program will be given December tenth. At that time the Sophomore class will have charge and will present the play, "County Fair at Punkinville." An admission price of 25 cents will be charged. This will be one of the few programs this year for which an admission will be charged.

Doric Lodge No. 20, Knights of Pythias, are planning a rousing meeting for their next weekly session on Tuesday, December 7. Every Knight in the county is earnestly requested to be present at this time.

HIGH SCHOOL PARAGRAPHS

By LOREN MIKESSELL.

The football season of 1915 closed with a hard fought, well matched game last Saturday. Looking at Ione's record, the chances look rather dim for the Heppner boys. At the end of the first half the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of the visiting team. The Heppner boys came to the front during the last half and Hiatt scored a touchdown, so when the final whistle blew, the score read 6 to 6.

One big disappointment of the season was the small number of people attending the games. The team has never had the proper support from either town or school.

The athletic association has been fortunate in securing the rink for basketball purposes this year. The building will be put in shape for practice in a few days. The girls' team has already put in some good practice. Professor Motley, the coach, thinks the prospects for the basketball season look very bright. There will probably be four teams, with good prospects for a fast first team.

Lester Ingram has been elected manager of the boys' basketball team and he in turn has appointed Delbert Wright as assistant manager.

Last Wednesday the grave and dignified class, which sail under the banner of green and white met in Prof. Motley's office. We settled down to the serious task of selecting a class reporter. After a great deal of meditation we selected Althea Devin. A committee of two, consisting of Cornelia Johnson and Marcin Winnard were appointed to hunt up a suitable class flower.

Why is it every high school youth you meet this week is trying to beg, borrow or steal money? There is only one answer to this, the basket social at the auditorium Saturday night. As football didn't pay expenses this year, the young ladies volunteered to artistically decorate the interior and exterior portions of paste board boxes. The boys agreed to furnish the necessary currency to buy the boxes. In this way we give everybody a chance to have a good time, get plenty to eat and incidentally help to liquidate the debt. Owing to his vast persuasive powers and experience, Henry Peterson has been assigned the task of selling the baskets.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to take this method to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly and ably assisted us through our late bereavement, the loss of our mother, Henrietta Frost.
