

NEW LAW IS PLAIN

A. Any one person or family may receive not more than two quarts of spirits or vinous liquors not more than 24 quarts of malt liquor within a period of four successive weeks.

Q. Why was any amount permitted shipped in?

A. Because the constitutional amendment does not provide against importation, and many of our courts have held that legislatures cannot absolutely prohibit shipments for personal use.

Q. Why were two quarts and 24 quarts made the limit?

A. The limit had to be somewhere. It also had to be reasonable. An Oklahoma Supreme Court decision held one quart to be unreasonable and the law invalid because of the low limit. We made it two quarts to be as low as possible.

Q. May the carrier deliver liquors as other goods are delivered?

A. No. The carrier may not deliver intoxicating liquor until the consignee makes an affidavit setting forth the name of the carrier, the point of delivery, the amount and kind of intoxicating liquor to be received, the total amount of liquors of all kinds received by him during the four weeks last past; that the affidavit is over 21 years and is not a habitual drunkard. This affidavit shall be sworn to before any agent of the carrier who authorized by the law to administer the oath.

Q. What next is necessary?

A. The liquor can then be delivered to the consignee, but not to any person for him; and the consignee in person shall, upon the affidavit, receive the liquor.

Q. What happens to one who makes a false affidavit?

A. He is deemed guilty of perjury and is punishable by from two to five years in the penitentiary.

Q. Who furnishes these affidavits?

A. The county clerk of the county to the agent of the common carrier.

Q. Who is a common carrier?

A. An express company, a railway company, street car companies, stage lines, auto delivery lines, drays; but not private individuals, unless wholly engaged in hauling freight or passengers, or both, for hire.

Q. What becomes of these affidavits?

A. They are kept on file by the agent of the company, and are subject to inspection by any officer at business hours.

Q. Does the agent file them away?

A. No. By the 10th of each month each agent must file with the county clerk all filed affidavits, who must keep them for two years. When filed with the county clerk they are public records, and subject to inspection by all persons during business hours.

Q. What happens to the agent who fails to comply with this law in all particulars?

A. His violation of any part of it subjects him to the same punishment as if he should sell or manufacture liquor illegally.

Q. What if an agent knowingly delivers more than the limit within four weeks to any person?

A. He is guilty of violation of the act and will be punished.

Q. What if a person receives more than the limit in four successive weeks?

A. He is guilty of violation and should be punished; excepting wholesale deliveries of ethyl alcohol to druggists, and priests, ministers, or commanding officers of fraternal organizations that use wine for sacramental purposes, who may receive such quantity of wine for sacramental purposes as may be necessary, provided they make the proper affidavit.

Q. What happens to a person who receives liquor without these provisions being complied with?

A. He is deemed guilty of a violation, and will be punished by a fine of not more than $50.00, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than 30 days.

Q. May any other person deliver liquor to another in Oregon?

A. No one but a common carrier, which shall keep such records and comply with such provisions, may deliver such liquor; and if anyone else does it is unlawful sale and punishable accordingly.

Q. What if the common carrier knowingly delivers liquor to a minor, or to one who has not made the affidavit, or to a drunken person, or to one known to be an habitual drunkard?

A. The agent of the common carrier shall be fined as for an illegal sale.

Q. May the agent deliver to any other person than the consignee?

A. No not even to an agent of the consignee; and if he does he may be punished, excepting that common carriers may deliver ethyl alcohol to agents of wholesale druggists.

Q. May common carriers accept any package of liquor for shipment?

A. No. The package must be clearly marked in plain English letters of large size in a conspicuous place with the name of the consignee, the name and address of the consignee, the quantity and kind of intoxicating liquors contained in the package, and the place from which the liquor is shipped.

Q. What if such liquor not so marked is shipped? A. The common carrier is liable for accepting it for shipment, the consignee is liable for shipping it, and liquor so shipped may be proceeded against before a Justice of the Peace, City Recorder, or Circuit Judge, and ordered destroyed.

Q. May intoxicating liquors be sent through the U. S. mails? A. No, this is contrary to postoffice regulations, and will be punished by the government.

Q. Can a bill of lading or shipping order be transferred from one person to another? A. No, and no common carrier shall deliver any liquors on any transferred bill of lading or shipping order; and if he does he may be punished by a fine of not more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than 30 days.

Q. Can the law be avoided by having slight drafts attached to bills of lading of liquor shipments? A. No; for banks, individuals and associations are prohibited from handling or having anything to do with such drafts under pain of fine of not less than $25 or more than $500, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than 90 days.

Final Papers Must Be Shown

County Clerk Waters has given out the following requirements under the new registration law in regard to naturalized citizens and the families of aliens:

1. Naturalized citizens must exhibit "Final" Citizenship papers.

2. If the father of an alien became naturalized before he, (the child) became of age, he is a naturalized citizen, but must exhibit the father's papers or a copy of the same from the Court issuing them.

3. A foreign woman married to a citizen of the United States is a citizen.

4. An American woman, who marries a foreigner takes the nationality of her husband and must exhibit his papers; at the termination of the marital relation, if she continues to reside here, she may resume her citizenship.

5. Foreign born unmarried women must be naturalized themselves after they become of age, or by their father before they become of age, if married to a foreigner who is naturalized, she must exhibit his "final" papers.

6. Any foreign woman who acquires citizenship by marriage to an American, retains the same after the termination of marital relations. If she continues to reside here, and unless she makes formal renunciation of citizenship.

7. Service in the U. S. army or navy of aliens, does not, as is generally believed, imply citizenship, unless petition for final papers has been made and papers issued, such service eliminating only the necessity of "Final" papers.

8. Proof of filing on homestead is not sufficient proof of citizenship. Certified copies of "Final Papers" can be had by writing to the clerk of the Court where they were issued, if the originals are lost.

ford was known in this community as one who was always ready to serve those who were needy or in distress.

"Those who are in Christ have the promise of life everlasting. This is a coronation service. It is not a time for tears. Yet it is the most natural thing to weep. The sorrow for the dead is a sorrow from which we refuse to be divorced. The family circle is broken. Father's chair is vacant. But he left the body of suffering, realizing that to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. It was his desire to go. He had lived a long useful life. The body was tired. The spirit was anxious for its release. Of this life and his departure we may say:

"Life's race well run,
Life's work well done,
Life's crown well won;
Now comes rest."
