Train Kills John Neff.

John Neff, a section hand on the O-W. R. & N. Co. railroad at Castle Rock, was killed this morning by train No. 19 and was brought here until an inquest can be held.

Our information is that Neff was on a speeder traveling ahead of the train and it is supposed that he did not hear the train, which could not be placed under control in time to save him. When the collision came the speeder with Neff was thrown clear of the track killing Neff instantly. On examination it was found that nearly all the bones in his body were broken.—Arlington Independent.

Revival at Hardman.

Rev. G. E. Williams and wife of Portland, will begin a revival in Hardman next Monday evening, Jan. 3.

These evangelists are well known throughout the state and the people of Hardman and vicinity are fortunate in having them in their midst.
