MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

Thursday, February 10, 1916

Spring is on the wing.

During the recent severe weather, school was dismissed in many of the Eastern Oregon towns, but in Heppner the pupils were not required to miss one day on account of cold and snow. All of which goes to prove that Heppner weather is always a wee bit more moderate than that of her neighboring cities.

A splendid idea was advanced to business men of this city at the Commercial Club meeting recently when they were advised to spend less money for novelty advertising, such as key rings, pocket books, calendars, etc. Rather should this money not go out of town never to come back, but should be turned into Commercial Club memberships. In working for the interest of community development, this money will return to the business man again and again, whereas money sent out of town—and advertising money is the least amount on a long list—never returns. The slogan, "Keep Heppner Money in Heppner," might be a good one for our local commercial body to adopt. At least we might work toward the idea of giving our own legitimate tax-payer-business man the first chance at our patronage. Much could be said on this subject.

IONE ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mrs. Howard Lane and young son returned to their home at Lexington on Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Sparks and young son of Heppner, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Sparks' mother, Mrs. C. E. Slaver.

W. H. Padberg and family were down the end of the week from their home south of Lexington, and visited with relatives in Ione for a few days.

Amanuel Petteys, Morrow county pioneer, who has been confined to his home for months by severe sickness, is reported to be quite well again.

The many friends of M. R. Morgan are pleased to see him about the streets again after his long and serious spell of sickness. He is now entirely recovered.

O. A. Briens was able to get to town on Saturday from his home at Gooseberry. He has put in a good winter and is rejoicing along with his neighbors over the good crop prospects.

Jim Sturgill, who is employed at the A. Engelman farm, met with an accident one day the past week and is suffering a badly sprained ankle as a result. The accident was caused by the turning over of a hay rack while he was delivering feed to the stock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jakes, residents of lower Eight Mile, were Ione visitors Wednesday. Mr. Jakes is well pleased over the way the big snow is melting and running into the ground. Out his way the fields are getting the full benefit. He is also of the opinion that we can look for another big snow storm before the winter is over.

J. E. Cronan, president of the Bank of Ione, was enabled to take his departure for his Portland home on Monday, after spending about ten days at this place. He was assured that the line was open and that he could make it through to Portland without the inconvenience of stops on the way caused by the snow blockades.

Leonard Carlson was in town from Gooseberry on Tuesday. He states that the chinook petered out in their section and left a shell of ice on top of the snow about an inch in thickness and of sufficient strength to bear a man up. The work of thawing seemed to be going on, however, underneath, and the water gradually soaking into the ground.

J. H. Wyland, of Rock creek, who is feeding a band of 900 head of ewes on the Lum Rhea place, was down to Ione Wednesday. He states that his stock are making it through the winter O. K., and that he has suffered no loss whatever, even though he has had to rustle some for feed. Mr. Wyland has not been without feed at any time, however, and expects to get through in fine shape, even though we should experience more bad storms.

During the recent bad weather J. W. Puyear has been acting the part of Good Samaritan and carrying out feed to the Chinese pheasants scattered along the creek in this vicinity. These birds have been gradually increasing, and like many others, Mr. Puyear is anxious to have them get more numerous. The heavy snow and cold weather has been pretty hard on them and it was necessary to see that they had feed. Others interested assisted Mr. Puyear in getting the grain.

From reports it is learned that the rabbits have been largely exterminated in the vicinity of Morgan and Cecil. The cold weather and deep snows drove the animals down to the creek in large numbers, and this made the task of poisoning them an easy one. Conditions have been such that it was the opportune time to get rid of the pest, and there should have been no let up until the job was thoroughly done, and no stragglers left to propagate the race.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of George M. Calkins on Tuesday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Calkins and Mrs. Maggie Barnett. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Jones. Mr. Calkins is engaged in the dray business in Ione, and the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Emma Allyn, of this place. The newly weds were treated to a lively charivari by the young folks of the town and are busy receiving the congratulations of their friends.

F. M. Broady was in Ione from his Morgan home the last of the week. His numerous friends here will be glad to hear that Mr. Broady has pretty well recovered from his long spell of severe sickness. He has been absent from the county for some time, taking treatment. At the time of his departure there was grave doubt entertained as to his recovery. While far from being a well man yet, he is hopeful that his improvement is of a permanent nature and that his ultimate restoration to health is only a matter of a short time.

A number of her lady friends gave Mrs. Cynthia Walker a very pleasant surprise on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being her 50th birthday. The ladies came with their fancy work and spent an enjoyable afternoon which was closed by serving a light lunch of chocolate and cake, brought in and prepared by the visitors. Mrs. Walker was taken completely by surprise, and she declares that she will from now on have no more birthdays in the hope that she may never grow older, and in this wish her friends heartily join. Those present were Mesdames E. R. Lundell, O. A. Forbes, Harry Fletcher, Henry Clark, J. W. Puyear, Vawter Crawford, Frank Engelman, F. W. Sears, C. W. Reynolds, M. B. Haines and C. C. Chick.

The Womens' Christian Board of Missions gave a pleasant evening's entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reynolds on Friday last. The occasion was the regular meeting of the society, and the ladies were permitted to bring their male escorts. The topic of the evening was "India," the program proper following a short business meeting. After the program followed a social time and the serving of light refreshments. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. F. Engelman's division and the following program rendered: Hymn and prayer. Scripture reading, the 25th Psalm. A paper, "C. W. B. M. Work in India," by Mrs. Mary Petteys. Bible study, "The Boy Samuel," by Mrs. Cynthia Walker. Solo, "Touch of His Hand on Mine," Clarence Reynolds. A paper, "Childhood in India," by Mrs. F. W. Sears. Reading, "The Last of These," by Mrs. C. W. Reynolds. Benediction. The social hour was spent in music and innocent games in which all took part to their mutual enjoyment. Chas. Chick presided at the piano.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Barbo Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not tub off.
