HEPPNER 25 YEARS AGO

From the Gazette of April 16, 1891.

Senator Henry Blackman left yesterday for Portland, remaining over one day. From there he will take the fast mail for Hot Springs, Arkansas, for the benefit of his health. He expects to be gone about a month, and will take a course of treatment. We commend the Senator to the Arkansas people (as it is democratic about 40,000) as he is of the same political faith. We wish him a pleasant trip and speedy recovery.

The editor of this paper was shown an oil painting last week, representing a sunset scene in Scotland, which was executed by Mrs. B. F. Swaggart. Mrs. Swaggart took her first lesson in painting only recently, but this picture is an excellent piece of work, showing both taste and talent.

Levi Shaner came in from Spokane Thursday evening. He and W. J. Shaner have located an opal mine over in the Blue Mountains, about thirty miles from Heppner and 12 miles from Hardman. The stone is of the finest quality and will take a great polish. He thinks there is quite a quantity of it there. He sold one small polished stone for $10. The reporter was shown some of the samples and they were beautiful gems indeed.

Not a ripple disturbs the equanimity of Heppner, not a "josh" or a horse laugh is heard. Tom Morgan has gone to Burns.

Last Friday, Gilliam county road viewers were at work looking over a proposed road from Condon to the head of Dry Fork, intersecting the Heppner road at that place. The people of Dry Fork want a postoffice, and are willing to join the citizens of Lone Rock in a petition for a mail route direct from Heppner. This will prove a great convenience to Heppner, Condon and all intermediate points.

"But Preparedness Willie was already bustling swiftly about the room.

"I'm goin' to put on my pants," he said, "and line 'em with a newspaper."—Washington Star.

Phoney Stuff.

"Hello! Give me Main, one, triple ought."

"I beg your pardon?"

"Didn't yuh get it? One, zero, zero, zero, Main."

"I don't understand you."

"I want Main, one double nought, nought."

"What?"

"One thousand Main. Ten hundred Main. Now do you get it?"

"Oh, you mean Main, one, ought, double ought. Why didn't you say so!"—Line's busy.—Chaparral.

And Then She Blushed.

A party of strangers were visiting at the college. It was in the late fall and the air was crisp and cold. One of the members of the party, a charming young woman, was escorted through the grounds by a learned but very much preoccupied professor. Suddenly two members of the track team, accoutred for their sport, passed them.

"It's dreadfully cold," remarked the young woman, with a dainty shiver, as she gazed after the runners, "to be without stockings."

The professor's mind, deep in contemplation of the fourth dimension, was attracted by the sound of the girl's voice.

"Then why," he asked absently, "did you leave them off?"—Youth's Companion.

His Number.

Teacher—I'm surprised at you, Sammy Wicks, that you cannot tell me when Christopher Columbus discovered America? What does the chapter heading of the week's lesson read?

Sammy—"Columbus—1492."

Teacher—Well, isn't that plain enough? Did you never see it before?

Sammy—Yes'm, yes'm; but I always thought it was his telephone number.—Harper's Magazine.

A. W. Sims and son Clifford of Eugene passed through Heppner last Saturday by auto. They are making a tour of Eastern Oregon and spent some time at Prineville, where Mr. Sims has extensive interests. Clifford Sims will be remembered by his many friends here as the husband of Marie Hager Sims. He is employed in the First National Bank of Eugene where he and Mrs. Sims now make their home.

Natt Shaw, well known farmer of Clarks Canyon, was in the city Saturday on business. While in town, Mr. Shaw made arrangements for advertising some dairy cows which he wishes to sell. These cows are high grade Holstein-Jerseys and Mr. Shaw is only selling them because he is overstocked. See his advertisement in another column of this paper.

OREGON FACE TO FACE WITH A Farmers Must be Enabled to Borrow

Martin Reid, local lumberman, went to Portland Saturday to spend a few days on business.

THE BEST FROM JUDGE

Unconscious Joker.

What the case was about no one seemed to know exactly. The lawyers themselves were pretty well mixed up.

Then an important witness entered the box and was presently asked to tell the court the total of his gross income.

He refused; the counsel appealed to the judge.

"You must answer the question," said the judge sternly.

The witness fidgeted about and then burst out with:

"But—But, your honor, I have no gross income. I'm a fisherman, and it's all net."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Safety First.

Landlady—Who are you?
New Guest—I am a performer.
"What do you do?"

"I escape from tight places."
"Without anybody seeing you do it?"

"Yes."
"Well, if that's the case you'll have to pay in advance."—Youngtown Telegraph.

Didn't Need One.

"Do you have to put a scarecrow out in the cornfield to keep away the birds?" asked the city man.

"Oh, no," replied the farmer, taking another pull at his pipe. "My wife's out there every day, hoeing."—Yonkers Statesman.

Suspicion.

Mrs. Yeast—A woman of Stoughton, Wis., a few days ago used a telephone for the first time in her 91 years.

Mr. Yeast—First day she hadn't found the "line busy," I suppose.—Yonkers Statesman.

The Two Urchins.

Representative Gardner, in an address in Providence on preparedness, said:

"Before the looming danger of invasion the pacifist and the preparedness chap are, respectively, like Willie and Johnny.

"Willie and Johnny had been very naughty and were sent to bed by their mother. As they lay side by side footsteps were heard—it was now evening—and the two culprits realized that their father was mounting the stairs. They turned pale.

"I'm goin' to fold my hands as if I'd been prayin'," said Pacifist Willie, "and then I'll pretend to be asleep when he comes in."
