HEPPNER 25 YEARS AGO

From the Gazette of May 14, 1891. Heppner presented a lively appearance Tuesday morning and indications are that times are growing better.

Barney F. Doherty and brother, J. G. Doherty have taken their sheep to the cool slopes of the mountains for feed and many of our sheepmen are following their example having finished shearing. However there are many bands yet waiting the hands of our "hundred strikers."

Chas. Royse, representing C. S. VanDyyn's Heppner establishment and T. W. Ayers, of the City Drug Store, left for Long Creek and adjacent country Monday morning. Our people are appreciating the necessity of reaching out for a share of Grand trade.

The baggage car of the east-bound passenger on the main line, was derailed below the Willows last Tuesday. A cow was caught in a cut by the train and attempted the dangerous feat of passing between the cars while in motion. It resulted disastrously for the bovine and came near wrecking the whole train. The accident however delayed the train only a short time.

The Gazette will miss the bright illustrated weekly, the West Shore, which has suspended publication after many years of hard work. The West Shore Pub. Co. made a mistake when they relieved the founder of the Journal, L. Samuels, of the management. He was a practical, wide-awake man.

The Morning Tribune is the name of the new democratic daily which will soon make its appearance at Pendleton.

E. M. Shutt, Morrow county's ex-sherriff was in Heppner the first of the week, being called here on jury duty. The grand jury was out only a short time so Mr. Shutt was able to return to his farm home below Ione Tuesday morning. This was his first visit to Heppner in four years, the duties of the farm not permitting him to leave for even a short visit, and he noted many changes which had taken place in his old home town during his absence. He announced that he would not return before fall unless the sheriff brought him back in the meantime.
