BEST FROM "JUDGE"

Was It?
"That was an awful mixup made with the two Smith families."
"Was it?"

"Yes; you see it was this way: That old Skinfint Smith passed out and about the same time that nice little Smith girl, who wasn't related to the other Smith at all, married a movie actor."

"Yes"
Well, Jones mixed the envelopes by mistake and sent the congratulations to the widow and the condolences to the bride.
Awful mixup!"

Was it?
New clerk—Come in quick! There is a murderer inside!
Cop—What makes you think so?
New clerk—He came in and said, "I want the life of Ben Johnson."

Relaxation.

The Hatteras lightship has an evil reputation among Government employes. Anchored as it is off that stormy point, life on board is so arduous that men are given a stretch of three weeks on the ship, alternating with a full week's rest. A certain son of Sweden was employed on the lightship for some time. When he gave up his job, he was accosted by a friend:

"Well, Ole, how was your job?"
"O, das yob bane fine!"
"I suppose the Government gave you the regular rest every three weeks?"
"O, ya, I have von veek to rest."
"What did you do while you were off duty?"
"O, I bane have fine time! I hire sailboat, en I bane sail oop an down das bay, oop en down das bay, all das week."

Asleep.

Prof.—The boys were so entranced this morning that they remained in my lecture all through the dinner hour.

His daughter—Why didn't you wake them up?

Six Were Enough.

Judge—Were there any reasons, Mike, why you should have gone on this tear?

Mike—Sure, y'r honor, sivin av thim.

Judge—And what were they?

Mike—Me, an' six whiskeys, y'r honor.—

Only A Bluff.

"Your money or I'll throw you off the cliff!" demanded the hold-up man in the wilderness.

The millionaire chuckled and strode on. for he realized it was only a bluff.

His Sympathetic Response.

"Mercy!" ejaculated young Mrs. Kidder, in the midst of her reading. "Here is an account of a woman who sold her baby for 50 cents!"

"Oh, well," returned her bachelor brother, who had at sundry times cared cared for the children while his sister went shopping, "all kinds of swindles are being worked nowadays."

Saving Money.

"A dollar box of candy for me, hubby? Really, I must curb such extravagance."

"I bought you one frequently before we were married."

"But things are different now. Instead of a dollar box of candy it would have been better to have got me a ten-cent box, and a sport coat, and that spring parasol I wanted so much."
