 THE HOME OF TUM-A-LUMBER.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE IONE SECTION

Frank Hall and family have moved down from Heppner. They will occupy the Wilmot residence.

W. L. Barlow and family will move to Ione from their Eight Mile home to take advantage of the school.

Dr. Chick reports the arrival of a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Buschke on the 7th. Mother and child doing well.

Joseph T. Knappenberg has thrown his hat in the ring and is buying wheat for Phil Cohn of Heppner. The wheat buying season promises to be a lively one.

John Oiden, of Rhea creek, is quite busy these days putting up a new residence on his farm to take the place of the one destroyed by fire last season. He will have a fine country home when the new structure is completed.

Mrs. R. F. Wilmot and daughter, Miss Katura, will leave Ione the coming week for Portland where they expect to make their home in the future. These excellent people will be missed from Ione by their large circle of friends.

D. E. Gilman, manager of the McHaley estate, was a visitor in Ione on Tuesday, looking over the grain situation here. He found a lot of the best grain he ever saw raised in Morrow county, and was highly pleased with the outlook.

Carl Yount has arrived from Portland and will soon have charge of the office of M. H. Houser at this place. He expects to take up his residence in Ione and his family will arrive as soon as he has secured a place for them to live.

Charley Shaver completed a good well on the W. G. Palmateer ranch the past week, and has moved his outfit to the farm of Sam Dennis where he began boring this week. The Palmateer well was sunk over 270 feet and an abundant flow of water was secured.

W. D. Fox, of Glacier, Wash., who has been visiting with his son, Frank Fox, of Gooseberry, since the middle of June, returned to his home on Tuesday. Mr. Fox greatly enjoyed his stay here and is very favorably impressed with this country. He left much improved in health.

J. M. Baker, formerly one of the successful farmers of this section, is up from Portland on a visit at the home of M. R. Morgan, of Ione. Mr. Baker farmed for many years in this county but disposed of his interests here some years ago and took up his residence in Portland.

W. S. Smith returned the first of the week from a visit to Salem where he owns a good piece of property. He was accompanied home by Mr. Roberts, of Salem, who is interested in making a trade for some Morrow county property. Mr. Roberts is on a deal for the farm of A. B. Grover. We have not learned whether the transaction went through.

Mrs. C. W. Reynolds, wife of Pastor Reynolds of the Christian church has been moved to the home of her parents at Dallas, Oregon, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis at the Salem hospital. From latest reports Mrs. Reynolds was yet quite weak and she will not be able to return to her Ione home before the first of September. Mr. Reynolds expects to return and resume his labors here on Sunday, Aug. 29.

John E. Peterson is visiting at the home of his brother, Aaron Peterson, on Eight Mile. Mr. Peterson is now a resident of Portland where he has been living for a number of years, but still owns his farm in this county which is being run at the present time by Ture Peterson. Aaron Peterson is also enjoying a visit from another brother, C. T. Carlbort, of Linnburg, Kansas, an educator of some note in that state.

The Ione schools will open on Monday, Sept. 11, according to the present arrangements, and from the way all vacant houses are being engaged we can look forward to a large attendance. Many families from the county are preparing to move in to take advantage of the educational facilities and all vacant houses will be occupied and a demand is going up for more. All of which speaks well for the educational institution of our town.

A ride through the extreme north end of Morrow county's wheat belt early this week reveals large numbers of fine stacks of headed wheat. Heading out that way is about all finished and the farmers are now anxious to get at the threshing. Just when this will be done is not known at this time owing to the scarcity of machines. The crop returns from that part of the county will be a big surprise this season, judging from the number and size of the grain.

There has been quite a bit of activity in the Ione wheat market the past few days, and some considerable amount of grain has been contracted. The prevailing price has been around $1.00, but some has sold as high as $1.05. This latter figure realized by Phil S. Griffin for Turkey Red and he sold his club for $1.00. Mr. Griffin disposes of 3000 sacks at this time. Frank Wilson has sold his entire crop, which will make around 14,000 sacks, to M. H. Houser for $1.00, all around. Mr. Wilson is well satisfied with this deal, and feels he has made money, though wheat should go to a higher price. Numerous other smaller sales have been made and times are somewhat improved as a consequence.

Swat the Grasshopper and Save the Crops.

Grasshopper outbreaks may be expected in various portions of the State says A. L. Lovett, acting entomologist at O. A. C. from the present indication. Grasshoppers injure crops more or less every year and did a great deal of injury in portions of the State last year. There is every reason to believe that this condition will be as bad this year. In most cases the grasshoppers occur at this time as only partly grown forms more or less confined in the area of their distribution. In many cases they have not yet entered the cultivated fields, but will be found in great numbers as minute hoppers collected in vast waste places, rocky areas, etc. adjacent to the cultivated fields. It is strongly advised that farmers visit such portions of land adjacent to their cultivated fields at this time and make a search for any of these colonies that may be present. A small amount of the poison bran mash judiciously scattered at this time will amount to hardly anything as far as either money or time is concerned and will surely put a stop to the threatened outbreak. Where grasshoppers are already beginning to enter the field or where later they do enter the field the same poison bran mash should be used. Simply broadcast it over the areas where the grasshoppers occur.

Grasshoppers tend to collect in open spaces on the soil for passing the night, therefore such areas should be watched for and the poison bran mash scattered there either late at night or very early in the morning. The mixture sufficient to treat an acre is prepared as follows.

Coarse bran.....16 pounds
 Paris green or white arsenic 1 lb.
 Lemon extract.....2 teaspoons
 Warm water to make coarse crumbly mash.

Do not get the material sloppy. It should fall apart readily in the hand after being pressed together.—A. L. Lovett, O. A. C., Corvallis, Oregon.

SPOKANE WILL ENTER-TAIN NOMINEE HUGHES

Spokane, Wash., August 10.—Extraordinary interest is being taken throughout the Inland Empire in the coming of Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president, to Spokane, Sunday and Monday, August 13 and 14. Chairman Charles Hubbard of the Spokane County Republican Central committee expects that 20,000 people will hear Mr. Hughes in Spokane.

The original plan of holding the meeting in a theater had to be given up, as it was seen that no hall in Spokane could accommodate one-fourth of the people who will want to hear Governor Hughes.

The nominee and his party of 27 including the representatives of the National Press association and the large eastern dailies, will arrive in Spokane over the Northern Pacific, Sunday morning. He will be met by a reception committee and taken to the Davenport Hotel. Sunday will be a day of rest. It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will attend services at a Baptist church, as they are members of that denomination.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Mr. Hughes will be taken for an auto drive through the business district. Immediately after the drive the Idaho committee will take the candidate and his party to Coeur d'Alene city, where a forenoon meeting will be held.

After luncheon, Mr. Hughes will return to Spokane and address a women's meeting at the auditorium theater at 3:30. The party will then rest until the evening meeting at the stadium at 7:30. The stadium has a seating capacity of 6,500 and standing room for 10,000 more than within hearing distance of the speaker. The Spokane committee has asked the county committees and the state committees of eastern Washington counties each to nominate five members of the general reception committee. These are asked to call at Republican headquarters in Spokane at 612 Sprague avenue and receive badges.

It is predicted that at least 50,000 people will see Mr. Hughes in Spokane, either during the occasion of the auto drive or at the great public meetings at the Auditorium and the stadium.

At Spokane Governor Hughes and his party will be met by S. A. Perkins of Tacoma, national committeeman; Chairman Millard T. Hartson and Secretary James Wood of the Republican state central committee, and escorted across the state. The next stop will be in Tacoma.
