NEW CITIZENS GET THEIR PAPERS

Circuit Court Was in Session First of the Week and Cleaned Up Docket—Paroles Are Granted.

Five new citizens of the United States took the oath of allegiance before Judge G. W. Phelps of the Circuit court in this city this week. Those who were successful in their examinations for final papers were Henry Pliess, of Germany; James Whitney, Ireland, Wm. Henry Instone of England; Wm. Henry Whitley of Ireland and James McCabe of Ireland. Henry Hazard of Portland conducted the examination. Several other applicants for final papers failed to receive them for one reason or another.

Upon the recommendation of the District attorney and the grand jury, Judge Phelps granted a parole to John Star, who was held for the larceny of a horse from John Marshall. Star has proven to be a man of good character and has a good record in his home country. He has a wife and six children in Oregon City. Should Star violate any conditions of the parole, he will have to meet the sentence of from one to ten years in the penitentiary.

In the matter of the State of Oregon vs. L. L. Carroll, who was indicted by the grand jury upon two charges of cattle stealing, the defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of from one to ten years. His application for parole noted.

J. P. Flynn was given a sentence of from one to five years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses. He was indicted by the grand jury. Flynn made application for parole but this was denied. He wrote a check on the First National Bank of Heppner to Thomson Bros. in payment for a suit of clothes. He had no account with the bank.

A large number of civil cases were disposed of at this term of court.

FUEL SHORTAGE WILL FORCE PRICE UPWARD

Washington, Nov. 14.—With practically the whole country suffering from a cold wave that will rapidly grow worse instead of better, according to the weather bureau, the worst fuel shortage in nine years was announced today, making prospects serious for communities lacking coal.

The actual shortage November 1, was 108,010 tons, according to the American Railway Association. August 1 there was a surplus of 90,000 tons. Railroads today advised the Interstate Commerce Commission they have inaugurated strenuous measures to meet the enormous coal demand.

By the wholesale swapping of coal cars, long demanded by railroad men as solving the problem, it is hoped to greatly relieve the situation.

The price per ton on coal has already advanced one dollar, now selling at $11. According to N. A. Clark, local dealer, the rise upward has only just begun and he predicts that coal will be selling here before the winter is over from $14 to $15 per ton. He attributes the rising price to the facts quoted in the above article.

Pendleton Mill Gets Twenty Thousand Order

Pendleton, Ore.—A $20,000 order for Pendleton Indian blankets cloth has been placed with the Pendleton Woolen Mills by the Northern Pacific Company which will make suits from the cloth for members of its marching club which will be in the big parades of the annual carnival of winter sports in St. Paul. The order was placed personally by C. C. Kyle of St. Paul, superintendent of the general office building.

In all 8500 yards of best grade Indian robe material was ordered. It will make 2500 suits. Mr. Kyle reports that after the company decided to make suits out of the famous Indian robe cloth the membership of the marching club suddenly jumped from 500 to 1500 and has been growing ever since.

Other arrangements for a general good time are being perfected by the committee in charge. The committee consists of Dr. H. T. Allison, J. L. Wilkins and Harry Duncan.

WHEAT HAULER KILLED NEAR IONE

Joseph O'Bryan Fatally Injured When Loaded Wheat Wagon Turns Over on Him.—Recent Rains Have Improved Roads.

Joseph O'Bryan a young man in the employ of Richard McElliott, met with an accident on Tuesday forenoon, which resulted in his death at the home of L. D. Hale, in this place, on Wednesday at 10:30. The young man was engaged in hauling wheat for Mr. McElliott, driving a six horse team to trail wagons. He was coming down the grade about four and a half miles southwest of town when the brake on the trailer failed to hold and the wagons to push against the horses and the team began to run. Thinking to stop them he turned into the bank sharply with the seat and he was thrown from the rear that a number of sacks of wheat with the front end of the wagon were driven over on him. Chas. Wynn was turning the wagon in front of him and he with some others rushed to his assistance, taking O'Bryan out from under the load and caring for him the best that they could until help was summoned from town. Ernest Lundell rushed out to the scene of the accident and the boy was hurried to the time. Dr. Chick being absent on a case near Arlington, a summons was sent to Heppner and Dr. Allison responded. Upon his arrival it was found that O'Bryan had sustained fatal injuries. His back was broken just below his shoulders, the left thigh fractured and his collar bone broken, besides there were other minor injuries. Dr. Allison satisfied himself that nothing could be done and returned to Heppner. After this the young man was removed to the home of Loren Hale where he was cared for by Miss Mabel McElliott, a trained nurse. When Dr. Chick returned late Tuesday evening, he also made a thorough examination of the young man's injuries and found that nothing could be done for him. He seemed to be literally broken to pieces from the weight of the load that fell on him. During all this time however, the boy did not lose consciousness and seemed to fully realize that his end was near. He was made as comfortable as possible, and the end came Wednesday morning as stated above. Young O'Bryan has no relatives residing here. He came to this country from Pendleton and worked a while with one of the wheat teams of Irvin Wilkes, later going to work for Mr. McElliott. His relatives live near Portland. It is understood, and arrangements for the funeral are awaiting the arrival of his mother.

Wm. Doherty and his mother departed Wednesday for Jenny, California, a little city near Stockton, where they expect to remain for the winter. Mr. Doherty contemplates locating permanently in California, but he is not positive that he will do so, as he thinks a lot of Morrow county, and has done well since locating here some three or four years ago. He farmed the A. B. Grover place the past season and had a fine crop.

Ed Buschke and family moved this week to their new farm in the Eight Mile country, he recently purchased the John L. Jenkins farm in that locality. The place vacated by Mr. Buschke has been vacated by M. H. Gillette from the Oregon-Dakota Co.

Alcott W. Lundell of Gooseberry, who recently purchased the Jake Young ranch is making arrangements to move onto the same with his family. He has been farming his father's home place together with his brother Emil.

E. R. Lundell and M. R. Morgan went to The Dalles on Thursday and returned Friday evening, bringing up a couple of Reos, one for Mr. Morgan and the other for disposition to some man who will take it off his hands.

Some cold weather in these parts and those who were getting some seeding done have been compelled to lay off awaiting a thaw. The freeze has put the roads in fine shape and wheat is rolling in lively.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saling of Pendleton were visitors in Ione over Sunday, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cronan. They were accompanied by Earl Simonton and Frank Kribbs.

Mrs. T. L. Doman, of Lexington, visited at the home of Mrs. Cynthia Walker on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. V. Crawford has been spending the past week visiting with her family at Heppner.

Farmer Makes Peculiar Sale of Farm Property

J. A. Osborn, a wheat farmer near Lexington, made a peculiar sale of his farm the past week. Mr. Osborn sold his ranch to Marsh White of Lexington, but reserved one acre and his house for himself. The ranch consists of one quarter section of land. Mr. Osborn did not care to sell himself out of house and home so he kept one acre of good old Morrow county soil upon which to live. The price Mr. White paid for the land was in the neighborhood of $4800. Thirty dollars an acre would indicate that land values are rising in that section of Morrow county.

A Good Record.

F. W. Burns of Condon who set out a large number of trees and shrubs in Heppner last spring announces that not more than one per cent failed to survive. Mr. Burns spent the greater part of his life in the East where he was engaged extensively in landscape gardening, growing trees and other plants. He says he is getting acclimated here now and knows pretty well what will do well here and what won't. His work here peaks for itself.

HEPPNER YOUNG WOMAN IS CALLED

Mrs. Pearl Cox, wife of Grover C. Cox passed away at her home in this city last Monday evening about 11 o'clock. She had been suffering continuously for several days and death alone brought her relief. She was 26 years of age.

Pearl Penland Cox was born in the state of Washington on March 12, 1890, being the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lafa Penland. She came to Morrow county with her parents while a small girl and most of her life was spent in Heppner, where she attended school. She was married in 1912 to Grover Cox and they had only recently purchased a home on Willow street. Mrs. Cox had been in delicate health for several years and the loving care of her husband made her short stay on Earth the more pleasant than it might otherwise have been.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon from the Federated church under the direction of Rev. R. H. Lewelling, who preached the funeral sermon. The deceased is survived by her husband and mother Mrs. Rebecca Penland, sister Stella and two brothers, William and Gene.

CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN SHEEPMEN

Visiting Woolgrowers Will Be Treated To Banquet and Genuine Heppner Hospitality During Woolgrowers Convention.

When the Wool Growers of the State of Oregon meet in Heppner in their annual convention next month, they will be treated to a big banquet by the Heppner Commercial Club and genuine Heppner hospitality will be the order of the two day's session.

The entertainment committee of the Club were given instructions at the Club meeting Monday evening and they will start work at once to make the Wool Growers' convention in this city one that will linger long and pleasant in their memory.

W. B. Barratt, president of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association was on hand to tell the Club of the Association's plans for the convention. However, the entertaining part of the program will be left entirely in the hands of the Club's committee. Members of the committee are Dr. R. J. Vaughn, C. L. Sweeney and Oscar Borg. Other members of the state association who were present and spoke about the coming convention, were T. J. Mahoney and Mike Kenney. Emmet Cochran and J. G. Doherty were also present.

A representative of the Ellison-White Chautauqua Bureau, Miss R. T. Kitsinger was also present and took up with the Club the proposition of holding a Chautauqua in Heppner sometime next summer. After some discussion of the subject, it was finally put to a vote and the sentiment of the Club was against holding the Chautauqua here next year. It appeared that the Ellison-White people demanded an absolute guarantee of some $1100 or $1200 for the sale of tickets and the Club did not feel inclined to recommend it to the citizens of Heppner under that condition.

A letter from the Portland Chamber of Commerce was read by Secretary Smead referring to the Pacific Northwest Tourist's Association. After some discussion the matter was turned over to the Publicity Committee by President Phelps. The Northwest Tourist's Association is an organization that has been formed to advertise and sell the scenic beauty of the Pacific Northwest. To carry on their work, an appropriation of $25,000 for two years from the states of Oregon and Washington has been asked, and the sum of $12,500 for two years has been asked from British Columbia. The state legislature, which soon meets in Salem will be presented with petitions asking for the appropriation in this state.

The road committee made its report and announced that road straying was getting worse getting under way good when the rains came. This made further straying unnecessary.
