LADIES' BAZAAR WAS BIG SUCCESS

Catholic Ladies Did Total Business of Over $2100 During Three Days Sale in Masonic Building.

The bazaar held last week under the auspices of the Catholic ladies of Heppner was an unqualified success. The formal opening took place on Thursday afternoon, Mr. S. E. Van Vactor delivering the opening address. The Masonic Building in which the bazaar was held, was transformed into a veritable riot of colors. Blue and white decorated the Apron Booth, yellow and white the Fancy Work Booth, pink and blue the Baby Work Booth, purple and white the Towel Booth, maroon and white the Parcels Post, green and yellow the Irish Booth, while the national colors decorated the Country Store. From the time the bazaar opened until mid-night of Saturday the ladies were kept busy. At every booth were found articles to please even the most critical. The Parcels Post did a rushing business during the three days and the articles in every case justified the expenditure put on them.

The crowds were good on Thursday and Friday evenings but on Saturday evening there was not standing room. When M. J. Driscoll commenced to auction off the articles the excitement commenced. After Mr. Driscoll's vocal organs got husky, T. D. McNamee of Portland got on the auctioneer's stand. About 10 p. m. the drawing for grand prizes took place. The winners of the prizes that were displayed in Minor & Co.'s window were Hugh Bran of the First National Bank, Mrs. Thos. Ross of Echo four prizes; Jas. F. Sheridan, John J. Keegan and Peter McNamee of Condon. Miss Hannah Wilson very easily won the diamond and ruby brooch in the popularity contest. Towards mid-night when the returns from the various booths were closed, the contest for the diamond ring was very close, Miss Peggy O'Rourke being the fortunate winner of this coveted article.

The ladies realized better than $2100 from their sales and donations. About $1800 represent the sales, although there are a few hundred dollars to collect.

Following is the amount of business transacted by each booth:

Irish booth, $588.65; Fancy booth, $91.00; Apron booth, $310.00; Candy booth, $222.85; Towel booth, $22.45; Parcels Post, $72; Baby wear, $60.00; Country Store, $122.20; amusements, $95.00

SCHOOL NOTES.

(By S. E. Notson, Co. Supt.)
Special blanks will be sent to school clerks for report of children who are crippled, blind, deaf or dumb. The State Superintendent desires this information for the use of the legislature and also for a report to the United States Bureau of Education. If more blanks are needed, write to the county superintendent.

In District No. 21, Miss Dora Jackson is the teacher. The enrollment is eight. This school has three framed pictures, several pieces of play furniture, a closed water jar, and a good flag. The pupils are enthusiastic.

Miss Daisy Barlow teaches in District No. 36. This school is small, the enrollment being six. A vessel filled with water is kept on the stove. A number of improvements in the equipment are contemplated.

Mrs. Harriet M. Brown is at the helm in District No. 31. The enrollment is 28. This school has a good flag, a closed water jar, a stove surrounded by a good jacket, window-boards, and a "humidifier" of excellent type—a tall can filled with water. This school is making an effort to reach the standard this year.

In District No. 29, Mrs. Bertha Stoneman is the teacher. The enrollment is seven. A new building is contemplated. This is needed and the community is united in the determination to erect a modern building as soon as possible.

In District No. 37, Miss Edith Parker is the teacher. This school is small, the enrollment being only six. This school has some new blackboards, a stove surrounded by a splendid jacket, window-boards, a thermometer, a closed water jar, a splendid book-case and a new encyclopedia. The primary pupils have a sand table for use in their work.

In District No. 14, Miss Adelaide O'Hanlon is the teacher. The enrollment is ten. The windows have been changed so as to admit the light from the left side and the rear of the room which gives correct lighting. A closed tank is provided for the water supply. The teacher and pupils are an-

Literary Society Will Present Program.

The Ciceroan Literary Society of the local high school will present its first program of the school year in the auditorium on November 24.

The feature of the program will be a debate, "resolved that capital punishment should be abolished." Garnet Barratt and Neva Hayes will uphold the affirmative and Ruth Van Vactor and Earl Gordon will speak on the other side.

Following is the program which the Ciceroanians will present in their first appearance:

1. Song.....Girls Glee Club
2. Essay.....Margaret Crawford
3. Solo.....Edith Thorley
4. Debate.—RESOLVED: That capital punishment should be abolished.

xious to bring the school up to the rank of a standard school this year.

Miss Vernus Young is the teacher in District No. 26. The enrollment is 16. The flag is displayed from an excellent flag-pole. There is a good jacket for the stove. Water is kept on the stove and window-boards and a thermometer are provided. The water supply is kept in a closed tank. This school has two framed pictures. A good sectional book-case is provided for the books. A new encyclopedia has been added recently.

In Joint-District No. 50-55, Miss Heloise Phillips is the teacher. The enrollment is 17. A new Hart heating and ventilating plant has been installed. This school has four standard pictures. A good selection of books, and a good equipment of maps, globe and other apparatus.

Returns to Morrow County

C. F. Hemrick and family have returned to Morrow county after spending the past year at their old home in Sandwich Ill. Mr. Hemrick has not yet located permanently but will take up farming again as soon as he can find a suitable place. For the present he and his family will live in Heppner. Conditions in the middle West do not compare with those of the Pacific Northwest, according to Mr. Hemrick, and especially is this true to farming, there being a shortage to crop production in Illinois this year.

Elk's Memorial Dec. 3.

Heppner Lodge of Elks No. 358 will hold their annual memorial services this year on Sunday December 3. As usual the services will be held in the I. O. O. F. Hall, which is used by the Elks as their lodge room. An outside speaker will deliver the memorial address, although the committee in charge is not able to announce at this time just who the speaker will be.

Official Bulletin.

A schoolmistress asked her class to explain the word "bachelor," and was very much amused when a little girl answered, "A bachelor is a very happy man."

"Where did you learn that?" asked the mistress.

"Father told me," the little girl replied.

Scotticism.

McTavish and Macparrson are a-drift at sea in an open boat.

McTavish (on his knees)—O Lord I ken I've broken maist o' my commandments. And I've been a hard drinker all my days. But, O Lord if we're spared this time, I promise never—Macparrson—I widna commit myself over far, Donald. I think I see land.—Life.

OREGON WOOLGROWERS CHANGE DATE OF MEETING IN THIS CITY

President W. B. Barratt of the Oregon Woolgrowers Association has sent out word the past week that the date of the convention in this city has been changed to December 15-16. This meeting was originally called for December 8-9, but owing to conflicting dates with the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland, it was deemed best to hold the convention one week later.

According to President Barratt there are a number of important questions that will come up for discussion. "The woolgrower is so prosperous now that little or nothing is troubling him," said Mr. Barratt, "and it is hard to get him to take an interest in things of vital interest to his welfare."

However, local sheepmen anticipate a large attendance of woolgrowers from over the state and it is estimated that 100 members of the association will be here for the meeting.

Among a number of important matters to be considered by the sheepmen is the question of securing roads and trails over the public land under the 640 acre homestead law which is a possibility of the near future. The proposal of the forest service to raise grazing fees will also be taken up and discussed.

The entertaining features of the two days convention have been placed in the hands of the local commercial club.

The secretary of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association has been notified by the Southern Pacific Company that the usual certificate plan fares will be authorized from all stations in Oregon including Klamath Falls and Midland, located on lines of the Southern Pacific Company. The sales dates will go into effect December 12th to 16th, inclusive and receipts to be honored at one-third fare returning provided required number in attendance, December 15 to 19, inclusive.

Probably more stress will be laid upon the question of increasing grazing fees than any other one problem that will come before the convention.

The Department of Agriculture already has this matter under advisement. The idea is to advance the fees for grazing in the National Forests, one-third each year, beginning February first of next year.

Sunday School Convention Was A Big Success.

The Sunday School convention held in this city last week was a big success, both from the standpoint of attendance and the interest taken in all the sessions. Rev. C. A. Phipps, secretary of the Oregon State Sunday School Association was the principal speaker during the three days session.

At the conclusion of the convention S. E. Notson of Heppner was elected president, Chas. O'Neill of Ione was elected vice-president and Mrs. C. E. Woodson of Heppner was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

and Mrs. Fagan come highly recommended as evangelists and the church is looking forward to a fine meeting and a splendid revival.

T. E. Peterson went up to Heppner Friday and returned Sunday driving a new Buick. A five passenger car is a mighty big machine for a bachelor to be flying around in alone and we imagine Ture will now be able to attract the attention of some charming young lady to share a portion of the extra room. Its a snap for the right party.

John H. Padberg and family and Lewis J. Padberg and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Padberg in Ione. John does not call around this way often and states that it had been many months since he last visited here. He enjoyed such abundant prosperity this summer that he now feels he can get a little farther from home than usual.

Chas. Calkins having disposed of his interests here to Mr. Cook will move with his family to Gresham, Oregon. Mrs. Calkins and the children left for their new home yesterday. He recently took over the dairy business here from his uncle F. T. Calkins and this business will now be carried forward by Mr. Cook who is a new arrival in this section.

Mat Halvorsen finished threshing on the North side of the creek and moved his machine to L. McMurrays where he will have a run of several days, threshing the grain from about 400 acres. With a little that Mr. Halvorsen has left of his own this will finish the season's run.

John King, formerly a resident of the Ione section, accompanied by his wife, has been visiting with relatives and friends in and about Ione during the week. Mrs. King is a sister of the Engleman boys, Frank and Ed. Their home is at Athena where Mr. King conducts a farm.

G. F. Steele is Ione's new jeweler and watchmaker, who recently opened up for business in the Knappenberg building on Main street, formerly occupied by Chester Titus in the same line. This is a welcome addition to our business section.

Charley Shaver is finishing a well his week on the H. Stange place west of Ione where he is getting a good flow of water in less than 100 feet. He will go from there to the Tom Craig place in the Ella neighborhood.

H. L. McAllister was down from Lexington Monday. Harvey says he has his application in to go to the Mexican border if needed, and it looks somewhat like he might receive a call.

J. E. Cronan this week purchased the J. A. Waters residence property in Ione. F. E. Cronan and wife will occupy the residence.

John Vaughn was down from Heppner Monday and Tuesday afternoons demonstrating the Hudson and Chalmers cars. He reports the sale of 9 Chalmers the past ten days, with numerous other prospects on the list.

Nels Johnson and Leonard Anderson came in from Gooseberry Friday evening in Mr. Johnson's new Reo. He setting around to the last of his threshing and by the end of the week expects to be through.

The bazaar given by the ladies United Aid Society on Saturday was a decided success and nearly all the articles prepared for the sale were disposed of. The sales netted the ladies $83.00.

Some fine "goose" weather this, and our nimrods have been making trips to the hunting grounds out toward the breaks of the Columbia to gather in some of the big birds.

Mrs. Chas. Sperry returned home the first of the week from a visit of two months with relatives and friends at Brownsville and other Willamette Valley points.

A bunch of C. A. Minor's cattle were taken through Ione Tuesday on the way to the Cecil ranch where they will be finished for market on alfalfa hay.

J. A. Harbke returned to his Portland home Saturday after having spent the most of the summer here looking after his land interests.

Mearle Blake left for Portland yesterday to be absent a short time. He will take in the big foot ball game on the O. A. C. campus next week.

LIVE STOCK SHOW WILL BE BIGGER

Pacific International Will Be Held in Portland on December 8-9.

(By O. M. Plumer.)
The Pacific International Livestock Exposition, which holds its sixth Annual Show at the Portland Union Stock Yards, North Portland, December 4-9, has been one of the big factors in the upbuilding of the livestock industry in this entire western country.

Entries which have just closed in the breeding class indicate one of the biggest showings of beef breeders ever handled West of the Rocky mountains, there being something like fifteen herds of Shorthorns on the list. The Hereford people have a very select list of entries, including some of the best known herds in the United States. The Holstein people have outdone themselves in their entries, while the Guenneys and Jerseys will be represented by the best known breeders on the Coast. Hogs and sheep will make a fine showing, and for the first time, the four leading breeds of draft horses will be included.

Judges of national reputation will tie the ribbons. Men like Saunders of Iowa on Shorthorns; Chas. L. Hill of Wisconsin, Jerseys and Guenneys; J. S. Moxley of Minnesota, Holsteins; Moxley of Kentucky, Herefords; Brunk of Oregon, hogs; with other well known men handling the other classes.

The Granges of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are taking an intense interest in this year's show and strong delegations will come from over this western country.

The Governors of the Northwest states have accepted an invitation to be at the show on Thursday, December 7th, and their many friends will have an opportunity to meet them in an informal way. Afterwards they will attend the banquet given in honor of the breeders and feeders at the Multnomah Hotel.

Various breed associations are holding their annual meetings during this week and Portland will be thronged with farmers and livestock men.

The action of the State Bankers' Association in appropriating $10,000 for this show is attracting attention all over the United States and at once places them in very high estimation amongst the breeding fraternity of this country; Portland Chamber of Commerce also provided in its budget $6000; while the State of Oregon provides $5000.

The railroads have granted a rate of a fare and a third on the certificate plan, from all points of this western country. Selling dates will begin November 30th. And last until December 6th, good returning until December 12th.

One of the big features of the show this year will be the fat classes in the Stock Yards proper. Each year has demonstrated the fact that the West can produce some of the finest cattle, hogs and sheep in the country. Competition will be keen this year.

In order to house the show, the entire barn and pen room of the Union Stock yards, together with eight mammoth tents will be required. The main tent is 100x200 ft. while the others are 50x200 ft. This is housing the show in a similar way to the practice of the Scotch and English shows, which have flourished for many generations.

A very important feature in connection with the show will be the annual sales of breeding stock. On Tuesday morning, December 5th, there will be an offering of Guernsey cattle from Edgemoor Farm, Santee, California and the same afternoon there will be a combination hog sale; Wednesday the entire day will be used for hogs, cattle and sheep; Thursday afternoon the famous Shorthorn sale of Minor, Dunn, Brown and others; Friday all day Holsteins, under the direction of Colonel Gue.

The Pacific International is absolutely free to the people. It is strictly educational, with no "Wild West" or other distract-concession. The people who attend this show will see livestock alone. And in no better way can they advance the livestock industry of this country than by their presence and active interest in the show.

Over $14,000 Spent By Normal Committee.

The statement of expenses filed with the Secretary of State shows that the Pendleton Normal school committee made an outlay of $14,362.56 in the campaign for the establishment of a State Normal school in Pendleton. The statement of S. A. Barnes shows expenditures of $707.71 made in the effort of Weston citizens to defeat the measure.—Pendleton Tribune.

GILLIAM PIONEER PAST AWAY HERE

Nathaniel Scott passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kellogg in this city last Tuesday morning. Mr. Scott had made a valiant fight the past year and a half against cancer of the throat, which finally caused his death. The funeral was held on Friday at Lone Rock, where he had made his home for a long number of years. The deceased leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss.

Nat Scott was a pioneer of this section of Eastern Oregon and was numbered among the early pioneers in Gilliam county, locating there in 1883. He went into the stock business and done well. He was truly a leading citizen and a man of influence. Mr. Scott was a native of Ireland but became a naturalized citizen of this country years ago.

A large number of friends are left by the deceased who mourn his early death, he was but 69 years of age and up until two years ago was the picture of robust health. A good man and a useful citizen has been called to his reward.

JAMES M. SHAW.

James M. Shaw, a native of Scotland, died at the farm home of Hynd Bros. in Sand Hollow on Tuesday, Nov. 21, 1916. Mr. Shaw has been suffering for the past two years from kidney trouble and last spring underwent an operation at the local hospital. The operation was a success at the time and probably prolonged his life by months. However the end came quietly on Tuesday as stated above.

At the time of his death, Mr. Shaw was 72 years of age. The funeral services were held in this city on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. R. H. Lewelling conducting a short service at the grave in Masonic cemetery.

James M. Shaw had lived in Morrow county a long number of years, and through his square dealing and pleasing personality made many friends, all of whom will be sorry to learn of his passing away. He had no relatives in this part of the country.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM IONE COUNTRY

A representative of the Ellison & White Chautauqua Association visited Ione the first of the week and endeavored to interest our business men in backing up a Chautauqua for this place the coming season. The proposition met with little encouragement here, our citizens taking the view that the benefits to be derived were not in proportion to the burden assumed in the guarantee asked. As a matter of fact, while the Chautauqua may be admitted to be a fine thing, and offers an opportunity to hear some fine talent in the literary and musical lines, it should not be necessary for the different communities where they present their programs to guarantee them anything. Their organization should be self-supporting by this time and should be handled from that standpoint.

The writer has had sufficient experience in "coming through" on these guarantees, along with numerous other people who imagined they were doing a big thing for the home town in getting such character of entertainment as presented by the lyceum and Chautauqua courses, and speaking for himself, he has had enough. And we fancy the others have also.

Mrs. Audrey Woolery Dye, of Grandview, Wash., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. E. Johnson and her other relatives at Ione.

O. E. Lindstrom was the purchaser of a new Reo five-passenger auto this week. He bought it from E. R. Lundell, local agent. Mr. Lundell left for The Dalles Tuesday to bring up another car.

W. H. Cronk, having graduated from the "Henry" class, this week joined the "higher ups" and now is the proud owner of a new Chalmers. It is certainly a handsome car.

Dr. Butler is a new arrival in Ione and has established dental parlors in the Independent building. His family will arrive shortly from the Willamette Valley.

The Fagans will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church in Ione on Tuesday, November 28. Mr.
