

ANNOUNCEMENT

The most highly appreciated gift is the portrait of one near and dear. The truth of this statement is so evident that you will very probably admit it yourself.

The most economical investment for the season is a dozen photographs of yourself, of the baby or of the family group; the same money cannot buy more satisfaction and pleasure to so many.

Conditions governing the cost of living and conducting business are such that there must be a universal readjustment of values, upward.

On the first of the New Year photographs must go up ten to twenty-five percent.

Make an early appointment, save the necessary increase of cost, and pleasingly perpetuate the memory of yourself among your friends.

A premium with each order over $5.00 during November, so that the rush will not be at the last moment.

AND REMEMBER

Your friends can buy anything you can give them—except your photograph.

PAST WEEK'S OF EXPOSITION EVENTFUL

San Diego, Cal. The last act of a show that has made a world's record by a two years run is now being prepared at the Panama California International Exposition at San Diego. Because the last day of 1916 falls on Sunday, Exposition officials have chosen New Year's Day for ringing down the curtain.

The last weeks of the Exposition are filled with events of great interest and the aim of the directors to make the final month the best of the two years appears to be realized. A record breaking Cat Show, a Mother Goose Day, with a great pageant for the children, a mammoth Thanksgiving service, and special musical program were features of the final days of November.

The December calendar will include: A Children's Fair with thousands of exhibits, December 1, 2, and 3; Sessions of the West Coast Branch of the American Historical Association, December 2; Jack London Day, December 7; Josephine Clifford MacCracklin Day, December 14; School Children's Day, December 15; Bird House Day, December 16; Harold Bell Wright Day, December 21; a great Christmas day celebration in charge of the Shiners, December 25; San Diego Writers Day, December 28 and the great closing days December 30, 31 and January 1.

The program for the closing days has not been announced, but the directors promise wonderful surprises.

IF You Want to Save Money Read This.

In an article in "The Family Money" department of the November American Magazine, a writer says:

"When an old uncle of mine died and left me a little bequest of $545 my first impulse was to 'even it off,' and if it hadn't been for an old friend of my father's I think I would have succeeded in neatly paring it down to zero.

"What were you thinking of doing with that money?" he asked casually one day.

"Well," I replied "I think I'll just take that $45 and go for a little lake trip, and then I'll have $500 to put in the bank."

"Why $500," he asked? he said.

"Why not $545."

"Oh," I replied, "you might as well have an even amount."

"Do you suppose you could spare me five dollars?" he asked suddenly.

"Why, yes," I replied, a little surprised that he should ask to borrow money of me, but I handed it to him.

"All right, then," he said; here's five dollars—handing me back that same bill. "If you'll just put this with that $545 you'll have $550, and that's a nice even amount. Now, if you'll put that in the bank, in three months you will have earned fifty-four more, and surely in the meantime you can scrape together $44.50 and then you'll have an even $600 instead of $500.

"Well what could I do with $600?" I asked, not very much impressed, as the difference didn't seem worth the trouble.

"One thing you could do," replied the old gentleman, "would be to ask your banker to buy a thousand-dollar bond for you or, rather, to lend you the extra $400, keeping the bond as security, and then it wouldn't be long before you would have a thousand dollars, which for even amounts is a little better than five hundred."

"Then with a pencil and paper he showed me carefully just how long it would take me.

"Of course, you don't have to do it if you don't want to; but I have noticed" he went on thoughtfully, "that this business of having a little by you is pretty much a matter of the way your mind works. Some people always want to even things off in money matters, others want to even them up. And once you get started at it, thinking up isn't much harder than thinking down. For instance, if I showed you thirteen cents you might say, 'I can spend three cents for popcorn and then I'll have a dime left;' or you could say, 'If I put two cents with that I'll have fifteen cents.'"

"It's the down-hill people, the people who follow the path of least resistance, the people who slice off a little instead of building up a little who never get anywhere in life."

"TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY" DEC. 3 OR 10

With its request for co-operation in making the 1916 Red Cross sale the most successful in state history and its announcement of "Tuberculosis Sunday" which will be observed either December 3 or 10, the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis brings a record of accomplishment which justifies the original declaration that "every seal sold is a bullet in the war against the Great White Plague."

Efficient organization, low administrative cost and personal service freely given by public spirited citizens have combined to make every dollar contributed toward the work of the Association practically do the work of two.

"Tuberculosis Sunday" furnishes a reason for definitely carrying the now state-wide debate for preventive effort against the disease and adequate care of the stricken into every pulpit and before every church audience of Oregon. It will be a time, too, for gratitude and thankfulness because of the great economic and humanitarian value of the results obtained.

The Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has commenced a survey of the state, county by county. The surveys in Lane, Clatsop, Jackson, Josephine, and Washington counties have been completed. Results will be announced in detail when the work is done.

The survey has already proven that by its means information never before gathered will be tabulated. The facilities or lack of facilities for the care, treatment and prevention of tuberculosis in each county will be shown. The number of cases will be listed and segregated as to whether they are incipient, moderately advanced or far advanced, and also as to the number of cases reported before the survey and the number of cases reported as a direct result of it. The survey will provide for each county a history of the disease in that county, indicating its increase or decrease, how many of the afflicted contracted the trouble within the county and the number that had the disease when they moved into the county. Then it will be shown how tuberculosis is distributed as to cities, towns, clinics and rural communities. Cities and towns having city hospitals, clinics and dispensaries, school inspection, and open air rooms will be designated.

The county's care of tuberculous patients in such institutions as jails, and poor farms will be discussed and whether the county has a relief board and what assistance is granted in tuberculous cases.

The survey is definite and thorough and its value to all health and public officials will be so great that the work has the hearty approval and full co-operation of the Oregon State Board of Health.

The proceeds of this year's sales of Red Cross Seals will be used to carry on the survey and to maintain the preventive work organized by the Association.

REANEY-BUDDEN

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reaney of Lexington on Wednesday evening, November 22, when their daughter, Hazel became the bride of W. H. Budden. The ceremony was read by Lee Sadler of the Christian church. A few intimate friends and relatives of the couple attended the function. Miss Hazel DeLaney of Salem was maid of honor and little Miss Sadler as Cupid, acted as ring bearer. Carl Miller was best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Edith Reaney, a sister of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of light blue taffeta silk trimmed in silver. The bridal veil was of silk net with a spray of orange blossom. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern. Miss DeLaney's gown was a pretty model of cream serge and all over lace.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and supper served. The wedding cake was made by Mrs. Mary Luntsford, sister of the bride, who has presided in the same capacity for five of her other sisters. Many beautiful and useful presents were received.

The young couple left for Cadwell, Idaho for a visit with the groom's relatives.

Every day we have inquiries for houses to rent. Many of these inquiries come from new arrivals in town who expect to locate here. The problem is becoming almost as acute as the high cost of living. Something will have to be done soon to relieve the situation.

Orain and Delbert Wright of Rhea creek spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wright in this city. While coming in, the boys had the misfortune to lose a tire from their car.

Walter Cochran, editor of the Ione Independent, spent Sunday in this city visiting with friends.
