RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY WOOLMEN FAVORING RABIES LEGISLATION

WHEREAS, the disease of rabies is prevalent among the wild animals in the range states of the West, causing immense financial losses to the livestock interests, and causing great danger to human lives; therefore

We, the undersigned members of the special committee appointed by the President of the Oregon Wool Growers Association, submit the following resolutions for adoption and action:

1: That uniform control and suppressive measures against rabies be instituted in the following states: California Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Utah;

2: In order that this might be possible in the form of a permanent organization, the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service be requested thru the Secretary of the Oregon State Board of Health, according to Federal Statute, to call a conference at a certain proposed time, and the following being represented from each state: (a) one representative from the Board of Health; (b) one representative from the State Livestock Sanitary Board, or similar organization; (c) one representative from the Woolgrowers Association; (d) one representative from the Cattle and Horse Growers Association; (e) that in addition to the United States Public Health Service, the Surgeon General be requested to have present, a representative from the Forest Service, and from the Biological Survey.

Uniform Control and Suppression Measures:

To properly enact control and suppressive measures, the Committee recommends the following:

1. That each of the above mentioned states, by legislative act, appropriate a sum of money, the amount of which is in proportion to the number of livestock in each State;

2. As an alternate arrangement the individual livestock organizations be assessed a certain amount, according to per capita livestock.

3. That the moneys of the appropriation in each State be expended under the supervision of a commission consisting of one representative from each of the following: State board of health, livestock sanitary board, or similar organization; Biological Survey, Forest Service, Woolgrowers Association, and Cattle and Horse Raisers Association.

4. The said Commission shall serve without salary or expenses charged against the appropriation herein made. They shall adopt measures to eradicate predatory animals and prevent the spread of rabies.

The Committee further recommends that the Chairman of this convention appoint a representative to attend the proposed conference, and that the Secretary of this Convention be directed to correspond with the Secretary of the Cattle and Horse Raisers Association for the purpose of securing a representative to attend the proposed conference.

That the secretary of the State Board of Health be requested to correspond with secretaries of the boards of the six states previously mentioned with the object of securing their support and cooperation.

That the secretary of this convention be directed to correspond with the Secretaries of the similar organizations in the States affected, for the purpose of securing their support and cooperation.

That the Secretary of the State Livestock Sanitary Board be instructed to write to the Secretaries of allied organizations in the States above mentioned.

Respectfully submitted:
