Morgan

John Martin, better known as "Toots" from Moro, is staying with his sister, Mrs. Ben Morgan.

Ben Morgan purchased two valuable horses last week.

Bob Adams, who has been visiting with George Ely, left for his home in Salem Tuesday.

Mr. Hodge of Salem spent a few days in Morgan last week. He was here looking after some land.

Dan Balch and Mrs. Irene Balch and daughter Rena left for Hermiston Monday. They will remain there for a few weeks. They will go from there to the Valley where they expect to make their future home. The people of Morgan regret to lose Mr. and Mrs. Balch as they were good citizens and excellent workers in all social activities.

Mrs. T. M. Benedict is on the sick list.

Everybody remember there is to be a literary meeting Friday night at the school house.

HIBERNIANS HELD INSTALLATION JAN. 7TH

The installation of the officers for 1917 of the Heppner Division A. O. H. was carried out in a very impressive manner on Sunday, January 7. The officers installed were: John F. Kenny, Pres.; Patrick Connell, Vice-Pres.; Rev. P. J. O'Rourke, Rec. and Fin. Sec.; Frank Monahan, Treas.; John McDevitt, Serg-at-arms; E. L. Berry. Bro. F. A. McMenamin of Portland read the charge to the officers.

Immediately after the ceremony, the installation of the officers of the Ladies Auxiliary took place, Rev. P. J. O'Rourke reading the charge. The officers are: Mrs. B. Kenny, Pres.; Miss Sarah Doherty, Vice-Pres.; Miss Peggy O'Rourke, Rec. and Fin. Sec.; Mrs. A. McNamee, Treas.; Mrs. K. Buckman, Sentinel, and Miss M. Lennon, Mistress-at-arms.

When the ceremonies were finished, an announcement was made that refreshments would soon be served. The newly-installed Vice-Pres. and Serg-at-arms, Messrs. Connell and McDevitt, were detailed to do duty in the culinary department. Soon after their leaving the hall, cries for help were heard from the kitchen, and an investigation being made, it was found that the deputized cooks were afraid of tackling the proposition alone, and thus sought aid by means of subterfuge. However, in all justice to the cooks it must be said they proved a great success, and provided an abundant and appetizing lunch. After lunch, with the pungent odor of the fragrant weed being in evidence, all settled down to listen to the speeches usually expected from the newly-installed officers. All of these gentlemen showed great dexterity in making brief talks believing no doubt, that "Brevity is the soul of wit." F. A. McMenamin, of Portland being called upon told of how Heppner looked to him, and said that if Heppner continued to wear that roseate hue, he would soon locate in its home-like atmosphere. Jas. Mollahan gave a fervid talk on Ireland, and was given hearty applause when he declared that the Tricolor of the Irish Republic would, he hoped, soon float over a cleansed and fumigated Dublin Castle. John Kilkenny told some of his early experiences in the days when Irishmen were as scarce in Morrow County as the grace of God in an Orange Lodge. Michael Kenny spoke of still earlier days, and declared it made his heart full of joy to see the great progress of his fellow-countrymen in Eastern Oregon. E. L. Berry depicted an entertainment in a country school-house in Indiana. A ripple of laughter went over the hall, when E. L. commenced to sing. Little Patsy Keegan, a tot of one and one-half years, commenced to pound the piano. Recitations were also given by John T. Doherty, Phil Higgins, John Kilkenny, John C. McEntire, and an original composition on the Bazaar of 1916 by the author, Phil McCabe. Music was next indulged in, and little Molly Sheridan and Molly Kilkenny delighted all by their efforts to sing Irish songs. Sarah Kilkenny, Cecilia Kenny and Tina Doherty also sang. Miss Percy O'Rourke drew forth great applause by her rendition of "Almost Home" and "Ireland must be Heaven." Exchange of wit and repartee now held the floor, and many venerable jokes were resuscitated and trotted forth in new guise for the delectation of the audience.

After four hours of a most enjoyable time, all went their various ways, declaring that the afternoon was the shortest and most entertaining that they had had in many a day.

FARMERS WILL GET TOGETHER TO PLAN FOR A NEW GRAIN ELEVATOR

Heppner Farmers' Union will give a banquet at the I. O. O. F. Hall Saturday night, February 3, the object of the meeting being to get together all those farmers who are interested in building an elevator at Heppner. In fact, anyone in the county who is interested in the proposition of changing the method of handling grain from the expensive sack to that of bulking it in an elevator, is invited to come and will be given a chance to express his views in a manner that will count for something.

Prof. F. Hyslop and G. Lansing Jurd of the Oregon Agricultural College will be present and perhaps other distinguished and able speakers, who will come prepared to enlighten the farmers along the line of up-to-date bulking of grain; also on other matters of interest to the farmer.

The farmer has felt for many years that the sack bill was useless expense and has longed for the time that it might be done away with. This subject will be discussed in all details and plans at this meeting. If decided feasible, the extent of support will be at once sounded and if the report is favorable, the work of building an elevator will be begun as soon as the weather will permit. Every farmer is invited to bring his wife and if the old bachelor can't induce his neighbor's wife to come with him, it is agreed that he shall be considered eligible. All who can be asked to bring a basket well filled with good things to eat and with the addition of an oyster stew, we expect all to go away filled, not only with an increased amount of knowledge, but also that physical man may go away with the happy feeling that he is also in the possession of what seems to be an all balanced ration.

CECIL SHEEP WILL RECEIVE DIPPING

State veterinarian, W. H. Lytle of Salem was called to Cecil the first of the week to inspect a band of 6500 head of sheep on lower Willow creek. These sheep are said to have the scab and it is the owner's intention to make immediate preparations for dipping them.

Morrow county sheep have been free from scab for the past several years, but it is believed that this band became infected through being shipped in a car that carried the germs. A short time ago a band of bucks was brought to Heppner from the Willamette Valley, according to J. O. Hager, secretary of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, and they were affected with the scab. Later these sheep were shipped from Heppner to Cecil in the same car that the bucks were brought in and in this manner became infected. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spreading of the disease.

High School Literary Program For Friday Afternoon.

The Cleronian Literary Society of the Heppner High school has prepared an interesting and varied program which will be presented tomorrow (Friday) afternoon. An urgent invitation has been extended to the patrons of the school to be present on this occasion. The following program will be given:

HEPPNER AND LEXINGTON BREAK EVEN

The basket ball teams of the Lexington and Heppner high schools broke even in the two games in this city last Friday evening, the Lexington girls winning by a score of 32 to 2 and the Heppner boys trampling over their opponents 47 to 15.

As usual, the girls failed to put up anything like a thrilling exhibition, but when the boys came onto the floor the contest was fast and furious. Nickelson, Crawford and Hughes for the locals did the best work, while Johnson and Campbell of Lexington stood out pre-eminently for their team. Johnson is a fast man and his goal throwing was a feature of the game.

Karl Beach and "Red" O'Rourke were the officials.

At the conclusion of the basket ball games, the players from both teams were banqueted by W. G. Scott of Lexington. This last game was to have been played in Lexington, but for the reason that that town has no basket ball hall, it was necessary to play the game in Heppner. So Lexington just brought up their hospitality with them and treated Heppner as though our own folks were in Lexington. The banquet was greatly enjoyed by all those who were fortunate enough to be present, and Mr. Scott received the thanks of the local high school students.

Miss Amelia Steeves was in the city last week organizing classes in dancing. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Victor Marden. They returned to their home in The Dalles Saturday, but Miss Steeves will return to this city at a later date. A large number have signed up for the dancing course.

Boardman

Mrs. C. C. Coykendall spent Wednesday as the guest of Mrs. O. H. Warner.

E. P. Dodd was in town Wednesday from Hermiston.

Lyle Blayden returned home last Thursday from Weiser where he has been attending school since September.

Carl McNaught was in town Thursday.

Mrs. Alta Howard came in Friday from Portland to visit with her brother, J. O. Lower.

Boardman had its opening dance Friday evening in the new building recently built by C. C. Paine. Lunch was served at 12 and about 52 enjoyed the evening. Music was furnished by local talent.

Last Monday the families of Boardman gathered and surprised Mrs. S. H. Boardman, it being her birthday. Everyone carried their lunch and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Alton Klitz, son of F. F. Klitz, is confined to his bed with symptoms of measles.

Dave and John Beavert of Stanfield were looking over the project Tuesday.

HIGH SCHOOL SMOKER WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

The Smokeless Smoker given by the members of the Heppner High School at the Fair pavilion Tuesday night was a huge success, both from the standpoint of interest shown and from the financial side as well. The smoker was worked up through the efforts of Prof. Atkinson and for the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the various lines of athletic activity. The boys realized over forty dollars by their efforts. An admission charge of twenty and fifty cents was made and a fairly large crowd attended.

The feature of the evening's entertainment was the handicap wrestling match between Bauman of Lexington and Harry Groshen, a local high school student. Bauman, who is a wrestler of considerable experience, having done fast work for the Spokane Athletic Club, agreed to throw Groshen three times in an hour. Two falls were the best he could get and it took hard work to get them. Groshen showed by his work-out with Bauman that he has improved fully 75 per cent over what he was when he wrestled Hadley of Hardman during the county fair in this city last fall. It is the opinion of many of the fans that Groshen would give Hadley the match of his life at this time. Jim Cossman of Ione officiated as referee in the wrestling matches.

In the burlesque line of high diving and fancy boxing "Bingo" Binns and "Lightning Spec" Aiken appeared as the headliners. Each of them used a system entirely unique as well as original and by their methods, managed to find each other for a healthy swat once in a while. They boxed three fast rounds and the contest was just reaching the exciting stage for the spectators when the final gong rang. No decision was given.

Copenhagen and Brown got a fall apiece in thirty minutes of wrestling. Copenhagen is 15 pounds heavier than Brown. They were followed by "Black Diamond" Winnard and "Snowball" Hynd in a boxing stunt. The gloves were covered with shoe blacking and the decision was given to the one putting the most blacking on his opponents face. Hynd was given the decision.

The most evenly contested match of the evening was that between Norton Winnard and Cecil Lieuallen, both husky lads, the former weighing 159 pounds and the latter being a trifle heavier, weighing in at 164. Lieuallen was given two falls in 30 minutes of wrestling, but he was forced the limit to get them. His few pounds of additional weight had their advantage over his opponent, otherwise they are very evenly matched.

The sparring match between Mickey Hughes and "Dutch" Hayes was filled with interest and both showed themselves to be clever with the gloves.

By the way of diversion the club swinging exhibition by Jasper Crawford was pleasing, the lights being turned out and torches lighted on the end of the clubs.

Music by the quartett, Chas. Barlow, Prof. Atkinson, Emmett Hughes, and Clarence Scrivner, followed by the barrel boxing stunt concluded the program. In the last event, Troy McCraw proved himself victor over his two opponents, Garnet Barratt and Herb Hynd.

ELKS OFF IN BUNCH ON CONDON SPECIAL

Special Train Will Carry Large Number of Invaders to Condon Where a Class of More Than Twenty Will Be Initiated.

A large part of the membership of Heppner Lodge of Elks, No. 358 will board the special train leaving this city Saturday morning for Condon, accompanied by their wives and best girls. Bills from all over the county have signified their intentions of being at the depot in time to board the special train on Saturday. The train will leave this city at 10:30.

This excursion will undoubtedly be one of the largest ever undertaken by any local organization. By the time the special reaches Condon, 150 Elks will have boarded the train. Condon is making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the visitors. A dance will be given Saturday evening, which will be followed by a six course banquet. A large number of Condon business men are members of Heppner lodge and the trip at this time will serve to bring the two towns closer than ever together. The return trip will be made sometime on Sunday.

Rebekahs Hold Installation.

San Souci Rebekah Lodge of this city held installation on Saturday evening, January 13, district deputy president, Mrs. Florence Hughes being the installing officer.

The officers are as follows: Past-Grand, Mrs. Mattie Edmondson; Noble Grand, Miss Opal Briggs; Vice-Grand, Mrs. Ruth Jayne; secretary, Mrs. Sadie Sigbee; Treasurer, Miss Ruby Corrigal; Warden, Mrs. Myra Noble; Cond., Miss Pearl Wright; I. G. Mrs. Florence Paul; O. G. Mrs. Pearl Chidsey; R. S. N. G. Mrs. Florence Hughes; L. S. N. G. Mrs. Loreta Yeager; R. S. V. G. Mrs. Jennie Currin; L. S. V. S. Mrs. Gertrude Vance; Chaplin, Mrs. Olive Frye.

At the close of the installation, Mrs. Mary E. Hendricson received a fine piece of cut glass in recognition of her valuable services. Mrs. Hendricson had served the lodge as secretary for eleven years. Mrs. Florence Hughes made the presentation. After lodge closed, all members enjoyed a banquet in the dining room.

MUCH WHEAT IS SOLD

One hundred thousand dollars worth of wheat was sold here during the past week according to reliable information. The prevailing high price has been the reason for many of the farmers letting go at this time. Much of it was sold at $1.57 and today's market for bluestem is quoted at $1.60.

Today, at Lexington a sale of 12,000 sacks of wheat is pending. A number of farmers have pooled together and it is said they are about ready to sell at $1.60. The present price will be the means of cleaning up practically all of the unsold wheat in the county.

Dykstra Had Big Crop.

Arthur Dykstra, who farms on Balm Fork, south of Heppner, raised 12,000 bushels of wheat this year and he sold it all for better than one dollar per bushel. Mr. Dykstra believes in better living conditions on the farm and he has just completed a three thousand dollar house, modern in every respect. He expects soon to install an up-to-date gas lighting system. He will make a trip to Portland this week to buy the new lighting appliances.

Pleasant Social Event.

Mrs. Henry Blahm was pleasantly surprised last Sunday at her farm home below Heppner, the occasion being the fifty fifth anniversary of her birth. The party was given by her neighbors and they began to arrive early in the day. About two o'clock in the afternoon a sumptuous dinner was served. Covers were laid for thirty. Music, conversation and story telling were the main features of the afternoon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Piper, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Hendricson, J. B. Huddleston and the Misses Marian Long, Mollie Brown, Katie Blahm, Daisy Hendricson, Bessie Huddleston, Marie Blahm, Clara Brown, Anna Wightman, Martha Blahm and Grace Tyler, and the Messrs. Eddie Brown, Robert Wightman, O. Johnson, Walter Evans, Arnold Piper, Leo Hicks, Henry Brown, Marvin Wightman, Rufus Piper and Willie Blahm.

All departed declaring that they had a happy time and would come again if they had a chance.
