history. The book was sent for, and the passage was found. It read: "Elizabeth was so parsimonious that she even pinched her soldier's rations."

Dick and Johnny were spending a few days with their grandmother who spoils them, as grandmothers will. One night they were saying their prayers, and little Johnny vociferated his petitions to the heavenly throne in a voice that could be heard a mile. He was telling what he wanted for Christmas, and his enthusiasm in the cause got on his brother's nerves.

"What are you praying for Christmas presents so loud for?" interrupted Dick. "The Lord ain't deaf." "No," whispered Johnny, but grandma is."

Harold was passing through a period of soldier worship; anyone with epaulets was to him all-wise and wholly perfect.

He went one day with his mother to call on an elderly widow whose husband had been a general in the civil war. During the course of the conversation the two ladles became involved in a very mild disagreement as to some trifling detail. Harold endured it for a moment, then he observed, chidingly:

"Mother, don't you think a general's wife ought to know?"

The bishop took a personal interest in all his servants and, happening to pass the new maid, he stopped to speak to her. "Well, child," he said, as soon as the insurance is adjusted. 'and where are you?" "If you please -Echo News. me lord," the maid replied, with a curtesy, "between the cook and the housemaid." "Heaven help you!" said the bishop, after a moment's reflection and went on his way.

Condon Visits With Arlington.

The local lodge of the Knights of Pythias were assisted in their initiation work last Monday evening by the degree team of Condon and quite a number of the Condon lodge were present, having driven down in automobiles.

They reported the roads out of Condon for a few miles as being in a very bad condition and we understand that all the cars did not get through on the return trip.

The citizens of Arlington were very glad to see so many down on this occassion and hope that it will lead to more frequent trips .- Arlington Independent.

Burdick Cottage Burned.

Fire Friday evening destroyed the cottage in West Lawn recently built by R. H. Burdick. The Burdick family was taking dinner at the home of Mrs. Lottie Peebler that evening and Mr. Burdick went to the house to renew the fuel in the stove before going to town. When he left the house everything was apparently all right, but he had not been gone ten minutes before the building was in flames. It is believed coal gas formed in the stove and exploded, throwing fire around the room. Nothing could be saved from the building, and the family lost everything except the clothes they were wearing. House and contents were insured. Mr. Burdick announces that he will build again on his lot
