Wm. Stauffer, who owns a ranch in the Social Ridge neighborhood, writes the Gazette-Times that he is returning to his home in Hood River after spending the winter in California.

S. H. Doak, superintendent of the Lexington schools, made a brief business trip to this city last Friday. He was accompanied by his brother, Irvin Doak, who is a teacher in the school at Ione.

Do you have wheat lands for sale? Call on Smead & Crawford and list them up. We have inquiries every week from people desiring to buy. Lands in south part of the county especially desired.

John J. Keegan, of Vale, Or, spent Tuesday in Heppner on business. Mr. Keegan recently purchased a ranch near Vale and he likes his new location very much. He returned home Wednesday.

J. O. Hager, who recently built one of the finest residences in Heppner, is now busy improving the premises and building up the landscape effects. At the present time he is building a concrete wall around his place and laying concrete walks.

There will be a public dance at the Dry Fork Hall, Saturday night, March 31, under the auspices of the Farmers' Union. A cordial invitation has been extended to everyone. J. E. Frazier and Orin Brains will be the floor managers in charge.

Oscar Keithley, prominent Eight Mile farmer, was doing business in Heppner on Wednesday. He will soon be engaged in doing some road work in his locality, we judge, as he took the county road grader out with him when he returned home.

J. T. Doherty who helps Pat Doherty run a big sheep ranch over in the Hog Hollow country near the Umatilla county line, spent several days in Heppner last week. He tells us that Pat has recently purchased a caterpillar engine which will be utilized for general farming purposes and several hundred acres of raw land will be put under cultivation.

Dr. Turner, eye specialist of Portland, will be in Heppner again Saturday, March 24th at the Palace hotel. Dr. Turner is a specialist of experience and standing and you will make no mistake in consulting him. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened. Satisfaction guaranteed. Don't fail to have Dr. Turner show you the new Kryptok double vision glass, for distance and reading, all in one light solid piece of glass. Dr. Turner will be in Ione, Friday March 23rd. Don't forget the date. Consult him.

Pastor McDonald delivered a very powerful and striking sermon at the Christian Church on Sunday evening, his theme being the, "The Second Coming of Christ." He dwelt largely upon the prophecies touching this event, both in the Old and New Testaments, and made it quite plain that we are living in the age when this great event may be looked for in the history of the world. Mr. McDonald made no attempt to set a date for the second coming but he believes that we shall witness the appearance of Jesus Christ upon the earth again as predicted in the scriptures, before the close of this century. In the light of the prophecies given, it is a subject well worth the serious consideration of everyone, and is now attracting the attention of the best pulpites in the land.

Call on us for real novelties in trimmed hats. We have them new each week. Also new suits and coats.

MRS. F. LUPER.

The young son of Frank Moyer of Lexington was brought to Heppner Wednesday to receive medical aid. The little boy, in some way had gotten hold of a dynamite cap which exploded in his hand, tearing off his thumb and badly injuring his entire hand.

Joe Hayes was in town Wednesday from his ranch on upper Butter creek and reports lambing under headway there. The cold days with the severe weather have not yet caused any loss in lambs according to Joe and he looks forward to a very successful season.

Among our new subscribers of the week is W. J. Hughes of Prineville. Mr. Hughes, who is engaged in the harness and saddle business in Prineville, recently recovered from a severe attack of the measles. He reports business good in the central Oregon town.

Sandy Anderson and Jock Coleman of Pendleton participated in the entertainment at the opera house in this city last Friday night. Mr. Coleman, who is a Scotch comedian of high order, kept the audience in an uproar for several minutes during his singing and dancing.

Gus Ayers was in town today and left an order with us for the Gazette-Times to be sent to J. B. Culick at Portland. Mr. Culick has sold his ranch to Link Swaggart of Athena. Mr. Swaggart will not take possession until Fall and in the meantime Mr. Ayers will have charge of the ranch.

Dr. Winnard reports the arrival of twin boys at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moyer of Black Horse on Wednesday, March 21. This is the second set of twins to arrive at the Moyer home, the first being girls. Six children have arrived at the Moyer home in four years, which we maintain, is a pretty fair record.

Doric Lodge No. 20 held initiation services in the third rank at their lodge hall on Tuesday evening. Chas. Barlow and Chas. Swindig were the victims and they are now full fledged Knights. A feed was the feature of the closing hour, with W. W. Smead as chef in charge.

Jas. Gentry, running the big grader for the city, has been doing some excellent work on the streets in the depot neighborhood the past week. The roads, after being graded and well rounded are said to serve as a big temptation for speeders and they have a hard time keeping within the prescribed limit.

Judgment in the Kistner-Ewing irrigation case has been handed down by Judge Phelps, in which the court defines the rights of both parties to the controversy, assessing the costs to both litigants and defining the statutes in such a way that there should be no cause for further trouble in the future.

Mrs. Bertha Drew Gilman, of Heppner, department press correspondent of the Woman's Relief Corps, who has been visiting in Portland for several weeks, has been extensively entertained by Relief Corps friends. Mrs. Gilman will spend the summer in the East, and attend the National convention in Boston in August.—Society note in Portland Oregonian.

Parson's Novelty Orchestra will hold another one of their popular balls at the Fair pavilion on Saturday evening of March 24th. Parson's Novelty orchestra furnished music for the Elks' Ball recently and the music of their stringed instruments made a decided hit with Heppner dancers.

In spite of the fact that February is the shortest month in the year, W. Claude Cox of the Morrow County Creamery announces that it was the best month he has had since taking charge of the milk wagon for the company. Business has been so good with this department of the creamery that Mr. Cox recently received a substantial increase in his salary.

Joseph M. Hayes was in town from the Butter creek sheep ranch of Hayes & Son yesterday. He states that they are in the midst of lambing and meeting with good success. Being well supplied with sheds and plenty of feed no inconvenience or loss is being suffered on account of the severe weather. Snow still lingers on the north hill sides and typical March weather is the order. Mr. Hayes is hoping for better weather conditions within the next week or so that the grass on the range may have a chance to grow.

In the March issue of the National Woolgrower appears a picture of the residence of W. B. Barratt of this city. Mr. Barratt has a fine home of which he is justly proud. A few more citizens after the type of Mr. Barratt and Heppner would build up wonderfully. But the larger cities prove a stronger attraction for many of our wealthy men, and Heppner is thereby denied many of the things which rightfully belong here. In fact if anything like a fair proportion of the wealth which has been produced here had remained at home, there would be many more homes like the Barratt home and there would be other nice buildings to bless our town.

Read these Extracts from the St. Louis Papers the Day following the Wonderful Comparison which is here illustrated.

ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC

"The problem of music in the home is solved when the singing of the greatest artists is made possible by an instrument that does not betray itself in the very presence of the artist."

GLOBE-DEMOCRAT

"None in the audience was able to distinguish when Miss Case ceased singing, except by observing that her lips did not move. The union between the tones of her voice and the reproduction on the instrument was so remarkable that trained ears could not detect the slightest difference."

POST-DISPATCH

"The test convinced many skeptics of the triumph of Mr. Edison's genius in re-creating the human voice in all its naturalness."

Let Us Prove It to You

WE WANT you to hear this wonderful new instrument, called the New York Globe which "the phonograph with a soul." After you have heard it, we are sure you will not be satisfied with a talking machine. Let us prove through your own ears that the New Edison does literally Re-Create all forms of music.

NOTICE: Please do not ask us to sell you Edison Re-Creations if you intend to attempt to play them on any other instrument than a New Edison. No other instrument can bring out the true musical quality of Edison Re-Creations. Furthermore, injury to the records is likely to result if you attempt to play them on an ordinary phonograph or talking machine.
