The Cecil ball that is announced for April 21, promises to be one of the big events of the season. Music will be furnished by the celebrated xylophone orchestra of Portland.

Mr. Bean, who is baling the Franklin crop of alfalfa, lost a valuable horse Sunday morning. The veterinarian of LaGrande wired treatment but its application did not save the animal.

Mr. Lowe has been doing some carpenter work upon his living rooms and since the work of painting and oiling has been done the rooms present an inviting and cosy appearance. Last Monday evening the Minors

Annie Lowe, Minnie Lowe, Annie Hynd, Louisa Shaw and Rufus Burroughs, together with Mr. and Mrs. Hynd, spent an enjoyable evening at the Franklin home. The young people participated in a number of games and refreshments were served.

Last Wednesday W. B. Ewing proceeded to drive to the mountains above Heppner a band of 160 head of cattle for Spring pasturage. Alvin Cummings, who was in Cecil the first of the week, went along to help drive them.

Lena S. Shurto, Mr. Pittman and chauffeur were entertained Tuesday noon at the home of Mrs. Bennett. These distinguished educators made visitations upon our rural schools while enroute through the valley. They also spoke upon the vital problems of education and how best to realize the effective and efficient rural schools. These meetings tend greatly to foster the harmony of forces that shall contribute to this success.

The cold epidemic that manifested itself with fever, sore throat and tonsillitis left tangible evidence of its sojourn here last week. Clyde and Amy Franklia were prevailed upon to leave their compliments of regrets. The Streeter children were so badly afflicted they were taken to Arlington where treatment was prescribed for them by Dr. Chick.

Manager Sparks wishes to announce for the benefit of the Lexington people that his programs now are entirely different from those shown at Lexington. Formerly, through the arrangement of Mr. Sparks and Mr. Leach, the two show houses showed practically the same films; but since the Star has arranged its new program, there is no duplication of films.

The Oregon Garage received over 1700 pounds of new Republic tires this week which replace all the old stock they had on hand. These tires are of all sizes. Where a large stock of rubber goods is carried constantly on hand there is bound to be some deterioration in a year's time, and frequent replacement assures the buyer that he is getting no shelf-worn stock.
