WEEKS' NEWS.

Local And Personal Happenings of Heppner And Vicinity.

Frank Engelman of Ione was a Monday visitor in Heppner.

Roy Coxen and wife of Butter creek were in the city last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boyd of Mitchell, Ore., were in Heppner the first of the week.

W. E. Cummings and family who live west of this city, spent Saturday night here.

N. M. Johnson of Gooseberry, spent several days in Heppner last week doing grand jury duty.

Everett Hughes, a Portland wool buyer, was interviewing local growers in this city Monday.

Phil Doherty, well known north Ione farmer, spent the first of the week in Heppner on business.

M. B. Haines, Ione hotel man, is spending the week in Heppner, being empaneled here for jury duty.

Paul Webb and wife spent several days in Heppner the past week from their farm home south of this city.

R. J. Carson, prominent Wheeler county stockman, was transacting business in Heppner the first of the week.

Position wanted during harvest as engineer; can handle either steam or gas engines. Call at Star Theatre, Heppner.

Harvey McAllister of Lexington was attending circuit court in Heppner last week, being called here as a member of the grand jury.

Carl Troedson and Bert Palmateer prominent young farmers of the Morgan section, were Heppner business visitors the first of the week.

The summer term of the Oregon Normal School will begin June 18; the fall semester September 10. For further particulars write to the Registrar.

J. R. Oliver and Colon R. Ebberhard, LaGrande attorneys, arrived in the city the first of the week to attend to legal matters in Judge Phelps' court.

Lee Cantwell has gone into the wood sawing business with a novel engine. The gas engine produces the power of locomotion as well as running the saw.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse O. Turner returned from Portland last Sunday evening after spending a week in the metropolis and are now at home north of this city.

Dennis Kiernan and Peter Curran, residents of the north Lexington section, proved up on their homesteads before U. S. Commissioner C. C. Patterson in this city Monday.

E. H. Turner, owner of the Hamiltonian Stallion, Premio, announces that he will meet anyone desiring the services of this horse at the Hale stable in Ione. Write him at Ione and make appointment. Terms, $5.00 and $10.00.

W. B. Finley, Sand Hollow farmer, was a business visitor in the city the first of the week. Mr. Finley has been bringing that part of Morrow county to the front in recent years through his thorough farming methods. Crop conditions in his locality are good.

This office received a pleasant call on Tuesday from E. H. Turner, of Ione. Mr. Turner has been a busy man for the past few months, getting in a large tract of land. He has 950 acres sown to Spring grain and this is all up and doing fine, being greatly improved by the recent good rains that fell in that section.

Mrs. D. E. Gilman left today for a visit of three months to eastern points. She goes first to Saskatoon, Canada, where she will spend about six weeks and will go from there to Minneapolis. The greater part of the visit will be made in Boston, where she will attend the national convention of the Women's Relief Corps.

J. H. Helms, of Lexington, was doing jury duty in Heppner a couple of days the first of the week. He states that practically every foot of land is being farmed in his section and a large crop will doubtless be harvested there again this year. Mr. Helms has in 800 acres of grain and it is all up and doing fine. The Lexington country will do its bit in supplying the necessities of life during the threatened food shortage.

E. H. French and family, of the north Lexington section, were visitors in Heppner on Tuesday. Mr. French has in a good crop of grain this season and states that it is looking fine at this time. He has disposed of his interest in his brother, with the exception of his grain crop, and this he will harvest and dispose of in the fall. After the crop is gotten out of the way, Mr. French contemplates moving his family to some section east of the Rocky Mountains, probably Oklahoma.

From The Dalles Chronicle we take the following: "It was left to Mrs. Mary K. Britten to remember millitamen likes music. Depriving herself the pleasure of her instrument, Mrs. Britten had her piano removed from her home in Second street to the barracks in the old court house and now, if they wish, the soldiers can have 'music with their meals.' Several men in the barracks are professional pianists. 'You can't imagine how much pleasure the piano has given the boys,' said an officer. 'It's a little lonesome you know, and nothing pleases them better than to sing. Mrs. Britten has the everlasting gratitude of the millitamen.'"

Mrs. Britten is well remembered in Heppner as the woman who carried on such extensive relief work here at the time of the Heppner flood. Her chief aim in life appears to be to help others. She carries on a work of philanthropy that is deserving of the highest praise.

Ora Adkins, Rhea creek farmer, was in the city on business Wednesday.

Lee Padberg of Ione was among the many out of town visitors in Heppner this week, being called here on court matters.

Harley Adkins and wife of Rhea creek were Wednesday business visitors in Heppner.

E. L. Berry, the sign painter, has remodeled one of the Ashbaugh buildings on Main street and is now using the same as a paint shop. He is specializing in automobile painting.

LaVerne VanMarter has accepted a position with Gurdane & Son and is now serving soft drinks to the patrons of that establishment.

The Phonograph which Really Sings

There are many kinds of talking machines and sound reproducing machines, but there is only one instrument that really sings; the rest of them give an imitation of singing, just as you or I might give an imitation of a dog barking.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul" actually sings. It has stood beside Marie Rapold, Anna Case, Margaret Matzenauer, Giovanni Zenatello, Guido Ciccolini, Jacques Urus, Arthur Middleton, Thomas Chalmers, and a score of other great artists, and has sung duets with them and then sung in comparison with them. The music critics of five hundred of America's principal newspapers concede in the columns of their own papers that it is only by watching the lips of the flesh-and-blood artists that they can tell whether it is the artist singing or the New Edison singing.

MAKE US PROVE OUR STATEMENTS

We almost hope that you will disbelieve what we say. If you question our word, please do us the justice to come into our store and give us a chance to prove that the New Edison does all we claim for it.

You will not be asked to buy. We are satisfied if we can convert you as fully as the music critics of America's principal newspapers have been converted.

Notice—Please do not ask us to sell you Edison Re-Creations if you intend to attempt to play them on any other instrument than the New Edison. No other instrument can bring out the true musical quality of Edison Re-Creations. Furthermore, injury to the records is likely to result if you attempt to play them on an ordinary phonograph or talking machine.
