RECRUITING IS STILL GOING ON AS BEFORE

Contrary to the general belief, recruiting is still going on all over the United States. This process of filling the ranks of the army and navy slowed up to some extent while the draft law was being framed and put into effect.

The selective draft method will take the men for that position to which they are best fitted, according to the judgement of the government officials. Under the volunteer system, which is still in vogue, the volunteer has the privilege of selecting that division of the service which he desires to enlist in. Postmaster W. A. Richardson of Heppner is still receiving enlistments and he has the proper blanks in his office.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen. One 4 year old bay gelding with stripe in face, one bay 4 year old mare, one mule 4 years old and one brown mare 7 years old. All branded JR connected, on left shoulder. Five dollars per head will be paid as a reward for any information leading to the recovery of these animals.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS FAVOR PACIFIC HIGHWAY

Whatever Federal aid is granted for the construction of roads in Oregon this year and during the continuance of the war will be allotted for roads extending southward from Portland, toward the California line, a link in the proposed Pacific Highway.

This is indicated by an announcement sent out by the Council of National Defense to all state executives, urging the continuance by the states of work on military highways, and the temporary cessation of work on automobile roads designed primarily to make accessible spots of scenic or historic interest. The announcement, therefore, means that whatever money is advanced to Oregon from the Federal roads appropriation will be applied to the Pacific Highway, and will not be allotted for the road around Mount Hood or the road leading to the Oregon caves.

In the language of the Council, Federal aid should only be granted "for through roads, leading from one center of population or commerce to another", and specific mention is made of the Pacific Highway extending through Washington, Oregon and California, this being cited as the one road system on the Pacific Coast requiring immediate attention.

In this stand the Council approves thoroughly the attitude of the Secretary of war, and endorsed the Secretary of Agriculture, and as these officials have jurisdiction over the Federal road fund, they will be able absolutely to control the allotment and stipulate on what roads it shall be used.
