THE BIRTH OF A NATION

Manager Sparks Secures The Big Film.

Slavery in half the states of the Union! Abraham Lincoln, the man risen from the people to deliver them! The moral and political separation of one half of the sovereign states from the remainder of the Union! The tremendous and never-to-be-forgotten American Civil War, with all its horrors! Then the Carpetbag rule; devastation of the conquered South; the free and ignorant slaves creating a reign of terror among the whites—the organization and the enforcement of the Ku Klux Klan upon the blacks—all entwined with love of Northerner for Southerner, and visa versa—of suffering, death, despair and heart-ache—these are the principal features of D. W. Griffith's indescribable production, The Birth of A Nation, a realization so swift, so mighty, so absorbing that it makes three hours whirl by like a few minutes—and sends the bewildered spectators stumbling out of the theatre, struggling for their bearings and gasping for every breath.

The Birth of A Nation will never see a rival, for it has covered all the drama of the Nation—and covered it too vividly for others to even approach it. Every time it unfolds upon a screen, that time the life-drama of America is re-enacted.

This justly termed, "World's Famous Spectacle," will hold the boards of the Opera House on June 26 and 27, with a Special Matinee on Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. Adults 50 cents, children 25 cents. Evenings at 8:15. Reserved seats $1.00, general admission 75 cents. Children are especially requested to attend the matinee performance, as the limited seating capacity will not permit of any children price at night.

The performance lasts three hours, and is accompanied by the organization's own Director with a splendid musical score. Seats are on sale for the evening performances now, at the Opera House.

DOCTOR WRITES FROM CHICAGO

(Continued from First Page) would have been the inevitable result under the old regime, but in an incredibly short time they would be healed.

We saw burns so deep and so extensive that it would usually cause death or render the victim a helpless cripple, yet the new treatment caused new flesh to form, new skin comes on rapidly and even returns to the natural color without contracting a discoloration so familiarly seen in all serious burns.

Dr. Carrell, who brought out this new method is the only doctor who has been able to take a leg from one dog and make it grow onto another dog, or transplant a kidney from one animal to another.

In the section on the diseases of children one half day was devoted to consideration of infantile paralysis. While considerable advancement has been made in their knowledge of the disease, they are still unable to tell how it is transmitted from one case to another.

It has been 38 years since the American Medical last met in New York. Dr. Chas. Mayo, the president of the association, in his address, pointed out the great progress that has been made in medical science during that time, in surgery, sanitation and various other branches of medical knowledge. The Panama canal could not have been built had not the mosquito been discovered as the carrier of yellow fever and malaria. Dr. Mayo said that out of the war would come many advancements and said that the only use for alcohol now days is in the arts and sciences. It is not needed as a medicine, as doctors now know so many other things that are better. It is his belief that national prohibition should be adopted. The loud and prolonged applause which greeted this remark shows where the medical profession stands on this great question.

Dr. Chick has gone to Michigan to visit his relatives and friends while I will take a few more days taking instruction in the treatment of eye, ear, nose and throat and in fitting glasses. Then we will both be home dealing out pills.

You will then realize, if you never have before, that the pill is mightier than the pen.

Very truly,
DR. N. E. WINNARD.
