Writing from Granite, Ore., W. P. Leach says the snow is yet quite deep in that part of the mountains where he is now with sheep. In some places the snow banks are from 12 to 14 feet deep, but it is possible for the sheep to feed right up to the snow. He says there are all kinds of game back there this year such as deer, elk, grouse and the mountain streams are full of fish on account of so much water. According to Mr. Leach, they had very good luck going into the mountains this year. He got his count at Granite and was short just two sheep. Mr. Leach says there will be lots of huckleberries up there this year.

The old First National Bank building is now giving way to a modern structure. Although the old building is one of the oldest, if not the oldest brick structure erected in Heppner, it is none the less substantial. The bank will be located in the McNamee building while work of putting up the new building is in progress. This will probably take the rest of the summer.

Oranges Sell For 10 Cents in San Diego

Heppner Boy Now In Naval Training Station at San Diego Writes to His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lieuallen.

The following letter has been received from Cecil Lieuallen by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lieuallen who reside on Rhea creek. Mr. Lieuallen, who was a popular high school student in this city, is now at the naval training station at San Diego, California.

San Diego, Calif., July 8, 1917.

Dear Folks:

We got to San Diego all OK and it surely is a great place. The people think the sailors are just about right and we have things just about our own way. Our training station is in the old exposition grounds and in the center of Balboa Park. It makes a fine place for a training station. The weather is pretty warm, as it is only 15 miles from the Mexican border.

The orange and lemon groves are great. Oranges sell for 10 cents per dozen.

I have not received any letters since coming here; I guess they have lost all account of me.

What did you do the Fourth? Fifteen hundred of us sailors, some English sailors, the coast artillery and army marched about six miles in parade through the streets of San Diego. It was sure a hot old march. There were twenty army airships sailing around above us.

Wait Hayes may be back most any time now. He got a medical discharge because of flat feet. I think training on the hot pavement causes it. My right foot is going flat, I think.

How are the crops this year?

Well, I will have to close,

Yours truly,

CECIL LIEUALLEN.

Pork Is Going Up.

It cost Al Wing of Ione just $25 for a ham this week. We might add that the ham was not an extra large one either, but was one that Mr. Wing was taking to the summer camp of E. M. Shutt on Ditch creek along with some other supplies. Mr. Wing appropriated the ham for his own individual larder. He pleaded guilty in Justice Cornett's court and was fined $25.

On Auto Tour to South.

He is accompanied by Mr. Swanson, a tailor in his shop.

Celebrate Twentieth Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner B. MacDonald were "at home" to their numerous friends on last Saturday afternoon and evening, the occasion being their twentieth wedding anniversary. Entertainment and refreshments were provided, and their friends called and paid their respects from two till five in the afternoon and from seven until nine in the evening. There was much joy and merriment and Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald received the well wishes of all those who called during the day and evening, and they were also remembered by friends with a nice set of dishes which expresses in a measure the high esteem in which these good people are held by the people of the community.
