OVER MILLION HEAD OF STOCK GRAZED ON NATIONAL FORESTS

District Forester, Geo. H. Cecil, Portland, Oregon, announces that the National Forests of Oregon and Washington are furnishing grazing during the present summer for 177,167 head of cattle and horses belonging to 3,269 ranchers, and 1,025,843 head of sheep, owned by 705 sheepmen. These figures show an increase of 462 cattlemen, with 19,478 head of cattle, and 48 sheepmen with 29,102 head of sheep above the numbers taken care of in 1916. This increase is due to the introduction of better methods of handling the stock; the blanket or open method of grazing sheep as advocated by the Forest Service and the management of cattle under special rules established by the District Forester and based on the needs of the range.

In addition to these figures 359 owners were given free permits to cross 6,535 head of cattle and horses and 551,895 head of sheep over the National Forest range to shipping points, and for other purposes. Free permits were also given to 215 owners on account of private lands within the National Forest boundaries for 7,675 head of cattle and horses and 107,488 head of sheep; 41,647 ewes were also lambd on National Forest range.

The District Forester finds there is a serious shortage in the regular hay crop throughout the district. He hopes however that the amount of inferior grain crops cut for hay will offset this. He has planned to have all farmers who have surplus hay on hand communicate with his office at Portland and a strong effort will be made to get the information to stockmen who need the hay.

Word received in this city states that Marcus Gunn, formerly of Heppner, is now a second lieutenant stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Mr. Gunn has been making his home in Detroit, Michigan since leaving Heppner in 1903.
