FAME FOR THIS LITTLE GIRL OVER NIGHT.

One night, not long ago, a very little girl went to bed. Her name was Marie Osborne. She was then unknown except to a privileged few. By the next day she had become famous. The Pathe Gold Rooster play, called "Little Mary Sunshine," in which she was the star, had been shown in all the big cities of the country, during the intervening twenty-four hours.

Soon the vast world-wide organization of Pathe began to send her in round tin boxes to the end of the earth and the entire civilized globe took her to its collective heart. Then came "Shadows and Sunshine," and "Joy and the Dragon." Now "Twin Kiddies" her latest starring vehicle is to be shown at the Star Theatre Thursday and Friday.

goes on to a happy ending, after an entirely unexpected twist is given to the scene, of the little girl's immensely wealthy grandfather. Left to choose between society and the slums; between an English fop or her newsboy for a husband, the little girl does the entirely human and consistent thing—she marries the choice of her heart and remains a "jewel" in pawn to Dan Cupid instead of the kindly old Jew who has so tenderly nurtured his most precious "pledge."

Dennis Back in the Game.

Bruce Dennis, former publisher of the LaGrande Observer, is back in the newspaper game after a few months' respite. In company with J. T. Beamish, formerly of Detroit, and W. H. Walton, formerly of Hood River, he has bought the Baker Herald from C. C. Powell and F. W. Tenney, who have published it for the past six years. For the present, Mr. Dennis will continue as executive secretary of the State Defense Council.—Pendleton Tribune.

Party Autos to Portland.

Ben Patterson left Sunday by automobile for Portland. He was accompanied by Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Herbert Bartholomew and granddaughters Margaret and Katherine West and Ben Griffiths. Mrs. Bartholomew and the girls have been visiting at the Patterson home for several weeks and were returning to their home in Portland. Mr. Griffiths has been freight agent at the local depot for the past year but recently resigned.

Dr. Turner, the well known eye specialist of Portland, will be at the Palace hotel, Heppner, again Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13, 14. In Ione Sept. 11. In Lexington Sept. 12. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened. Satisfaction guaranteed. Consult him. Don't forget the date.

The county road from the old Hamilton mill on up Willow creek to the Coal Mines is to be improved and the heavy grades eliminated to a large extent. A new survey has been made and the road crew is now busy on the grading. The main part of the work just now is to get the trees and stumps out of the way and after that is done it will not take a great while to do the grading. When completed, the steep pitches, and hard grade up the mountain to Ditch creek will be practically eliminated and the road made to conform to a 3 per cent grade for nearly the entire distance and it will be much easier to get fuel into Heppner from that quarter than it is now. Much improvement could be made, also, in the grade up the mountain to Ditch creek and we should like to see this done.

"A JEWEL IN PAWN"

Jack Conway, who has had such remarkable success in directing Ella Hall in Bluebird features, will present that dainty little star in another Bluebird at the Star Theatre on Saturday only when "A Jewel in Pawn" will provide the medium for Miss Hall's return to the legion of friends she has made through her earlier appearances as a Bluebird star. Especially gifted in talents to deftly and correctly interpret juvenile characters, Miss Hall is fitted with a role in "A Jewel in Pawn" that fits her to a nicety. She plays the part of a little girl who is left in pawn by her mother, who borrows enough money to go home to her father and seek forgiveness for a marriage consummated against his will. Left with a kind hearted old pawn broker (a role expertly played by Walter Belasco) she falls in love with a little newsboy, impersonated by Antrim Short and the romance of the tenements
