

The Most Beautiful Car in America

Paige cars have long since demonstrated their independence of all "price fields."

American men and women now buy a Paige—not because of the price tag which is attached to it—but because of its well established reputation as a fine mechanical product.

On this basis, the Paige will always represent a "preferred investment" among motor cars. Its actual cost in dollars and cents will always be an important, but an altogether secondary consideration.

GEORGE HENDRY SELLS THE HEPPNER BAKERY

A deal made the past week is that in which George Hendry sells the Heppner Bakery to A. W. Raglan and A. C. Coffey. The new owners will take possession on the first of October.

Mr. Coffey is a recent arrival in our city from California, being a brother-in-law of Mr. Raglan and is an experienced baker. Mr. Raglan has been running the Variety Store in Heppner the past year and this business will be continued under the direction of Mrs. Raglan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendry have not yet decided what they will do in the future but will continue to make their home in Heppner and Mr. Hendry will probably go into some other business. The continual confinement occasioned by the bakerman's trade is given by Mr. Hendry as his reason for disposing of the business at this time.

IS FINED $75 FOR HAVING LIQUOR

Henry Van Dyke, aged 26, of Lexington, picked up on Sunday night at Arlington by Dorey Sweeten, City Marshal, off train No. 4 with 25 quarts of whiskey, was brought to Condon by E. Wheel, City Marshal and fined $75.00 and costs on Monday night, in the justice court presided over by A. S. Hollen. The fine was paid, and the whiskey, which came from Portland, was confiscated.

Van Dyke, whose destination was Lexington, stepped off on the wrong side of the train, which aroused the suspicion of Marshal Sweeten. He then located two suit cases of "booze" under a freight car and watched for the return of Van Dyke who, after picking up the suit cases, was called upon by the marshal to stop. The suspect then dropped his property and broke into a run, but a couple of shots from Marshal Sweeten's revolver made the capture easy.

Van Dyke's name appears second on the Morrow county list of drafted men certified this week by the District Board at La Grande.—Condon Times.

PENDLETON SHOW HAS MANY EXPERTS LISTED

The Pendleton Round-Up has many noted experts of the realm broncho busting for the 1917 show. In the steer roping contest George and Chas. Weir of Monument, New Mexico, will have their place in the sun. They will find red hot competition in Joe Beeson of Oklahoma, Tommy Grimes of Universal City, Cal., and Tom Yarberry and Ed McCarthy, both from Cheyenne, Wyoming. The steer roping contest is one of the most thrilling events of the entire show. It is a question of who can rope and tie the steer in the shortest time after the animal is liberated from the corral into the big arena. And the old saddle horse plays an important part here also. This contest is well worth the admission to the three days events.

In the ladies' relay will be found this year those well known stars of former championships: Mabel DeLong, of Walla Walla, Ruth Parton of Toppenish, Wash., Bertha Blanche of Pendleton, Donna Card of Missoula, Mont., Nellie Parson of Poulson, Montana, and Joe Sherry of Pendleton.

The men's relay will find last year's champion, Allan Drumheller of Walla Walla back on the turf with his excellent string of horses. Sleepy Armstrong of Pendleton and Jim Parson of Poulson, Montana, will make competition keen for young Drumheller this year. Let'er Buck.

COUNTY AGENT POLICY GETTING INTO ACTION

Benton County to Answer Call for U. S. and O. A. C. Representative in Every Oregon County.

Corvallis, Ore., Sept. 5.—Benton county was the first in Oregon to meet the call for trained agricultural representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College in every county of Oregon, and of the entire nation. The county court met and accepted the cooperative agreement proposed by the College and signed up Geo. W. Kable as county agricultural agent the same day that the State Food Committee passed a resolution urging such action.

The appointment is made under the provisions of the national food law. It was decided that the best way to obtain the agricultural representatives is by the expansion of the county agent system, which is already in operation in some of the counties and has proved its worth in normal times as well as in an emergency. Funds for defraying the expense of the agent in each county until the county court could make an appropriation to cooperate in the maintenance of the work were appropriated by congress.

As fast as other counties accept the cooperative agreement they will be put on the eligibility list and supplied with county agents as soon thereafter as suitable agents can be found. Umatilla county has accepted, says state leader of county agent work, Paul V. Maris, and negotiations are under way with candidates for the agent's position.

The war has brought to light an unusual industry in Columbia county, Wash., where locust trees are being cut and manufactured into wooden nails used in the construction of ships for the government. One contractor has orders for more than 300,000 of these nails which vary in length from a few inches up to two and on-half feet. Locust trees are said to make a nail superior even to oak. The demand for the timber is shown by the fact that this contractor pays $10 a cord for the trees as they stand. He cuts the trees himself and leaves all parts of the wood not suitable for nails for the owner of the grove. The timber is cut into square bolts and shipped to Portland for turning into sizes desired.
