HEPPNER HEARS BOND SPEECHES

L. J. Simpson and E. J. Adams Address Fair Sized Audience.

The citizenship of Heppner was addressed at the Opera House on last evening by Messrs. L. J. Simpson of North Bend and E. J. Adams of Eugene in a rousing patriotic meeting.

A chorus of singers, led by Mrs. Noyes, furnished several patriotic songs and Mrs. R. J. Vaughan sang "America is Calling You" to the delight of all.

Mr. Simpson delivered a very stirring oration, largely reviewing the events leading up to a declaration of war by this country against Germany, and he was listened to with close attention. The climax of his address was the appeal to the patriotism of the people at home who must stand behind the boys that are going to the front to do the fighting in the trenches, and we must see that they lack nothing that will help them to be better soldiers. Food, clothing, the best guns and ammunition must be placed in their hands, and all this requires money, therefore it is up to us at home to see that they have it, and this is to be supplied to the government by the people loaning Uncle Sam the necessary money.

Mr. Adams made a strong and direct appeal to the people, backing up all that had been said by Mr. Simpson and further impressing the great duty and responsibility upon us of doing our bit in this great drive that is on to float the second Liberty Loan. Mr. Adams is a very pleasing speaker and his every word does not fail to leave its impression.

C. E. Woodson presided in an efficient manner.

Mr. Simpson also addressed the students of the High School this forenoon upon food conservation and the Liberty Loan.

In this connection we give the following list of patriotic citizens who have so far subscribed to the new issue of Liberty Bonds: Andy Reed, Jr., $1000; Sybil Hager, $1000; H. S. Ewing, $500; J. C. Kirk, W. A. Richardson, W. E. Severance, Martina H. Thiele and R. J. Vaughan, $100 each.

Visit Klickitat County

Oscar and Claude Keithley of Eight Mile made a visit to Klickitat county, Washington, last week, going over and back in the Keithley car. Crop conditions were fairly good around Goldendale and Centerville but the Keithley boys are convinced that lands over that way do not pay any better returns than the average farmer is getting in Morrow county and they are being held much higher in price. Oscar says he is well satisfied to remain here and continue to help in putting Morrow county on the map. They had a pleasant visit with Fred Esteb and his family who now reside at Centerville.

Coming to Front as Shipping Point.

Hermiston is fast making a name for herself along the line of exporting commodities to various markets. It is surprising what this valley produces when it is taken into consideration that less than a third of the land within its confines is in cultivation.

Nevertheless the soil is here, and the climate and water also, and therefore it is not to be wondered at that since the first of last June 250 car loads of hay, peaches, melons, sheep, hogs, etc., were shipped out of this city over the O-W. R. & N.—Hermiston Herald.

HEPPNER LODGE B. P. O. ELKS RESUMES MEETINGS

Heppner Lodge No. 358, B. P. O. Elks has resumed its meetings for the year, the first formal meeting being held last Thursday evening when about 75 members were present. Several applications for membership were read, and a collection for tobacco for our soldiers and sailors was taken, amounting to some $35. The lodge will hold its annual ball this year during the holiday week and the funds derived herefrom will be given to the Red Cross, or some other department of relief for the Army or Navy.

The Federated Church.

Sunday school 9:45. Next Sunday in our church services we shall join in the world-wide celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the work of Martin Luther. The morning sermon theme will be "Reformers Just Before Luther." In the evening a union service will be held in the Christian church, when stereopticon views of the Life and Times of Luther will be presented. Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. H. A. NOYES, Pastor.

Will Give Farewell Reception.

Arrangements have been completed for the running of a special train from Heppner to Cecil on tomorrow evening. The occasion is a farewell reception to Mr. T. H. Lowe of that place. Mr. Lowe is a member of the English army reserves and has been called to duty. He will have to leave immediately to serve his country and a farewell reception has been arranged for him by his neighbors. There will be a dance with Parson's orchestra in charge of the music, and several other features of entertainment will be provided. Since coming to Morrow county, Mr. Lowe has made a great many friends and these will all be glad to join in this farewell which will in a measure express to him the high esteem in which he is held by Morrow county people. We understand that the family of Mr. Lowe will remain at Cecil.

The first number of the Midland Lyceum Course was delivered in Heppner on Monday evening at the High school auditorium, when the Theresa Sheehan Concert Company appeared before a good audience and rendered one of the very best programs ever given in the city. If each number in the series is to be anywhere as good as this first one, future audiences should be double the one Monday night. The next number of the series will be on the evening of December 23th.

Cuts Arm on Wood Saw.

Tom Driskell, who recently took over the wood saw from Jake Wattenberger, met with a slight accident on Friday evening that might have cost him an arm. He was working a little late and could not see very well and in drawing a heavy piece of wood back he shoved his arm into the saw, receiving a flesh wound that called for several stitches by the surgeon to be closed up. Mr. Driskell thinks that had he been pushing the stick toward the saw instead of drawing it back at the time, he would have had his arm entirely severed just in front of the elbow. The saw scraped the bone through the fleshy part of the arm and made a nasty though not very serious wound.

DRAMATIC ACTOR TO APPEAR AT LEXINGTON

On Thursday evening, Oct. 25th at 7:30 the curtain rises at the school auditorium in Lexington for a dramatic recital, given by Rev. Frank Maples of The Dalles, under the auspices of the student body of the Lexington schools. Mr. Maples will be remembered as speaker at the Lexington commencement exercises at the close of last school year.

Probably few in the audience at that time knew that Mr. Maples' training and experience in appearing before the public had been gained very largely in ten years on the stage. Such is a fact. Besides appearing for two seasons at the famous Drury Lane Theatre, Mr. Maples also appeared at the Pavilion and Garrick Theatres in London and with Sir Herbert Free's Company. During his last two years upon the stage he traveled this country with the famous Richard Mansfield.

In his recital on Thursday, the 25th, at Lexington, Mr. Maples will demonstrate what these years of practical experience mean, in giving ability to make the great masterpieces entertaining and enjoyable for those who have not made a special study of them.

The story of "The Thirty Pieces of Silver" will be a new revelation to the Lexington audience.

In the recital from "Julius Caesar" in addition to giving the complete story of the play, Mr. Maples will recite the great scenes in which the character of Mark Anthony appears.

In addition to the above, the student body and orchestra will render musical numbers. Tickets can be secured from students of the schools, under whose auspices the entertainment is being given.

Makes Visit Here.

Julius Saubert, son-in-law of Wm. Copenhaver, was a visitor at the Copenhaver home and with other friends haver home and with other friends in Morrow county for several days this week. Mr. Saubert is now living at Gold Beach, Oregon, and has been in the Walla Walla country for the past couple of months working in the harvest fields. He left Morrow county five years ago and was glad of the opportunity to make his old-time friends here another visit while on his way home. Mr. Saubert noted much improvement had been made in Lexington and Heppner since his departure, and this is not all confined to the towns, either, as many of the farms have pushed forward and made improvements in keeping with their city neighbors.

NORMAL STUDENTS HAVE FINE BANQUET

One of the enjoyable affairs of institute week was the annual banquet of the students of the Oregon Normal School, which function was inaugurated last year. The banquet Tuesday evening in the banquet room of the Palace hotel was such as to keep the O. N. S. spirit alive among the alumnae of that institution and was greatly enjoyed by those present. The room and table were appropriately decorated with red and grey, the Normal colors, the table being embellished with red dahlias and grey place cards. Mayor S. E. Notson served as toastmaster in his usual witty style and during the course of the evening called upon J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, of Salem, H. C. Seymour of O. A. C., Alfred Powers of the University of Oregon and Mrs. Ruby Shearer Brennan and Rev. Van Waters of Portland, all of whom responded with pleasing addresses. After the banquet was finished a pleasant time was passed in the singing of Normal songs.

Those present were: Normal students, Elias Payne, Misses Elva Troedson, Mable Noyes, Glean Dunton, Lera Githens, Edna Carmichael, Faith Holdrede, Jessie Robertson, Florence Babbitt, Pearl Streeter, Anabel Howard; Guests, Messrs. G. McCarty, chairman; C. A. Minor, W. T. Campbell, J. L. Wilkins, John Brosnan, C. R. Pointer, Jack Hynd, W. H. Cronk and W. G. Scott.

Celebrates 81st Birthday.

Uncle Joe Williams, City Recorder of Heppner, is 81 years young. He passed this mile stone on Sunday, and in honor of the event gave a dinner to a number of his young friends at the Palace grill on Sunday evening. The following were his guests. Misses Ruth Farnsworth, Norma Frederick, Mary VanVactor, Josephine Richardson, Vivian Cox and Mr. Harold Cohn. Still vigorous and enjoying good health Uncle Joe would appear to be in a position to enjoy many returns of his natal day, and this paper rejoins with his numerous friends, both old and young, in wishing that he may.

Ships Goats to Kansas City.

J. O. Allstott shipped two double deck cars of goats to Kansas City from the local stock yards Tuesday. He has been running this bunch of goats in Morrow county during the past summer and got the stock in good shape for the market. This was a new venture for Mr. Allstott and he did not state to us just what he thought of the proposition. This may come to his mind after he has disposed of the goats in the Kansas City stock market.

PHEASANT SHOOTERS ARE "BUM SPORTS"

Report comes to this paper that a bunch of "near sports" stopped along the road just above the Neville place and killed a bunch of Chinese pheasants. It would appear that the party which numbered four or five persons, were traveling toward the mountains in a Ford, and they did the shooting from the road. There is no open season on pheasants in this county and these parties deliberately violated the game laws in this act. Just how many birds were killed has not been learned by our informant, but in their hurry to get away from another car that was coming from behind, they failed to pick up one rooster that was about shot to pieces, though not yet dead when discovered a few minutes after the shooting occurred. There is one man along up that way who has all kinds of warning signs up on his premises, that freely expresses the opinion that if he catches any of these "near sports" killing birds on his domain there will be something going right quick, as he will not wait to call the law to his assistance. There are but few of these birds and it is a pity that they cannot be left alone so that they may propagate and become plentiful.

We were unable to get a full report of the teachers' institute for this issue but are promised one for next week. The institute was pronounced a splendid success, and there was an attendance of the teachers of the county to the number of 69.

DOUBLE RUNAWAY FRIDAY CAUSES EXCITEMENT

The four horse team of Chas. B. Cox, attached to a wheat wagon, became frightened at the warehouse near the depot on Friday morning and made a lively runaway, heading up the street toward town. Just after crossing the bridge over Hinton creek the team met up with Luther Huston who was exercising his Percheron stallion. This animal became at once enthused with the excitement, whirled about and joined in the race. Mr. Huston had the animal hitched to a light sulky, and exercised all the strength he could muster to hold him in, but to no avail, and it kept him tightly busy dodging the other rig, telephone and electric light poles and holding on to the seat. Mr. Huston fared well until he had passed the Willow creek bridge a short distance, when he was unseated by some obstruction in the road. He landed on his head and received a very painful, though not serious bump. The horse proceeded on his way and ran into the awning in front of the postoffice, dislocating a post or two, and finally piled up on the walk in front of the Farmers & Stockgrowers Bank. The animal seemed to be determined to get back to his quarters at the barn just as rapidly as possible. The Cox team piled up near the Fair Grounds and came out of the fray none the worse for wear. Mr. Huston's injuries were really slight; pulling on the lines blistered his hands some, and he got various bruises, from all of which he is now well recovered. Mr. Cox escaped uninjured, with the exception of a pretty badly sprained back.

For Food Conservation.

A joint meeting, to be held at the Ella school house on the evening of October 23, at 7:30, has been arranged by the teachers of Districts No. 9, 28, 5 and 16. S. E. Notson of Heppner, chairman of the Morrow county food conservation committee will be present and address the meeting. At this time, also, will be taken up the matter of registering the people of these districts in the campaign of food conservation now to be pushed under the general direction of Mr. Hoover. It is therefore earnestly desired that the meeting be largely attended.

Boardman Church to be Dedicated.

The new community church at Boardman, which has been built by the people of the new irrigation town by the donation of both money and work, will be dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 28. Rev. A. J. Montgomery, D. D., of Portland, Superintendent of Home Missions for the Synod of Oregon, will preach at 10:30 a. m. in the evening Rev. Jas. Faucett, of Stanfield, will preach at 7:30. Special music has been prepared and a large audience is expected. By the building of a fine new school at Boardman, as well as the construction of the new church, is evidenced the wide awake and progressive spirit of the settlers on the newest reclamation project in the north end of the county.

Little Girl Injured.

Dr. McMurdo was called to Hardman in a hurry on Tuesday to wait upon Juanita Leathers little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Leathers, who had a crochet hook implanted in her left side, not far from the point of her heart. Miss Leathers was doing some crochet work when she started to go through a door. On opening the door the hook was struck with sufficient force that it penetrated her side to within about half an inch of her heart. Upon the arrival of the physician an anesthetic was administered and the instrument removed. The little girl was reported to be doing well when last heard from.

At the residence of J. A. Waters in this city on Monday evening, Oct. 15, occurred the marriage of Harley Wright to Miss Lulu Margaret Gaunt, both of Hardman, Turner B. MacDonald officiating.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Wright, pioneer residents of the Hardman country and the bride is a sister of Dr. G. G. Gaunt of that place. Both young people are well known, and their many friends wish them a prosperous and happy union.

ACCIDENT FROM FALLING TREE PROVES FATAL

R. Hogeland, of Parkers Mill, Victim of Accident.

Richard Hogeland, of Parkers Mill, died at the hospital in Heppner as the result of an accident which happened to him at 9:30 Saturday morning. At that time, with his son, R. C. Hogeland, he was at work in the timber on his place cutting down a large tree to be worked up into cordwood. They were using a saw and when about two-thirds of the way through the tree it began to split and lean in the opposite direction from which they expected it to fall. The son gave the warning and rushed out of danger down the hill while Mr. Hogeland started to get out of the way by moving up the hill. He was not soon enough, however, and was caught as the tree came down, being wedged between the butt of the falling tree and another log where he was compelled to remain until assistance could be summoned from a distance of about three-quarters of a mile. Parties at work with a jack rushed to Mr. Hogeland's assistance and helped to remove the tree, when it was found that he had a badly crushed foot and one arm broken in three different places, besides internal injuries. He was rushed to the hospital in Heppner where he received surgical aid but his injuries were of such a nature that there was no possibility of saving his life and he died about 6:30 Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hogeland, the son and his wife were witnesses to the accident, the women being near at hand when the tree fell. Mr. Hogeland was entirely conscious during all the time until taking the anesthetic at the hospital, and he directed the workers in getting the log off his body.

Funeral services were held in the Christian church at Heppner on Tuesday afternoon, the pastor, T. B. MacDonald, officiating, and interment was in Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Hogeland is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Mogeland, and three sons and one daughter, A. D. Hogeland of Echo, L. E. Hogeland of Cloverland, Wash., R. C. Hogeland and Mrs. Walter Drum of Parkers Mill.

Richard Hogeland was a native of New York state and came to this county about eighteen years ago, taking up the homestead in the mountains on which he resided at the time of his death. He was a member of the United Brethren church and was well respected by his neighbors.

PIONEER STOCKMAN DIES IN HEPPNER

George Perry Was Engaged in Stock Industry Here Many Years.

George Perry, prominent stockman of Morrow and Gilliam counties, and a pioneer resident of this section, died at the home of his daughter Mrs. E. E. Gilliam, in Heppner at 10:30 o'clock on Saturday, October 13, 1917.

Mr. Perry had been sick but a short time prior to his death, though he had not been in good health for some time, suffering from stomach and kidney trouble. At the time of his death he was surrounded by all the members of his family who had been summoned to his bedside.

Funeral services were held at Masonic temple and at the grave under the auspices of the local lodge of Masons and were attended by a very large concourse of people, as Mr. Perry had many friends in this community, where he has been known for so many years.

George Perry was born in Tyrone County, Ireland, September 4, 1852, the son of Wm. and Margaret Perry. He was one of a family of ten children, only two of whom are now living, Henry Perry and Sarah Scott of Lone Rock. He came to the United States in 1863 and to Oregon in 1876, settling near Lone Rock. On September 8, 1884, he was united in marriage at Heppner to Mary E. Neel and to them nine children were born, two dying in infancy. The children are Margaret Yarborough of Lone Rock, May E. Gilliam of Heppner, George M. Perry, American Lake, Wash., in the service of the United States, Linnie Thornton, Heppner, Lawrence, Merrill and Leo Perry of Lone Rock.

Mr. Perry had been engaged quite extensively in the stock and sheep business in Morrow and Gilliam counties for many years past and was among the substantial business men of this county in that line. He was affiliated with the Masonic, I. O. O. F., K. of P. and Elks orders.

LIEUTENANT ALLISON SPEAKS AT LOWELL

The following item, clipped from a paper published at Lowell, Arizona, will prove of interest to our many readers:

"Of great interest to the men who will leave next Tuesday for Douglas, from which point they will go to Camp Funston to begin training in the national army, is the talk which will be given this afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Lieutenant H. T. Allison, surgeon attached to the Thirty-Fifth Infantry detachment at Lowell, at the Elks home.

"Elks of the District have been instrumental in arranging the lecture by Lieutenant Allison. Many Elks will leave Tuesday but the talk is open to all who wish to hear.

"There are many features of the life, which the men are about to take up, that are unknown to most people. A few pointers, from someone who has been attached to the army, will aid in many respects. Lieutenant Allison expects to give a general talk. Everyone is invited."
