A THRUST AT KNOCKERS, TRAITORS AND COPPERHEADS.

Hon. Fred Kern, editor of the Belleville, Ills., News-Democrat, in an editorial in his issue of August 21, made a stand for patriotism and loyalty so self evident that it deserves publicity in every paper in the United States.

Fred J. Kern is a full blooded, natural-born German. He publishes a paper in Belleville, a community with a large percentage of German-American population. Here are a few of the things he has to say:

We meet men who were born and raised in this country every day who talk seriously and repeat the thread bare pro-German arguments which they derive either directly or indirectly from the German language press published in this country.

The editors of these same newspapers are not loyal to this country. Most of them are not even naturalized citizens of the United States. Some are spies who ought to be shot. Others are alien knockers who ought to be deported. Still others are traitors or copperheads.

They were not for this country before the war started. We have sat in saloons with them and talked with them for hours. They try to belittle every institution and other things that exist in the United States. From the government and the flag and the laws and the American people to the city and the rabbits and the birds and the grapes and the peaches and the prunes and the food and the amusements and the drinks and the institutions. Nothing in this country is good eough for them.

When you hear these conceited braggarts talk everything in finer and bigger and better in Germany than it is in the United States.

They talk as if it were a punishment for them to remain in the United States, a sort of banishment; still they stick with the tenacity of ticks. They never go back. But they bite he hand that feeds them, like the cur in the story, to borrow the words of the now famous popular song.

These fellows talk socialism and even anarchism, but when they arn't kissing the dust at the feet of the Kaiser they are carrying cobs not only for the toadies and the flunkies of royalty who write the "Von" between their first and last names.

We never saw a "Herr Von" yet who wasn't a down right deadbeat. They are a lazy lot of loafers and vagabonds. Our parents who were both born in Germany taught us from our earliest boyhood years to keep our hand on our pocketbook when one of these Adelege Herren, or sprouts of the stuck-up, arrogant, brow-beating German nobility was around the neighborhood anywhere, and to avoid and shun him like a rattler.

America is our country. Here is where we were born and where our wife and children were born.

This country has been mighty good to us. It threw open the doors of opportunity and bade us enter. It gave us liberty.

Under the protecting wings of the American eagle we enjoyed security and peace, until the German warlord and overlord and autocrat and aristocrat and despot, whose progenitors drove our parents out of Germany and away from their homes, "lifted the lid off of hell" and commenced the sanguinary saturnalia and orgy of fiendishness and bestiality which destroyed the tranquillity of the world, and drenched France and Russia and the Balkan States of Europe in blood and converted Belgium into the worst human slaughterhouse of which history makes any record.

Wilhelm Hohenzollern dragged the United States into war.

We stayed out of war as long as we could, but now that we are in it we will fight to a finish.

The German Junkers will awaken to find out that America is no nonentity and no cipher in the fray as they predicted that our country would be.

America will throw the fear of the Lord into these international bullies, from crossed banditti, piratical adventurers and kaiserbund cob carriers.

American soldiers will make history in Europe.

There is no other alternative left us.

In six years from now America will have the most magnificent army of men in the field that the sun ever shone upon.

They will be the liberators of Europe and the world.

The name of every man in it will be inscribed on the muster roll of immortality.

Thrones will crumble in every land where the stars and stripes are unfurled.

Liberty and justice and free institutions will be the heritage which the American troops will leave in Europe on their departure for the glorious home coming crowned with the laurels and carrying branches of olives.

Where are you in this fight?

Are you with us or against us?

Can you afford to be anything but a genuine American?

Are you giving your country whole hearted support?

Are there streaks of yellow in your make-up, or at least streaks that are not white?

Have you the brand of Judas or of Benedict Arnold on your craven and guilty brow?

Are you plotting to shoot the American soldiers who are going to the front in the backs by agitating against the cause and the country for which they are willing and ready to sacrifice everything they hold dear to life and to suffer privation, wounds and to die?

Are you true or would you betray your Uncle Sam?

If so—well, the law forbids us to finish this sentence in print.

Double cross your friends and your own family if you are double crossed and must double cross somebody, but don't double cross your country.

Be loyal and right or get out.

You are both a fool and a knave if if you are not on the square, with the land, either of your adoption or your birth.

This country is true to the coclors and American men and women will ostracise you, if they will not do worse things to you, if you are false, in your own heart even.

You ain't fooling anybody but your self.

You won't be permitted to use your rantankerous mouth and to shoot off your runaway bazoo in war time like a soapbox bunkslinger, reviling your country and its institutions and lying about its public men, then hide under the cloak of the very liberty which you would help murder off and throw to the dogs by playing into the greedy, grasping hands of the militaristic rulers of imperial Germany.

A man who is false to his own country and his own flag to the extent of being a copperhead or a traitor is a rank criminal and belongs to the criminal class.

Heppner Water is All Right

The city health officer, Dr. A. D. McMurdo, has received a report from the State Health Department on the several samples of water sent down for examination last week. These samples were taken from the mains in various parts of town so that the entire water system might be represented, and the report of the State health officer is as follows:

"Neither gas nor colon bacilli recovered upon 72 hours incubation.

ROBERT E. L. HOLT,
State Health Officer."

This is published by request of the committee on health and police of the city of Heppner, who had issued warning notices to the public to boil all water before using it, as much sickness going the rounds was attributed to the bad condition of the Heppner water. Just where this information came from, this paper was not able to learn definitely, but the report was current that the water had been examined by some one and found to contain many typhoid germs. We are glad to be able to inform the public at this time that these statements were not apparently founded on facts, though no blame should attach to the city health officials for taking the precaution that they did based upon the information that they had at hand at the time.
