Notwithstanding the soaring costs of all commodities during the past three years, prices of photographs have not risen. The necessity of a readjustment of values, however, is self evident.

Beginning November first, prices must be raised from twenty to thirty-five per cent.

Compared with the difference that exists in the prices of practically all staple articles, this increase is small indeed, and will remain permanent only to the extent that other values are stationary.

HOW DOES SHE DO IT AND KEEP OUT OF JAIL?

"Within the Law," Bayard Veillers' wonderful drama, screened by Greater Vitagraph, which will be shown at the Star theater on December 1, answers this question so often asked by the average layman: "How does he do it and keep out of jail?"

The answer is plain. A clever lawyer can outline some procedure ordinarily criminal, but when surrounded by legal technique, absolutely proof against criminal procedure.

Alice Joyce, the Vitagraph star, in the role of Mary Turner, the shop girl proves the case. She had been sent to prison for a term of three years for a department store theft of which she was innocent. While serving her sentence she studies law. She discovers that she can do many things, absolutely criminal, if she hides behind the skirts of legal procedure.

When she is released Mary needs money. She reads the advertisement of a crooked real estate firm seeking money for investment. First obtaining the advice of a lawyer, she calls upon the real estate sharpers representing herself to be a wealthy woman although she is without a cent. She signs partnership papers and as one of the partners, obtains the right to check against the firm's bank account. She withdraws $30,000 from the firm's account, tells the sharpers that they are a pair of crooks seeking to swindle her, and keeps the money without fear of prosecution.

One of her friends ensnares a wealthy man and keeps his "mushy" notes. The girl friend decides to sell the notes back to the aged admirer. "No," advises Mary, "that would be blackmail. Instead we will start a breach of promise suit. That is legal blackmail." Ten thousand dollars is the reward for threatening to start the suit.

These are the things that prove a person may be "without the law" and at the same time remain out of jail.

Henry Schwartz, prop. of butcher shop, Main St., Heppner, says: "I was subject to severe attacks of lumbago. The pains were like a sharp knife sticking me in my back. When I had one of these attacks, the pain was so severe I could hardly move and when I got down it was hard to straighten up. My kidneys acted irregularly and were congested during these spells. Six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in fine shape. My back has felt strong and my kidneys have caused me very little trouble since."
