DR. J. G. TURNER

EYE SPECIALIST
Portland, Oregon.
Regular monthly visits to Heppner and Ione. Watch paper for dates.

Glasses fitted satisfactorily by Dr. Winnard, or money refunded. His prices are reasonable, and he is where you can always find him. No charge for testing eyes.

Guy W. Taylor of Lexington was a pleasant caller at this office while in Heppner Monday. Mr. Taylor is a musician of ability and leads the Lexington orchestra, playing the violin. He is engaged in the business of well boring with his brother and the Taylor Bros. have been boring a number of good wells in the Lexington country where they have been operating for the past year or more.

Town and Country.

Hugh L. Stanfield and son are in the city today from Echo.

W. P. McMillan, Lexington wheat buyer, was in Heppner Tuesday.

W. R. Munkers, of Lexington, was doing business in this city Saturday.

Robert Allstott and wife, of Eight Mile, were visitors in Heppner Wednesday.

Attorney F. H. Robinson of Ione was a visitor in Heppner over Sunday night last.

Once tried, nothing else will do. HOLSUM BREAD. For sale at Sam Hughes Co.

Save fuel by buying a Sub-flame or Great Western Duplex heater. Case Furniture Co.

A. Henriksen, of the Ewing farm, Cecil, was doing business in Heppner Tuesday.

FOR SALE—Pure bred Black Minorca cockerels. Mrs. Frank Winnard, Heppner.

Chas. R. Pointer and family were in Heppner from their Lexington home Saturday.

S. W. Spencer and wife and Mrs. Josie Jones were visitors in Pendleton over Sunday last.

Good cabbages for krout constantly on hand at Cummings Fruit and Vegetable Market, Heppner, Ore. 1m

FOR SALE—A few pure-bred M. B. turkey Toms, price $5.00 each. N224t. B. F. MORGAN, Morgan, Ore.

W. E. Pruyn, manager of Heppner Light & Water Co., returned Sunday from a business trip to Portland and Hillsboro.

Frank Anderson, leading farmer of Eight Mile, was in Heppner Saturday. He was accompanied by his brother, Ben Anderson.

Mrs. E. Cave departed for Portland Sunday morning and expects to spend the winter at Montavilla, at the home of her son, John McFerrin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Campbell of Heppner, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Campbell of Lexington, spent last Friday in Pendleton.

B. R. Patterson and wife and J. R. Vaughan and wife were visitors in Pendleton over Sunday, attending the big trap shoot staged there on that date.

Marion Cork was over from Monument on Saturday. While here he made this office a pleasant call, leaving a deposit for which he has our thanks.

Albert Bowker and wife went to Pendleton Sunday, where they participated in the shooting tournament and helped Heppner carry off some of the game.

C. A. Minor and family and W. R. Irwin and family have moved into the rooms over the First National Bank, where they have set up housekeeping for the winter.

W. B. Tucker disposed of a fine bunch of young turkeys in town on Tuesday. He received a price of 20 cents per pound and had no difficulty in getting rid of his load.

WANTED—All kinds of old iron, rags and rubber. I will pay $10.00 per ton for iron if delivered within two weeks.

GEO. W. VERDOT.
E. E. Miller was up from Ione Tuesday evening. He will conduct a public sale of horses, mules and farm machinery at Lexington on Tuesday, Dec. 4. See advertisement in this paper.

A meeting of the City Council was held on Monday evening for the purpose of adopting the budget for the coming year. The budget as advertised was adopted with a few slight changes.

Chas. and Virgil Reno, of Fox, left Heppner Sunday with a load of supplies. These young men are located on homesteads on Cottonwood, near the Grant county ranch of N. S. Whetstone.

Guy Boyer returned home from Pendleton on Saturday, having sufficiently recovered from his recent operation to be able to leave the hospital. He is now able to be about and attend to business.

Frank Evans was up from Lexington yesterday. He was feeling good on account of the rain and hopes we will now receive an abundant downpour which will be of benefit alike to the farmer and stockman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Patterson departed for Portland Monday and expect to remain in that city until after the close of the Thanksgiving season, expecting while there to meet and enjoy the festivities of the season with their relatives.

L. Sweet was over from Monument for a few days the first of the week, visiting at the home of his son, Calvin Sweet. He says that it is still very dry in his locality. The stockmen are well supplied with hay, however, and he thinks they will all get through in good shape.

D. S. Barlow and wife were in Heppner on Friday to see their daughter, Miss Flora, who is sick. Mr. Barlow has been having a tussle himself for several weeks, fighting off what appeared to be an attack of pneumonia. He was much improved, however, when in town and felt as though he had the trouble broken up. Miss Flora was operated on for appendicitis by Drs. Chick and Winnard and has so far recovered as to be able to leave the hospital.

Heppner High School football players hiked for Moro this morning and will engage in a tussle with the team of the Moro school this afternoon, providing they reach that city in time. Much rain and consequent slippery roads may cause the boys some delay.

Mrs. C. S. VanDyyn, of Spokane, has been in the city during the past week, attending her mother, Mrs. Eliza Ayers. Mrs. Ayers does not improve and seems to be getting gradually weaker, and it is the intention of Mrs. VanDyyn to remain by her bedside until a change comes.

T. L. Dorman of Lexington was a pleasant caller at this office while in town Saturday. He had just returned from a visit with his daughter Mrs. Iva Nolan, at Ferdinand, Idaho. He says conditions are good in that part of Idaho and the farmers there raised a lot of good grain this season.

In response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of Mrs. O. G. Crawford at Enterprise, Mrs. E. N. Crawford departed yesterday morning for that city, where she will assist in waiting upon her daughter-in-law. Mrs. Crawford was taken suddenly quite ill and is under the care of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hall of Spokane were in Heppner several days this week, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Parker. Mrs. Hall is a sister of Mrs. Parker and came here to visit while her husband solicited this territory for the New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial, one of the very finest illustrated publications extant.

A letter to this paper announces that Geo. French, formerly of Heppner but who has for the past number of years been living at Mountain Home, Idaho, where he was engaged in stockraising, has moved with his family from that place to Riverton, Wyoming. Mr. French will continue in the sheep industry in his new location.

Mrs. George Thomson and children are now at the home of her parents in Fort Collins, Colorado, where she will remain for the winter. The young baby of Mr. and Mrs. Thomson has never been very well and it was thought best to take the child where it could have care at the hands of Mrs. Thomson's father, who is a physician.

A. M. Kottmeier and wife came over from Alba on Tuesday and are spending the week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Raglan. Mr. Kottmeier is an uncle of Mrs. Raglan. He is engaged in the stock-raising business in the Alba country and reports plenty of good green grass at the present and all stock doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gammell returned Tuesday evening from Tumalo, Oregon, where they have been visiting for the past six weeks at the home of their son, Walter. Mr. Gammell is well pleased with the outlook for the Tumalo irrigation project and brought home with him some fine samples of vegetables grown there this season.

J. K. Simons is suffering from the effect of an operation for the removal of cancer from his lower lip. The growth was first removed some two weeks or more ago and on Monday of this week it was found necessary to operate again. Mr. Simons is not very hopeful that the progress of the disease may be stopped as the growth seems to be very vigorous.

J. B. Sparks, manager of the Star theater, is in Portland this week, where he is attending a gathering of the movie managers of the Northwest who have come together to make their protest against the film corporations passing their part of the war tax on to the patrons of the shows. The big film producers are on a par with most combinations of this sort. If there is anything to pay for the privilege of making their millions, it must be passed on to the common herd.

This is Your Show.
Hatcher's Ladies Quartette will give a high-class vaudeville show in the opera house Saturday evening, December 1, under the auspices of Heppner Lodge, No. 358, B. P. O. E., for the benefit of the Red Cross.

This is one of the most popular organizations on the road this season and the fact that they have cancelled other engagements for six weeks and are giving that much of their time free for the sake of helping our soldiers and sailors across the seas thru the agency of the Red Cross and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, is proof of their loyal Americanism. These entertainments are being given exclusively under the auspices of the Elks' lodge in each town visited. Don't forget to buy a ticket and don't forget the date. If you are a live one and a patriot this is your show for $1.00. No reserved seats.
